Vilification Plot Unfolds Again.

BY FRANK HUGHES.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—The 1944 presidential election campaign is opening, and the plans and plots of the persons who are seeking to perpetuate Mr. Roosevelt in office thru a fourth term by winning that campaign for him form one of the most momentous chapters in the history of the Republic.

Abraham Lincoln said that "when we see a lot of framed timbers, different portions of which we know have been gotten out at different times and places, and by different workmen . . . . and when we see those timbers joined together, and see they exactly make the frame of a house or a mill, all the tenons and mortices exactly fitting, and all the lengths and proportions of the different pieces exactly adapted to their respective places, and not a piece too many or too few . . . . in such a case we find it impossible not to believe that . . . . all understood one another from the beginning, and all worked upon a common plan or draft, drawn up before the first blow was struck."

S. I. Rosenman [left], Earl Browder, and David Lawrence [right].

Today's Plot More Skilful.

Lincoln was talking about the plot of the slavery advocates, who fitted the beams of the Dred Scott decision and the Nebraska act and the different timbers of planned delay and timed indorsement into a carefully blueprinted framework so that President Buchanan might be elected and the cause of slavery forwarded in a dissident and slowly angering nation.

That was 86 years ago, and the framework is vastly different today, but the timbers are being cut, morticed, and proportioned, the new ones to fit the old, by a group of men far more skilled and more sinister than the political "workmen" Lincoln exposed in 1858.

The issue then was slavery vs. freedom. Today it is American nationalism and individualism—and the nationalists' demands for more efficient conduct of the war—against Mr. Roosevelt's internationalism and collectivism. The people who want America to continue as a sovereign and unfettered republic also want to win the war without any further bungling and without the profligate waste of money, materials, and the lives of soldiers that has characterized Mr. Roosevelt's conduct of it so far.

Smear and Purge.

To beat down this powerful and rising demand from the whole of America, Mr. Roosevelt and the internationalists are relying on the New Deal's old and trusted weapons, the smear and the purge. The idea is to vilify your opponents and discredit them in the eyes of the electorate if they are Republicans or honest Democrats, and to purge them out of their elective offices if they are senators or congressmen.

It worked in 1936 and 1938, and to some extent in 1940, altho it backfired sadly in the congressional elections of 1942. But the White House palace guard already has sent out directives to try it again in 1944, in a last ditch, do-or-die offensive.

The purge and smear brigade is, for the most part, a smelly group

Hoffman Rips British Mixing in U.S. Politics

Who Pays Most Taxes

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—The 26 states having Republican governors paid more than 87 per cent of the federal taxes siphoned off and spent by the Roosevelt administration in 1943, figures from the treasury department's report on last year's tax collections revealed today. Tomorrow, or Tuesday at the latest, President Roosevelt is expected to send a message to congress vetoing its $2,315,000,000 tax bill. In his message he is expected to renew his demands that taxes be increased by at least $10,500,000,000. Republican leaders in congress have indicated that Mr. Roosevelt must either accept the tax bill written by congress or go without further tax increases this year.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Denouncing recently disclosed British government propaganda to American troops in favor of a fourth term for President Roosevelt Rep. Hoffman [Rep., Mich.] declared today "it is time the British were told there is a limit to interference by them in our domestic affairs."

"Some of them act as tho they thought we were still a colonial possession of the empire," he wrote to his constituents in Michigan.

Refers to Welcome Letter.

Referring to the recently disclosed official letter of welcome published by the British ministry of information for distribution among American service men as they arrive in England—with a fourth term bid for President Roosevelt and an attack on the Republican party—Hoffman wrote in his weekly report to constituents:

"Republican tax dollars go into the United States treasury. Republican money purchases war bonds. Tax dollars, war bond dollars, got into lend-lease funds; billions of dollars, at least one-half of them Republican dollars [for the nominally northern Republican states pay at least one-half, probably more, of the national tax bill] by way of lend-lease go to England and the British empire. The least England could do would be to keep her nose out of our domestic political situation.

"But she is not content to carry on her own political activities; she is not content to receive from us billions of dollars thru lend-lease and war aid; she is not content to have us furnish a disproportionate share of the oil needed; more than 85 per cent of the aviation gas; 70 per cent of the men needed for invasion; she must, forsooth, tell us whom we should elect for President."

Consider F. D. R. Santa Claus.

Naturally, Hoffman said, the British would like to see Roosevelt, whom they consider a "compliant, generous Santa Claus," reëlected. He said he knew his placing of American interests above those of the British would bring charges he lacked "patriotism," but he said it was time the British were told to keep out of our domestic affairs.

"Apparently British politicians think they have taken America so far into camp that, in addition to having us make the major contribution of men, money, and material, they can control our domestic policies, our coming elections, and select our President," Hoffman said.

"If the British will confine their efforts to the defeat of our enemies, we of the United States of America will take care of our own domestic political problems."

YANKS SMASH BACK AT NAZIS; DRIVE 2 MILES

Battle Tide Turns on Anzio Beach.

BY DANIEL DE LUCE.

ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD, Feb. 20 [12:30 P. M.]—(AP).—Field Marshal Albert Kesselring's mauled German divisions weakly relaxed the initiative today and American armored columns scored deep penetrations into the German flank.

The beachhead was never more secure than today, the date reportedly set by the German command for its extinction when a full scale attack was launched last Wednesday. German losses in attacking the well entrenched allied forces whose air power is supreme are believed to have been so great that another attack cannot be mounted on similar scale.

Allied and axis aircraft swarmed above the beachhead today, attacking opposing lines and opposing squadrons in maneuvers that were approaching record proportions until worsening weather limited their operations. Allied aircraft aloft ranged from Flying Fortresses to Cubs. German strength was equally evident, with packs of 30 to 40 or more enemy planes cutting into the crowded sky lanes.

Take 500 German Prisoners.

The punishment dealt on Thursday to Kesselring's concentrations by 1,200 allied bomber sorties, of which 285 were heavy aircraft, became apparent yesterday when German artillery faded in power and the German armored formations kept under cover.

German prisoners in the last 24 hours number over 500.

Jabbing repeatedly at the east flank of the German salient, American tanks and infantry scored gains of as much as three kilometers [nearly two miles] in the direction of Carroceto. American losses were extremely light in these operations which kept the enemy off balance.

The American tanks speared fiercely into German infantry positions again today.

Pounding back the bewildered Germans from a strategic bridge, American tanks knocked out one Tiger tank and shielded an infantry unit which occupied the point in force. German armored reserves cautiously hung back as the Americans mopped up a country road extending along one side of the enemy salient.

Repulse One Small Attack.

The fertile basin in which the battle of the beachhead has been waged for nearly a month shook again with the thunder of artillery and dense smoke rose from targets on both sides of the front line. The allies easily repulsed one small attack, the enemy's only aggressive effort in the last 24 hours.

Strong allied patrols sliced thru German defenses south of the eastern sector last night and raided a village where machine gun nests had been established.

Kesselring used four divisions at least in his Hitler-dictated offensive. Youths and veterans were among the Germans who died from Campo

POET VERGIL'S TOMB BEAUTY SPOT WAR HASN'T TOUCHED

NAPLES, Italy, Feb. 20 (AP).—Here there is one spot, a place of peace and haunting beauty, the war has not touched—the little garden surrounding the tomb of the Poet Vergil. It is a triangular tract bounded by a railway line, a highway leading to a tunnel under a mountain, and the mountain itself.

"Hardly anybody comes here now," said the custodian.

A path leads to a big tablet carved with rhymes from Vergil. In a little niche beside it is a marble bust of the poet presented in 1930 by American Latin students. The tomb itself is on a ledge on the seaside of the mountain and looks out on the bay of Naples. It is circular, of ancient Roman stone and brick construction, and is covered with vines and moss.

LEHMAN NAMES RUSSIAN TO HIGH OFFICE IN UNRRA

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20 [Special].—Herbert H. Lehman, director general of the united nations relief and rehabilitation administration, today added another foreigner to the considerable number of nationals of other nations occupying high posts in the UNRRA administrative setup.

This was the appointment of Nicolai I. Feonov, soviet trade expert, as director general in charge of supplies for the UNRRA European regional office in London. Several days ago Lehman informed congress he was appointing foreigners to major posts because he believed UNRRA should be "truly international" in character. Approximately three-fifths of the cost of UNRRA activities is to be born by the United States.

REPORTS IDAHO FARMERS STRONG AGAINST WILLKIE

Boise, Idaho, Feb. 20 (AP). — Ray McKaig of Boise, legislative committeeman for the Idaho Grange, issued a statement tonight declaring "the farmers of Idaho are overwhelmingly against Willkie" and expressing the belief Gov. Dewey of New York "is far in the lead" as a Republican Presidential prospect.

"Farm leaders and county organizations are distrustful of Mr. Willkie," he said. "To put up a man for President on whom there is such a fight and whom so many farm leaders fear is, to say the least, not good politics."

U.S. Red Tape Ties Up Firm for 8 Months

BY GENE GRIFFIN.

F. R. Smith, a manufacturer of decalcomania labels at 546 Washington blvd., who applied to the war production board on June 12, 1943, for a priority order to buy lacquer so he could stay in business, got it yesterday.

"The priority certificate has come pretty late, almost too late," Smith said. "Because I couldn't buy new supplies, my company has not been able to fill an order in the last 13 weeks."

Many of the orders Smith had last summer have been canceled, and he said he will begin mailing inquiries today to other customers he has not heard from to learn whether they still want their orders filled.

Puts His Loss at $4,000.

He said he lost $4,000 worth of business in cancelations in the last eight months while he was trying to unravel government red tape.

Government agencies are among his impatient customers. The United States grazing service waited only five months, until November, before it withdrew an order from Smith's firm.

The forestry service, he said, sent seven telegrams in two months nagging him to hurry delivery on 2,000 instruction labels to read "Jack Up Hoist Before Operating."

"Sometimes," he said, "I wildly imagined 2,000 operators standing idly by their hoists because they had not received instructions to jack up the machines."

Other Bureaus Inquire.

Occasionally he has received mail from the postoffice department, asking about the identification numerals to be decalized on 12,000 mail trucks, and the department of agriculture and the war food administration have asked about their orders.

Smith was doing more than $1,200 worth of business a month until last June, he said.

His qualification for a priority, he said, was never questioned. The question was simply what form he should apply on. He filled them all—he has forgotten how many—and yesterday he went to his office and found the priority certificate in the mailbox.

Nazis Drop Tinfoil Strips to Jam Warning System

LONDON, Feb. 21.—Hundreds of strips of tinfoil covered with black paper about nine inches long and three-quarters of an inch wide were dropped on southeast England yesterday by the German air force in what is believed to be a trick to disrupt the British radio location system.

FINDS WOMAN'S BODY ON RETURN HOME, HE SAYS

When George Harris, 40, of 4665 Lake Park av. returned to his apartment at 9 p. m. yesterday he found Miss Lillian Ryan, 35, of 4862 Blackstone av., dead in bed, he reported last night to Sgt. Thomas Ryan at the Hyde Park police station.

Police said there were bruises on the woman's legs and face, but they were unable to determine the cause of death.

Harris, who was held for questioning, told police that he fell asleep during a drinking party with several persons in his apartment Saturday night and that when he awoke yesterday at 3 p. m., he saw a man and a woman, neither of whom he recognized, asleep in another bed in the apartment. He went out, he said, and when he returned, the man was gone and the woman was dead. The dead woman was identified by cards in her purse.

2,000 U. S. PLANES SMASH GERMAN AIRCRAFT PLANTS

LONDON, Feb. 21 [Monday]—(AP).—The greatest American air fleet ever assembled, made up of 2,000 heavy bombers and long range fighters, dealt a crushing blow to Nazi fighter aircraft factories deep in Germany yesterday.

Sydney Mogol.

The escort alone shot down 51 German planes to establish a new record for this theater. The number shot down by the 1,000 or more bombers employed had not been tallied at an early hour today.

Twenty-two bombers and perhaps four fighters of the United States strategic air forces were lost. Only one of the fighters, however, was known to have been destroyed; the others were listed as missing.

Hit Other Targets, Too.

German fighter plane factories at Leipzig, Gotha, Bernburg, Oschersleben, Brunswick, and Halberstadt were hit, along with other undisclosed targets in Germany in a mission officially described as "the largest, most important, and most hazardous operation ever undertaken."

In Washington, D. C., Gen. H. H. Arnold, commanding general of the army air forces, estimated last night that the rain of fire and steel dropped by the United States Fortresses and Liberators knocked out 25 per cent of the enemy fighter plane production and added that his estimate was conservative. He said the operation involved more men than an infantry division, indicating upward of 15,000 flyers participated.

Late last night a big force of R. A. F. night bombers crossed over the east coast, headed for the continent, presumably for another assault on Germany. Several hours later an alert sounded in Basel, Switzerland.

R. A. F. Raids Leipzig.

The daylight blow was coördinated with the massive assault Saturday night by the R. A. F. against Leipzig, in which vast areas of that city were laid waste by the 2,300 long tons of explosives and incendiaries dumped by the British bombers, 79 of which were lost.

"At stake, to a great degree, is Germany's ability to resist the coming invasion," a United States headquarters statement said. "The ultimate objectives not only are to complete the domination of the air when the invasion comes with a resulting reduction in ground and naval casualties, but also the increased freedom for bombers to make precision daylight attacks on war industries and communication."

Navigator Sydney Mogol of 5469 Ingleside av., Chicago, said smoke rose nearly five miles after his Fortress group bombed its objective. "We saw only about 11 fighters," he added.

Medium Marauders of the new American 9th air force veered from their steady pounding of northern France to attack Holland under an umbrella of allied fighters.

London Raided Twice.

London had its second air raid warning within a few hours early today after German planes scattered tons of oil bombs and incendiaries in several districts last night.

Incendiaries fell by the hundreds in one district, damaging a hotel housing refugees, setting fire to a large building and destroying a district postoffice. Bombs shattered a housing development, hit a hospital, destroyed a liquor warehouse and blew out the windows of houses and shops over a wide area.

Pearl Harbor Partly Avenged, Says Adm. Nimitz.

BULLETIN.

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Parl Harbor, Feb. 20 (AP).—Infantry and marine troops have landed on Eniwetok Island, captured the western half and now have seized all of Eniwetok atoll except the Japanese base on Parry Island.

(Map on page 2.)

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HDQ., Pearl Harbor, Feb. 20 (AP).—The United States Pacific fleet has sunk 19 Japanese ships, 11 of them warships, destroyed 201 enemy planes and wrought other heavy damage at the Nipponese island base of Truk.

Vice Adm. R. A. Spruance.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander, today lifted the five day silence cloaking the attack against Japan's own "Pearl Harbor" Wednesday and Thursday, and disclosed that the great thrust was carried out at a cost of one American ship damaged and 17 planes lost.

"The Pacific fleet has returned at Truk the visit made by the Japanese fleet at Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, and effected a partial settlement of the debt," began Adm. Nimitz's bulletin.

Taken by Surprise.

Great as was the devastation at the enemy's central Pacific fortress, Adm. Nimitz did not consider it full payment for Pearl Harbor, when 18 American warships and 177 planes were knocked out and more than 3,000 persons killed and missing.

Apparently American forces made no landing at Truk, as was reported by the Tokio radio. Adm. Nimitz made no mention of any such operation. Instead, his bulletin indicated, it was an attack by hundreds of carrier planes, each of which struck repeatedly after Japanese aerial opposition had been knocked out early in the fight.

Significantly Nimitz reported the initial approach of the United States forces was not detected, and "there was no enemy air opposition on the second day of the attack."

Two Cruisers Sunk.

These ships were listed as sunk at Truk:

Two light cruisers, three destroyers, one ammunition ship, one seaplane tender, two oilers, two gunboats, and eight cargo ships.

Listed as hit and probably sunk were: One cruiser or large destroyer, two oilers, and four cargo ships.

Failure to mention capital ships possibly indicated the Japanese had withdrawn their heavy naval units from Truk. A reconnaissance flight over Truk Feb. 4 by two Liberators revealed at least two carriers were anchored in the lagoon.

Our carrier based planes shot down 127 enemy planes and destroyed 74 on the ground. More than 50 others were probably destroyed aground.

Hornet's Skipper Leads.

The admiral's simple statement that there was "no air opposition" on the second day of the raid testifies to the terrific toll taken by American airmen on the first day of the raid.

The fact that the naval units, commanded by Rear Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, were able to lie within striking range of Truk for two days with only "moderate" damage to one ship also testifies to the effectiveness of the air cover.

It was Adm. Mitscher who commanded the former aircraft carrier Hornet, from which was sprung the long distance air blow against Tokio April 18, 1942. Vice Adm. R. A. Spruance was in over-all command.

Airdromes Bombed.

Aircraft, some of them making three or more separate strikes during the two day raid, thoroly bombed and strafed airdromes, ground installations, and shipping thruout the Truk atoll.

Pending further word from naval quarters, it was assumed important Japanese installations, such as the dry dock and ship repair yards in the atoll and the excellent and highly developed Eten Island anchorage, were raked by the American airmen. The 4,000 yard airstrip on Eten Island and another important runway on Param Island also were probable targets.

If damage to these and other installations was comparable to shipping and plane losses, much of Truk atoll would be a shambles.

Continuing their neutralizing attacks on Japanese bases, army and navy land-based planes bombarded Kusaie island in the eastern Carolines and four atolls in the Marshall islands Friday, Adm. Nimitz announced today.

Army Liberator bombers sank one small ship at Kusaie while bombing docks and shipping, Nimitz said. Kusaie is 700 miles east and a little south of Truk. The attack on Kusaie undoubtedly was designed to knock out or neutralize any Japanese bombers there. This was the third time Kusaie had been hit.

Ground installations, an airfield and a radio station were damaged as army Warhawk fighters, navy Ventura attack planes and Liberator bombers raided four eastern Marshall atolls. Continuing the policy of not telling the Japanese just which bases were attacked, Nimitz did not identify the atolls. However, the Tokio radio said Taroa and Maloelap were blasted the same day.

5 GIANT BARGES TIED UP; CAN'T BE HANDLED AT SEA

Seattle, Wash., Feb. 20 (AP).—The Post-Intelligencer said today it had learned 5 of 11 sea going superbarges constructed for the maritime commission in this area were tied up here after proving unmanageable at sea.

The barges represent an investment of $500,000 each. They are 280 foot wooden vessels.

The article quoted G. B. Newly, chief of wooden ship construction for the maritime commission at Oakland, Cal., as saying in a telephone interview he hoped the barges could be made manageable thru installation of power operated steering equipment.

A barge fully loaded was started for California but yawed so badly the captain of the tug turned back, the paper said. An attempt to use a towing tug and another aft to handle a steering line likewise proved futile, the article added.

HAND GRENADES START WAR JOB DRIVE TONIGHT

Exploding hand grenades, detonated by the army's chemical warfare service, at State and Lake sts. at 6:30 p. m. today will signalize the start of a drive to recruit 80,000 war workers in the Chicago area by July 1.

Explosion of the grenades will be followed by a parade down State st. of army and navy units armed with blank job applications.

Mayor Kelly's committee for patriotic action has estimated there are 700,000 men and women in Chicago working in less essential industries.

Nominate Three on Red Slate for Union Offices

Three members of the Communistic slate for officers of Local 998 of the CIO United Automobile Workers union at the Chicago Studebaker plant at 5555 Archer av., were nominated yesterday in a meeting in the Hamilton hotel. They are Gertrude Selig, alias Giles, nominated for recording secretary; Carl Swanson and Evelyn Fargo, for members of the union's bargaining committee. Election of officers will take place Feb. 29 in a site close to the plant.

MARINES TAKE 10 ISLES WITHOUT LOSS OF A MAN

Bombardment Sweeps Engebi Clean.

BY HAROLD SMITH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ENIWETOK ATOLL, in the Marshalls group, Feb. 19 [Delayed].—Striking while the foe was still reeling from the attack on Kwajalein, the solar plexus of his Marshall Islands' eastern front, our crack amphibious soldiers completed another staggering blow yesterday, this time at Eniwetok atoll.

Troops poured ashore Thursday from a lagoon right behind an air, sea, and land fire curtain to repeat the now familiar pattern—slapping the foe groggy and finishing him off before he can collect his senses.

The blows were aimed at Engebi Island at the northern extremity of an irregularly shaped oval atoll and the long, narrow Eniwetok Island at the south end, about 21 miles away. Advanced elements of the two attacking groups flowed into the lagoon under the protection of aircraft and battleship bombardment.

Both Branches Fight.

Air cover, naval, and submarine screen were provided by other task units under the general command of Vice Adm. Richmond Kelly Turner, who led the Kwajalein invasion.

Marines and soldiers shared the honor of the occupation of our point of farthest penetration in the Central Pacific thus far. The marines are members of the 22d regiment commanded by Col. John T. Walker, 54 years old, born in Azle, Tex. Army troops participating belong to the 106th regiment. The regimental commander is Col. Russell G. Ayres of San Francisco.

The assault on Engebi followed the occupation of 10 small flanking islands without the loss of a single life.

Prevent Japs' Escape.

Marine scouts under Capt. James Jones of Joplin, Mo., who captured Apamama in the Gilberts, captured the ten islands, thus preventing a Japanese escape when the full hellfire of battleships, cruisers, destroyers and carrier aircraft was loosed against them.

While the battleships concentrated on Engebi, cruisers and destroyers and more dive bombers blasted our quarry all over Eniwetok atoll. Hellcat fighters ranged around the atoll, strafing and destroying beached landing boats.

Engebi was a scene of almost incredible destruction, surpassing what was dealt to Kwajalein. Not a single building was left standing by our bombardment. Even the skeleton structures had been hammered into wreckage.

Threat Eliminated.

The capture of Eniwetok means for us not only the elimination of a troublesome air and sea threat to our yet uncompleted Marshalls conquest but the seizure of an advance forward flank on enemy interests in Wake and the eastern Carolines. The Engebi landing strip was a vital air staging mid-point where Jap planes, sent to relieve beleaguered garrisons in the eastern Marshalls, could alight and refuel. Also it was an air stepping stone for Jap planes en route from the Carolines to Wake. It possessed also extensive warehouse facilities for troop supply and submarine and battleship refueling and repair.

Our possession of this highly prized atoll with its 4,200 foot air strip gives us a base within easy bomber range of Wake, 523 miles to the northeast, and the powerful enemy air and naval station on Truk, 750 miles to the southwest. Eniwetok is only 360 miles northeast of Ponape, easternmost Caroline Island stronghold, and therefore we can keep air facilities there under constant harassment. Even Nauru and Ocean Islands far to the south have lost much of their previous potency by our recent successes in the Marshalls.

In our possession are mid-Pacific bases of profound strategical value, some of them commodious enough for our entire fleet. Our western frontier has shifted for all practical purposes more than half way to Japan, and our drive appears to be gathering momentum as it goes.

AIR OFFICER DIES IN AUTO.

3 RABAUL RAIDS IN DAY DESTROY 13 JAP PLANES

ALLIED HDQ. IN SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Feb. 21 [Monday]—(AP).—Three aerial punches delivered in quick succession Friday morning left Rabaul's Vunakanau and Tobera airdromes pock marked and smoking from damage done by 123 tons of bombs, and resulted in the shooting down of 13 Japanese planes. Other Japanese planes were destroyed on the ground.

The first pass was made by allied Mitchell and Lightning planes that swarmed over Tobera. They shot down five planes that had just taken off from the field.

Less than an hour later, a large flight of Liberators went in for a high altitude run over Vunakanau, and escorting Lightning shot down seven of 20 Japanese planes that rose to intercept.

Hardly had the Liberators banked out of their bombing run when a flight of Mitchells zoomed down over Tobera, knocking down one enemy fighter. They blasted the Japanese plane revetments and dispersal areas.

The Japanese held Admiralty Islands were hit by Liberator reconnaissance planes. Dive bombers and marine Corsair fighters flew from the Solomons and attacked Japanese installations on Cape St. George at the southern tip of New Ireland.

Twenty Ships Blasted.

ADVANCED PACIFIC NAVAL BASE, Feb. 19 [Delayed]—(AP).—"It was dark and rainy and the Japanese had been bombed so much at night they must have figured this was a good night to sleep — no bombings."

This was the explanation of Capt. Rodger Simpson of Portland, Ore., for the apparent unpreparedness of the Japanese when American destroyers sailed boldly into the enemy's two strongest South Pacific fortresses — Rabaul and Kavieng — Friday, shelled them savagely and withdrew without suffering a single casualty or damage of any kind. Twenty ships were shelled and sunk or damaged in the two raids.

Capt. Simpson piloted a squadron of destroyers up narrow St. George channel between New Ireland and New Britain to bombard the Rabaul area for an hour, starting at 1 a. m. In addition his ships fired torpedoes at enemy ships in the harbor.

Thought It Air Raid.

Five hours later and a couple of hundred miles farther north on New Ireland, destroyers of the famous little Beaver squadron command by Capt. Arleigh T. Burke, lay 12,000 yards off Kavieng and hurled shells into that much bombed town and harbor.

Capt. Simpson said the Japanese at Rabaul apparently believed it was another air raid and at first played their searchlights frantically over the sky.

"They soon corrected their error," the captain related, "and began throwing stuff at us, but couldn't find us behind our smoke screen."

Shell Port 85 Minutes.

"We bombarded Kavieng for 85 minutes," Capt. Burke said, "until we ran out of ammunition. One tanker was seen to blow up and 12 other ships were hit. We also damaged installations and the airfield. One Japanese destroyer and two other ships escaped.

"We could see flashes that looked like fires, but we couldn't see the harbor itself. Jap gunnery was better than usual. We had some close misses."

At Rabaul the score reads: Four cargo ships torpedoed and left sinking, a tanker torpedoed and damaged and two destroyers damaged and beached.

"We were very lucky," the leader of the Rabaul attack said. "We were up the channel around Duke of York Island and made a wide sweep to northwest looking for enemy ships, without finding any. At 1 a. m. we started our smoke screen just as the moon was rising. The leading ship took the shore batteries while the others fired on Rabaul town.

"We put 900 pounds of 5 inch ammunition into targets and then approached within 3,000 yards of the point forming the entrance to the harbor and fired torpedoes at ships in Keravia bay. We fired torpedoes at five targets and probably sank four ships and damaged the fifth.

"While we were making this attack two Japanese destroyers came out from Simpson harbor and fired torpedoes and guns at us without effect. We kept ducking in and out of our smoke screen, spoiling the accuracy of their fire.

Jap Destroyers Beached.

"We drove the enemy destroyers off and reconnaissance showed them beached. We steamed down past the harbor and shelled troop areas in the Vanapope sector all the way down the coast to Rapapo airdrome and beyond.

"Our guns were kept going for nearly an hour. Jap planes chased us until daylight, but we kept dodging under rain squalls and they never were able to press home an attack."

Tells of Heavy Damage.

GUADALCANAL, Feb. 20 (AP). — The twin warship blows at Rabaul and Kavieng probably inflicted more damage than has been reported, a spokesman for Adm. William Halsey, South Pacific commander, said today.

"The attack on Rabaul has great significance," the spokesman said. "It is the first time our surface units have slashed into the very heart of the Jap defenses in this area. The geographical location of Rabaul made the run thru narrow St. George channel a hazardous undertaking. However, results have proved our tactics correct."

Airborne rockets were used by American marine torpedo planes for the first time in the attack on Rabaul Thursday, it was revealed today.

Sgt. Dan Bailey of Atlanta, Ga., described the rockets as shells with wings, and marine ordnance men say they strike with the effect of a small artillery shell. The rockets are self-propelling projectiles which can be released at long ranges.

3 RED FORCES NEAR PSKOV; WIN 114 MORE TOWNS

Battle Thru Blizzards; Kill 2,200 Germans.

LONDON, Feb. 21 [Monday]—(AP).—Three Russian armies fighting thru blizzards toward the Baltic gateway of Pskov yesterday captured points within 30 miles of the important rail junction of Dno, seizing 114 villages in gains of two to 12 miles, and killing more than 2,200 Germans, Moscow announced today. One hundred of the captured villages were taken west of Staraya Russa.

The swift Russian advance, facilitated by soil hardened by subzero temperatures, threatened to outflank another 100 mile section of the crumbling German northern front between Dno and Novosokolniki.

Berlin broadcasts also said the Russians had flung 100,000 more troops into a renewed drive toward Minsk in White Russia far to the south, and also declared the Red army of the Ukraine was attacking with mounting fury toward the bastion of Krivoi Rog, last big ore city still held by the Germans in the Dnieper bend.

Dno Is Rail Junction.

Dno, 60 miles east of Pskov, is a junction on the Leningrad-Vitebsk and Staraya Russa-Pskov lines.

The soviet formations nearest Pskov are those which last were reported only 28 miles on the north after fighting their way down the east sides of Lake Peipus and Lake Pskov. Moscow has not announced their progress in the last few days.

While the battle for Pskov moved into a decisive phase in the north, new Russian successes were reported from the Dnieper mouth battlefields of Krivoi Rog and Kherson, either of which may be the next big Nazi bastion to fall.

Nazi Positions Menaced.

The entire German position in the southern Ukraine was menaced because of the erasure of the Korsun trap, where Moscow declared 73,200 Germans were killed or captured. Moscow did not mention whether axis wounded were among those taken prisoner. Unofficial estimates in London were that 30,000 Germans were wounded in the 14 day battle around Korsun.

At the same time the Russians were reported to have drawn up a powerful assault force opposite Kherson, with indications that an assault across the Dnieper was being mounted in an attempt to rip loose Hitler's southern flank and storm on to Nikolaev for a test of the Bug river defense of Odessa.

GERMAN WAR REPORT

Following is the German Sunday communique broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press:

"South of Krivoi Rog one German fighting group broke thru soviet positions, took one village and sealed a gap in the front. On both sides of the town enemy attacks failed.

"Also east of Shashkov enemy attacks broke down in heavy tank battles.

"Between the Pripet and Beresina rivers the enemy made a new attack after strong artillery preparations supported by tanks and fighter-bombers. His attempts to break thru were frustrated in hard and fluctuating battle.

"In successful fighting against bands in the rear of the central sector German safety troops against dogged enemy resistance destroyed 217 pill boxes and more than 100 supply depots.

"North of Veliki Luki and south of Lake Ilmen a vigorous battle developed which still is in progress.

"Between Lake Ilmen and Lake Peipus as well as in the sector of Narva strong enemy pressure continues. Numerous soviet attacks failed in bitter fighting. Enemy columns and preparations were smashed by concentrated artillery fire. Fierce fighting still is in progress at various points of penetration."

GERMANS CLAIM TROOPS IN RED TRAP LIBERATED

Deny Soviet Reports of Annihilation.

BY P. E. BRIQUET.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CHIASSO, Switzerland, Feb. 20.—Berlin emphatically denies the Russian claim of success in annihilating the German divisions encircled in the Korsun pocket and produces a story of its own, saying that Gen. Fritz von Mannstein's efforts disentangled the surrounded army, according to information received here.

A German spokesman not only claimed that the "Russian special war bulletin was based on information invented from beginning to end," but charged that it "was issued a few hours after the German relief expedition succeeded in establishing contact with the surrounded Wehrmacht divisions."

[The Russians yesterday announced that 73,200 Germans had been killed or captured in the 14 day battle of the Korsun trap. They said 10,200 more Germans had been counted since figures on Nazi losses were revealed last Thursday. Among these were 3,000 dead, making a total of 55,000, and 7,200 more prisoners for a total of 18,200.]

GERMAN VERSION

The official German report as broadcast by Berlin yesterday and recorded by the Associated Press said:

"In addition to reports of the freeing of German forces surrounded west of Cherkassi reported to Feb. 18:

"Inclusion of liberated divisions has been completed. Units of the army and Waffen S. S. under command of General of Artillery Stemmermann and of Lt. Gen. Lieb, which have been cut off since Jan. 28, have valiantly resisted the assault of far superior enemy forces. The officers and men thus have added to the history of German soldiers a further brilliant example of heroic endurance, aggressive spirit, and devoted comradeship.

"Units of the army and Waffen S. S. under command of General of Tank Corps Breith, which have been employed for relief of this group, together with troops under command of Lt. Gen. Vormann created the necessary prerequisite for a breakthru under the most difficult conditions of weather and ground and by means of exemplary action of each individual man.

Claim Heavy Red Losses.

"The soviets suffered the heaviest, bloodiest losses, and lost 728 tanks and pieces of artillery from Feb. 2 to 18. Eight hundred guns were captured and several thousand prisoners were taken.

"The 8th air corps, under command of Lt. Gen. Seidermann, supported the fiercely battling groups of the army in proved comradeship of arms.

"Transport and other formations supplied the cut off forces with munitions, provisions, and fuel under difficult weather conditions and strong enemy fighter and antiaircraft defense. They brought back more than 2,400 wounded. In these operations 32 transport planes were lost. Fifty-eight enemy planes were shot down in air battles and by antiaircraft defense."

Mrs. Gandhi's Condition 'Grave,' Bombay Reports

BOMBAY, Feb. 20 (AP).—The government of Bombay issued a bulletin today saying the condition of Mrs. Mohandas K. Gandhi, wife of the Nationalist leader, has been "deteriorating for some days" and is very grave. Mrs. Gandhi suffered a number of heart attacks at Poona, where she had been under detention with her husband since last August.

NAME 3 REAR ADMIRALS TO INVASION POSTS

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20 (AP).—The navy tonight disclosed further details in the plans for the European invasion with announcement that Rear Adm. Alan Goodrich Kirk has been named commander of the United States task force operating as part of the combined naval force in England.

Rear Adm. Kirk.

Also assigned to command of units of the task force are Rear Adm. John Lesslie Hall Jr., and Rear Adm. John Wilkes.

Adm. Harold R. Stark is commander of all United States naval forces in the United Kingdom area.

Kirk Is Navy Veteran.

Kirk, a veteran of 35 years in the navy, 21 of which have been at sea or in foreign service, was in Great Britain three months before the outbreak of the European war. After the beginning of the conflict he had opportunity to see the British fleet in action and to view the operation of the British shore establishments.

Born at Philadelphia in 1888, Kirk was commissioned in the navy in 1909 and immediately began his service at sea and abroad. His tours of duty included service in the far east aboard American gunboats in Chinese waters and with the Asiatic fleet. He has specialized in naval gunnery.

Last year Kirk was awarded the legion of merit for the "excellence of detail and training operations" of the naval task force which was on hand for the North African landings. His home is at Black Point, Conn.

Awarded D. S. M.

Wilkes, a native of Charlotte, N. C., is a veteran of submarine service. He was decorated with the distinguished service medal for his work as commander of a submarine squadron operating first in the defense of the Philippines and later in Dutch East Indies waters at the beginning of the present war.

Hall, whose home is at Williamsburg, Va., was acting chief of staff to the commander of the western naval task force and was commander of the West African sea frontier when the allies went ashore at Casablanca.

WIFE, 22, SHOT DEAD IN BED; HER HUSBAND HELD FOR INQUIRY

Mrs. Eleanor Thiesen, 22, was found shot to death in bed early yesterday in her home at Goodenow, Will county.

Her husband, Ralph, 24, who told sheriff's deputies he was awakened by a shot, was held for questioning in the Will county jail at Joliet.

Mrs. Thiesen was killed by a bullet from a .22 caliber revolver that she owned. The gun was found on the bed.

Thiesen told police that he and his wife had passed the night at taverns, returning home about 4:30 a. m.

James E. Burke, state's attorney of Will county, said authorities were not excluding the possibility that Mrs. Thiesen might have ended her own life. He said a search revealed two letters she apparently wrote Friday but had not mailed, one to a brother, indicating, he said, dissatisfaction with married life, and one to a soldier now overseas.

The Thiesens were married two years ago. They effected a reconciliation last October, following a nine month separation.

'BLUE STREAK' RETURNS TO U. S. AFTER 110 RAIDS

In 20 months of continuous action the Liberator raider struck 110 times at axis targets ranging from Tobruk in Libya to Augsburg, Germany. She dropped half a million pounds of bombs on enemy objectives, sank a destroyer, a tanker, and a merchant vessel. During her 1,058 hours of combat her gunners brought down 23 enemy fighters.

"Some 250 men have flown into combat in the Blue Streak and none was hurt or killed," said her pilot, Maj. Ralph P. Thompson, 29, of Galena, O. He flew the Blue Streak here from Naples, Italy. The bomber made the 8,100 mile journey in 45 A combat cameraman, Maj. John D. Craig, Kewanee, Ill., well known producer of adventure films, was a passenger on the flight. Among the crew was Master Sgt. Richard E. Weizenegger, 23, Eau Claire, Wis.

ARMY PRESSURE IN ARGENTINA'S AFFAIRS DENIED

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 20 (AP).—A presidential statement issued today described recent reports concerning the internal situation and policy of the Argentine government as "false and evidently bad intentional rumors."

The statement denied insistent reports that the resignations of Foreign Minister Alberto Guilbert and the presidential secretary, Col. Enrique Gonzales, had been forced by young army officers because the two cabinet members were attempting to bring about a declaration of war against the axis.

British Destroyer Lost in Mediterranean War

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP).—The admiralty announced the loss of the destroyer Janus, one of the veteran British warships of the Mediterranean war. The bulletin gave no details. The Janus, along with the Jervis, Mohawk, and Nubian, all destroyers, figured in a raid on an axis convoy bound for Tripoli in May, 1941, in which five enemy merchantmen and three Italian warships were wiped out. The 1,690 ton Janus was completed in 1939 and was of the Javelin class with a complement of 183 officers and men.

PRAYER BRINGS PEACE TO DYESS BAND IN JUNGLE

But Swamp Adds New Perils to Escape.

Prayer in the jungle and a continuation of the thrilling account of escape from the Japs in the Philippines are included in the 23d instalment of the late Lt. Col. W. E. Dyess' story. Col. Dyess was killed in a plane crash after reaching this country.

BY LT. COL. W. E. DYESS,
United States Army Air Forces.
As told to CHARLES LEAVELLE.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

Daylight of our second day in the jungle showed us that the stream barring our progress had risen during the night. We cut nearly a dozen trees to bridge it. Going was much more difficult after we reached the other side.

Our Filipino comrades, Victor and Ben, went ahead, swinging their razor sharp bolos at the matted growth. Jack went immediately behind them with the compass. At first we checked the course every 15 or 20 minutes, but we soon found we were zig-zagging and losing time, so we started checking it every four to five minutes.

The buhuka vine, which had quenched our thirst the day before, now seemed to regret its helpfulness and became a painful hindrance. Its fibrous covering is studded with thorns, which tore our clothing and us.

We came to places in the jungle impossible to cut thru. Sometimes we climbed over, and again we crawled under, holding our noses just above the slime and expecting to meet snakes face to face.

Slower Than They Thought.

At 9 a. m. we checked our progress and found we had been making even poorer time than we had thought. This was dangerous. Once the Japs picked up our broad trail, they would have the benefit of our clearance work and would travel much faster than our party.

At 10 a. m. the jungle ended and we were in the great swamp. The water was knee deep with soft mud at the bottom. There were occasional grassy hummocks of firm ground, but not enough of them to help us much. Sword grass grew 10 and 12 feet high. Every time a blade of it struck us it laid the skin open like a knife. Victor and Ben wrapped their hands and faces, but they were bleeding profusely in a short time.

The heat was steamy and weakening. We were soaked with sweat. We had passed up breakfast to conserve our meager supply of food.

We made even less progress as the sword grass grew thicker and more robust. There was nothing to do but go on. Only the prison lay behind and we knew we'd have to cross the swamp somewhere. Often, after cutting 25 yards or so, we encountered clumps that were too much even for the keen bolos. We would have to retreat and try again. It was not uncommon to make less than 100 yards in an hour. At 2 p. m. we were about finished.

Wearied by Difficult Task.

Heat, hunger, fatigue, and the difficult going were almost too much. We remembered having passed an enormous log about 30 feet long which rested near a large fallen tree. It took almost an hour to get back to it. Every time I threw myself down on a grassy hummock to rest I would look at the dark water and think, "O, what the hell! Why not just stay here?"

When we reached the log, we opened a can of meat filched from the Japs. This gave us strength to gather dry twigs which Victor used to build a fire on the end of the log. While he cooked rice in one bucket and made tea in the other, we cut trees to form the framework of our beds for the night.

We were in the midst of this when Leo shouted: "Duck! Duck!" An angry humming filled the air. Then we saw what seemed to be thousands of bees. They were the biggest brutes I ever saw. Their hive must have been in the log near the spot where Victor built the fire. When two of them hit me in the back simultaneously, I thought I had been stabbed.

Plagued by Bees.

I fell forward across the log and covered my head with my hands. About a dozen bees had a try at me as I found later when I picked their stingers out of my shirt. Bob was stung a dozen times before he plunged into the water. No one escaped. The bees raised hell more than half an hour, then left us.

The pain of the stings took our minds temporarily off our other troubles, and we proceeded rapidly with the business of building our platform. When it was ready, the rice and tea were waiting. As we ate we discussed strategy.

Every one wanted to go ahead, but we had no way of knowing how much swamp remained to be conquered. Our shoes were falling apart. Our legs and bodies had been slashed severely by the sword grass. Infections would start swiftly. Another day like this one would finish us off, we thought.

Suggests a Prayer.

An eerie glow appeared in the west. Some of us thought it might be a forest fire, but it was obvious that if this were true the fire must be many miles off. Then we saw that the east was glowing also and realized we were seeing one of those strange tropical sunsets that lights up the sky in all directions.

We hung our wet shoes on poles and rigged our mosquito bars as best we could. We got out our blankets and shelter tent halves. All this time we were talking in low voices, just loud enough to be heard above the noises of the swamp.

Settling down to rest I found a depression between two tree trunks and made myself fairly comfortable. I was exhausted. But before dropping off to sleep I got to thinking of the odds against me.

Sam was lying on one side of me and Shifty on the other. I don't know what made me do it, but on the impulse I turned to Shifty and said:

"Don't you think Sam ought to lead us in a little prayer?"

Say Lord's Prayer in Swamp.

There had been a lot of silent prayer among us during the last three days. I am sure of that, tho I can speak only for myself. Sam was the most religious boy in the bunch. He was of Italian ancestry and was a Catholic, having been an altar boy when he was a kid.

Sam was a quiet sort of youngster, slight of build and slender. Unlike many persons of Italian blood he had blond hair. He had spent some years as an amateur boxer and in some bout or other his nose had been flattened slightly. Shifty answered my question at once.

"I sure do think he ought to, Ed," he said.

"How about it, Sam?" I asked.

"All right," he said. "Let's all start off with the Lord's Prayer."

We said the Lord's Prayer with Sam leading us. Then he continued on alone with something that sounded like one of the Catholic litanies, but none of us knew any responses. He finished with a prayer that was based partially on one of the psalms, but most of it was his own.

Pray for Deliverance.

In this he asked God to deliver us from our enemies, to protect us from disease and the jungle, to deliver us out of the swamp, and to see us safely into the American lines. He concluded:

"We ask it in Your name. Amen." We all echoed "Amen." I felt easier and more optimistic than I had since the start of the escape. The next minute I was dead to the world. There was only one interruption during the night. Two of the marines fell thru their bed and into the water.

At daylight we were up for our third day in the jungle. Victor made tea and cooked some of the dwindling supply of rice.

We decided to continue thru the swamp. We felt better after our sleep and the stimulation of rice and tea. At 8 a. m. we were slashing away again. The first two hours took us thru the toughest part of the swamp.

Reach End of Swamp.

At 10 a. m. the sword grass grew thinner and the water shallower. It still was tough going, make no mistake about that, and the heat again had grown steamy, stifling, and enervating. But we were much encouraged.

Then, at 2 p. m., the swamp ended as abruptly as it had begun and we stepped into the gloom and slime of the jungle. It was almost as good as getting back home, tho this part of the jungle presented difficulties all its own. There were scores of leeches which burrowed into the skin at every unprotected place.

It was a mistake to pull them off, because the heads remained under the skin and continued to burrow, eventually causing great sores. The only remedy was to burn them off or rub tobacco into the sores.

Strike Dim Trail.

After an hour of splashing along we struck a dim trail that seemed to lead in the general direction we wanted.

We had gone only a little way when there was an exclamation from one of the fellows. He had stopped and was staring down. In the mould were footprints. Most of them had been made by split-toed shoes with hobnail heels.

This could mean only one thing—Jap soldiers! The split-toed shoes give the feet more freedom on difficult terrain and assist the wearer in climbing trees for sniping. But the thing that jarred us was that the prints were fresh.

We dashed into the cover of the jungle and conferred. Victor, Ben, and Bob then scouted north, while Shifty and Leo watched in our immediate vicinity. The rest of us went on to a clearing where the sun beat down, and there we spread out our equipment to dry.

At 5:30 p. m. the scouts returned, reporting they had found signs of heavy foot traffic and a group of newly deserted houses. There were prints obviously made by Filipinos.

Chop Down Trees for Bunks.

They brought back some comoties and plantains [cooking bananas] that could be tossed into the coals and baked. We soon were chopping down trees to build bunks for the night.

We remained cautious, however. Despite the progress we had made during the day we spent a miserable night. Being back in the jungle, we were vulnerable again to those dive bombing mosquitoes. I got practically no sleep. The one time I was about to drop off there was a ripping crash, followed by bitter profanity.

The marines' bed had collapsed—as usual.

Captured When Philippines Fell

Sgt. Adam Larch Mach. Mate Paul Golly Capt. Donald Hanes

Staff Sgt. Adam Larch, 45, had been stationed in the Philippines for a year before the attack on Pearl Harbor. He enlisted in the army 18 years ago, and was in the bakery division. He is now a prisoner in a Japanese camp.

Larch was born in Russia and came to Chicago at the age of 15. He has a brother fighting with the American army in Italy. Another brother, Gustave Larry, lives at 4509 N. Keeler av.

"We are really kept in the dark about what is going on in the Southwest Pacific," Mrs. Larry said yesterday. "All we can do is hope."

Chief Machinist's Mate Paul Golly, 44, has not been heard from since the fall of Corregidor, altho the Red Cross has reported him to be a prisoner of war in the Philippines.

Golly enlisted in the navy 26 years ago, and had been stationed in the Philippines for 10 years previous to the attack on Pearl Harbor.

Before that, he had spent most of his adult life in far eastern assignments with the navy.

Capt. Donald Hanes, 39, was the commanding officer of Company B of the 192d tank battalion when the Maywood group was sent to the Philippines in October, 1941. His promotion to captain came in May of 1941, during a training period at Fort Knox.

A graduate of Bethany college, Bethany, W. Va., Capt. Hanes worked at an electromotive plant in La Grange. He has one son, Charles, 16, who is at Kentucky Military school in Lyndon, Ky. His wife, Gertrude, works in a war plant in Maywood.

SKULL FRACTURED IN FALL.

NAZIS HURLED BACK TWO MILES ON ANZIO BEACH

Foe's Attacks Blunted; Tide of Battle Turns.

Kesselring's ace in the hole has been the tanks of the 26th panzer armored division. He tossed them in Friday night along the Via Anziate between Anzio and Rome. American and British infantry never wavered. The panzers failed.

Move North and Northwest.

Saturday's American attack moved out north and northwest from Torre del Padiglione but its main weight was northwest toward Carroceto about four miles distant.

The huge power of the beachhead was concentrated on a small area directly in front of the American advance. A variety of guns lashed out, Long Toms [155s], big Howitzers, and the prized British 25 pounders.

The general directing the combined armor and infantry operation had given his elements some ambitious objectives. The jump-off came at 6:30 a. m., and by 2 p. m., all the objectives had been reached.

"We've made a lot of yardage," he said. "You might say we took the ball away from the enemy on fourth down before he got off his punt and we are rolling," he added.

The general's engineers built a bridge while the Germans fired an estimated 80 rounds of artillery fire at them and the tanks kept going.

Withdraw from Rail Station.

ALLIED HDQ., Naples, Feb. 20 (AP).—Allied forces met heavy opposition and many obstacles yesterday after crossing the Rapido river south of Cassino, and four Nazi counter-attacks forced them to withdraw from the railroad station they had occupied a mile from the center of the town.

In mountain fighting a mile and a half west of Cassino the 5th army was forced to yield one crest captured on Friday, but consolidated other captured high ground.

United States troops still battled the Germans within Cassino, but no gains were reported there or on Mount Cassino overlooking it, where German resistance from pillboxes around the ruined Benedictine monastery still was retarding occupation of that height.

On the lower Garigliano front to the west a British corps threw back two savage Nazi counter-attacks in the Mount Ornito area and took 112 prisoners including three company commanders. German efforts to infiltrate there were "severely dealt with," headquarters said.

Allied planes flew 800 sorties over and around the beachhead area, and about 150 German planes were seen. Of the 26 enemy planes downed, 10 fell to gunners of United States Mitchells jumping about 20 aircraft making a bomb run over troops and vehicles at Anzio.

CLAIM TRANSPORT SUNK

The German high command's war bulletin as broadcast by Berlin and recorded by the Associated Press, said:

"The battle in the Nettuno beachhead continued with undiminished intensity. German attacks alternated with enemy counter-attacks. Fighters and fighter bombers attacked targets by day and night successfully in the beachhead. Extensive fires and explosions were started in munitions dumps in the harbor of Anzio after bomb hits.

"In an attack against enemy shipping concentrations off Anzio one transport ship of 7,000 tons was sunk and two more ships of 16,000 tons were heavily damaged. U-boats in the waters off Nettuno sank three fully loaded enemy landing vessels and one freighter totaling 15,000 tons, as well as two destroyers. In the same area one U-boat destroyed one enemy cruiser, as reported Friday.

"Over the Italian front territory, 18 enemy planes were shot down yesterday [Saturday]."

BRITISH FIGHT TO FREE REGIMENT IN BURMA TRAP

Indian Force Cut Off from Supplies.

NEW DELHI, India, Feb. 20 (AP).—Japanese forces who broke thru the rear of the British positions on the Arakan front in Burma are steadily being blasted from their foxholes, but severe fighting remains before the threat to the allied supply route is erased definitely, southeast Asia headquarters said today.

The announcement said British troops were making progress in marching to the relief of the 7th Indian regiment, the forward allied force cut off when Japanese guerrillas blocked its supply route thru Ngakyedauk pass across the Mayu ridge.

[A Domei broadcast from Tokio said the British 5th division at Maungdaw, as well as the 7th division, was encircled and is now making a death struggle to break thru the Japanese cordon, adding "it is only a matter of days when the enemy in this area will be wiped out.]

Of the general Arakan situation, the allied announcement said: "During the last 48 hours the main Japanese force on the Arakan front has been showing some signs of becoming uncoördinated in the face of continuous and determined fighting and the growing pressure of our troops."

West of the Mayu range, where another allied division is keeping open the supply route to the main bases in India against Japanese raiding parties, a British column advancing southward along the peninsula was rooting the enemy from positions in the Kalapanzin valley.

"Many enemy dead and some equipment have been found in captured positions evacuated by this force after bitter fighting," the bulletin said. "It is now reported that isolated groups of the enemy are now wandering lost about the area.

"To the south and west the position is likely to remain somewhat confused and severe fighting must be expected to continue during the next few days."

MARSHAL TITO GAINS NEW ALLIED FAVOR; KING PETER SLIPS

Marshal Tito.

LONDON, Feb. 20 (AP).—Jugo-Slavia's complicated political situation showed signs of clearing today with the forces of Marshal Josip [Tito] Broz, the Partisan leader, emerging as No. 1 in the political as well as military favor of the United States, Britain and Russia.

Former Prime Minister Gen. Dusan Simovitch, who nearly three years ago led the revolt of King Peter's Jugo-Slav government against the axis, used the British Broadcasting company's facilities last night to announce his support of Tito. This showed a tendency of the British to let King Peter's government, now installed in Cairo, fall back into obscurity.

Russia already openly supports Tito politically and militarily while both Britain and America for the past four months have been supplying him with arms.

VETS OF AFRICA GET MEDALS AS ROOKIES LOOK ON

BY JOHN THOMPSON.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

AN AMERICAN TRAINING BASE, Somewhere in England, Feb. 20.—The wind blew chill across the grass tufted knoll where the battalion stood at attention. The general's aid shivered. He was in his shirt sleeves, having been caught without time to get his coat.

Harshly, the voice of the commander of the troops drifted back against the wind: "Men to be decorated, front and center." Soldiers in warm greatcoats marched, did a right face, came across the parade ground like a skirmish line. Silver bars or oak leaves glinted on some shoulders; there were stripes on some of the sleeves.

The two-star general stood beside a table stacked with medals, for the men coming toward him were veterans here to instruct other Americans who were preparing for their first battle test. The general thought it was a good idea for the battalion to see these veterans receive their awards won in combat. He felt it would aid that nebulous thing we call morale, without which a fighting unit is useless.

Chicagoan Decorated.

The general stepped forward and saluted the first man as the battalion adjutant began reading the citation over the loud speaker system. An oak leaf cluster was added to a silver star already won for gallantry in action. The general stepped to the side to face the next man and again saluted.

Silver stars and one soldier's medal were hung today on the coats of these instructors. And as I have always found in every theater of war, men from the middle west were well represented.

Sgt. Lewis B. Painter of Chicago, for example. On Dec. 3, 1942, Painter took part in the first capture of Faid pass in Tunisia. I was there with the task force of the commander, Col. Edson D. Raff, when he sent the infantry up the precipitous mountains on the enemy's flank. For two days they fought their way slowly down into the pass, almost all the time exposed to enemy fire.

Evacuates Wounded.

Sgt. Painter was not a rifleman. He had an equally tough job as a medical corpsman evacuating the wounded. His citation said:

"Leading a small group of men, Sgt. Painter courageously and daringly proceeded under heavy enemy artillery, mortar, and small arms fire to evacuate wounded personnel from the field of battle. His heroic, unselfish and inspirational deed greatly minimized the loss of life and merits the highest praise."

Two other medical men were decorated. On July 11 at Gela, Sicily, these two, Privates Jay C. Budahn of Melvindale, Mich., and Melvin W. Demott of Glennie, Mich., evacuated the seriously wounded during a tank assault. Altho surrounded and exposed to intense machine gun and small arms fire, the citation read, they accomplished their mission. "Their coolness under heavy fire merits the highest praise."

Directs Mortar Fire.

There was another battle in Sicily, to capture the enemy stronghold of Troina, the key to his last and strongest line, behind which the Germans were busy evacuating personnel and material. At the height of the battle on Aug. 3, Corp. Hearshell F. Van Luven of Willoughby, O., "during an intense barrage, fearlessly crawled to an observation post on the forward slope and directed effective mortar fire on the enemy strongholds."

The general came to the end of the line. The men about-faced beside him, bands struck up a tune, and the battalion passed in review, their lines as straight as rulers. A corps commander who had been a spectator watched them march past and said, "Of all the army units I could have visited today, none is finer than this."

NEW kind of ASPIRIN tablet doesn't upset stomach

WHEN you need quick relief from pain, do you hesitate to take aspirin because it leaves you with an upset stomach? If so, this new medical discovery, SUPERIN, is "just what the doctor ordered" for you.

Superin is aspirin plus—contains the same pure, safe aspirin you have long known—but compounded by medical men in a special way for those upset by aspirin in its ordinary form.

This new kind of aspirin tablet dissolves more quickly, lets the aspirin get right at the job of relieving pain, reduces the acidity of ordinary aspirin, and does not irritate or upset stomach—even after repeated doses.

Tear this out to remind you to get Superin today, so you can have it on hand when headaches, colds, etc., strike. See how quickly it relieves pain—how fine you feel after taking. At your druggist's, 15¢ and 39¢.

TRIBUNE ARMY EDITION GIVEN O.K. IN LONDON

Overseas Papers Must Be Printed Here.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE and two other newspapers have been granted the privilege of distributing special weekly overseas editions to American troops in the European theater of operations thru post exchanges, dispatches from London said yesterday. At the same time, however, Maj. Gen. John C. H. Lee, deputy theater commander, denied the right to print the overseas editions in England to the three newspapers, two weekly magazines, and a digest publication.

No specific reason was given for the latter decision, but army officials suggested that printing the publications in England would cut into Great Britain's limited supply of printers and printing facilities. THE TRIBUNE had sought to print the small sized newspaper in England in order to speed production and give the troops a faster news service.

No Extra Help Needed.

THE TRIBUNE proposed to ship matrices for stereotype plates or plastic printing plates, which could be made up into a light package, by plane. The blank printing paper could be shipped well in advance. Under this system it would have been possible to produce THE TRIBUNE in London within 36 to 48 hours of the time of printing in Chicago without using British printers or requiring any more shipping space than will be needed for shipping the printed papers from this country.

Gen. Lee announced that the purpose of permitting the distribution of the Overseas TRIBUNE was to provide troops with news as quickly and as fully as possible "within certain conditions set by the decision." He emphasized, however, the demand from the army exchange units will determine the number of copies to be shipped from this country and indicated that shipping space allotted will be strictly limited and that any and all facilities may be withdrawn at any time without notice.

Question May Be Reviewed.

The announcement also said that the right to distribute miniature overseas editions of American newspapers thru army post exchanges, which has been under consideration by the army for more than a year, may be made available to newspapers other than those specifically mentioned provided there is sufficient demand from the soldiers and provided the editions are confined to a certain size.

Army officials, indicating speed is important in the distribution of a perishable commodity like news, said the question of printing in England may be reviewed in a few weeks.

CIO Publishes Edition of Paper for Service Men

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20 (AP).—The Congress of Industrial Organizations commenced publication today of a service men's edition of the CIO news, the union's official paper. The edition, to be published on a monthly basis, will be distributed thru "relatives and friends," the CIO said.

2,500 REALTY FIRMS TO HUNT PAPER CACHES

127 Cities to Join in Salvage Drive.

Chicago will be the center of the nation in a drive to bring out thousands of tons of waste paper from America's office buildings and skyscrapers. The campaign starts next Monday in 127 cities from coast to coast.

More than 2,500 real estate management firms, controling the operation of 85 per cent of the nation's big buildings, will participate in the two week drive to garner all obsolete files, canceled checks, account books, advertising matter, and other office papers that can be spared.

The Chicago Newspapers Publishers association called attention to the fact that waste paper is now America's No. 1 critical shortage in war material.

Business and Labor Coöperate.

The real estate firms participating are members of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, with local associations in 52 major cities and affiliates in 75 smaller cities. The drive will be carried on in coöperation with the salvage division of the war production board, local members of the American Newspaper Publishers association, and office and janitor unions and organizations.

Thousands of lofts and warehouse buildings under management of association members have been included in the campaign. National president of the association is Leo J. Sheridan and the national executive secretary is Robert J. Beach. Both are Chicagoans.

Waste Paper Caches Found.

"Two tests started us on the campaign," Beach said yesterday. "One unearthed 85 pounds of old waste paper in the private office of one executive. In another office, more than eight pounds of useless paper were produced from the pockets of men in the office."

The sulphite and rag paper used in the type of waste found in office buildings is the most valuable of all types, Beach said. Before the war, the pulp was imported from the Scandinavian countries.

Instructions for the drive say:

"Waste paper is a fighting material. It is made into scores of essential products—parachute flares, medical kits, shell protectors, cartridge boxes, blood plasma cartons, ration kits, and many others. It is as necessary as guns and bombs. Shipments of war materials have been delayed thru lack of it."

TURKISH PRESS ENDS TIRADE ON BRITISH POLICY

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Feb. 18 [Delayed].—The minor uproar over Anglo-Turkish relations calmed down today with an admission by leading editors that it was useful to axis propagandists but served no other puropse.

An official quietus was put on the campaign by an editorial in the official paper Ulus, which said: "Between us and England there is no misunderstanding, but on the contrary an alliance, which for many years will make a misunderstanding impossible, whatever may happen." The Istanbul press followed suit today.

Americans Not Blamed.

Beyond doubt there has been tension between the British and the Turks, but that does not mean there is any hope for the axis of breaking up Anglo-Turko-American coöperation. The Turks felt they were being pressed too hard to increase their contribution to the war.

Turks to whom I talked during this week without exception criticized the British on the one hand for asking too much in the way of coöperation and on the other hand for providing too little material.

Americans apparently escaped blame because they have been slightly less insistent, and most of the material coming here is made in America.

Cairo Wounds Healing.

The press campaign is significant because editors would not assail an ally on an important point without being pretty sure the government approves. Articles considered against the national interest—which can be an elastic term—mean that the papers are shut down.

Resentment over the feeling of being pressed too hard at the second Cairo conference also appears to have been allayed.

To the best belief of observers here nobody, except possibly the British foreign office, wants Turkey to enter the war and the Turks believe they can count on peace for a few more months at least.

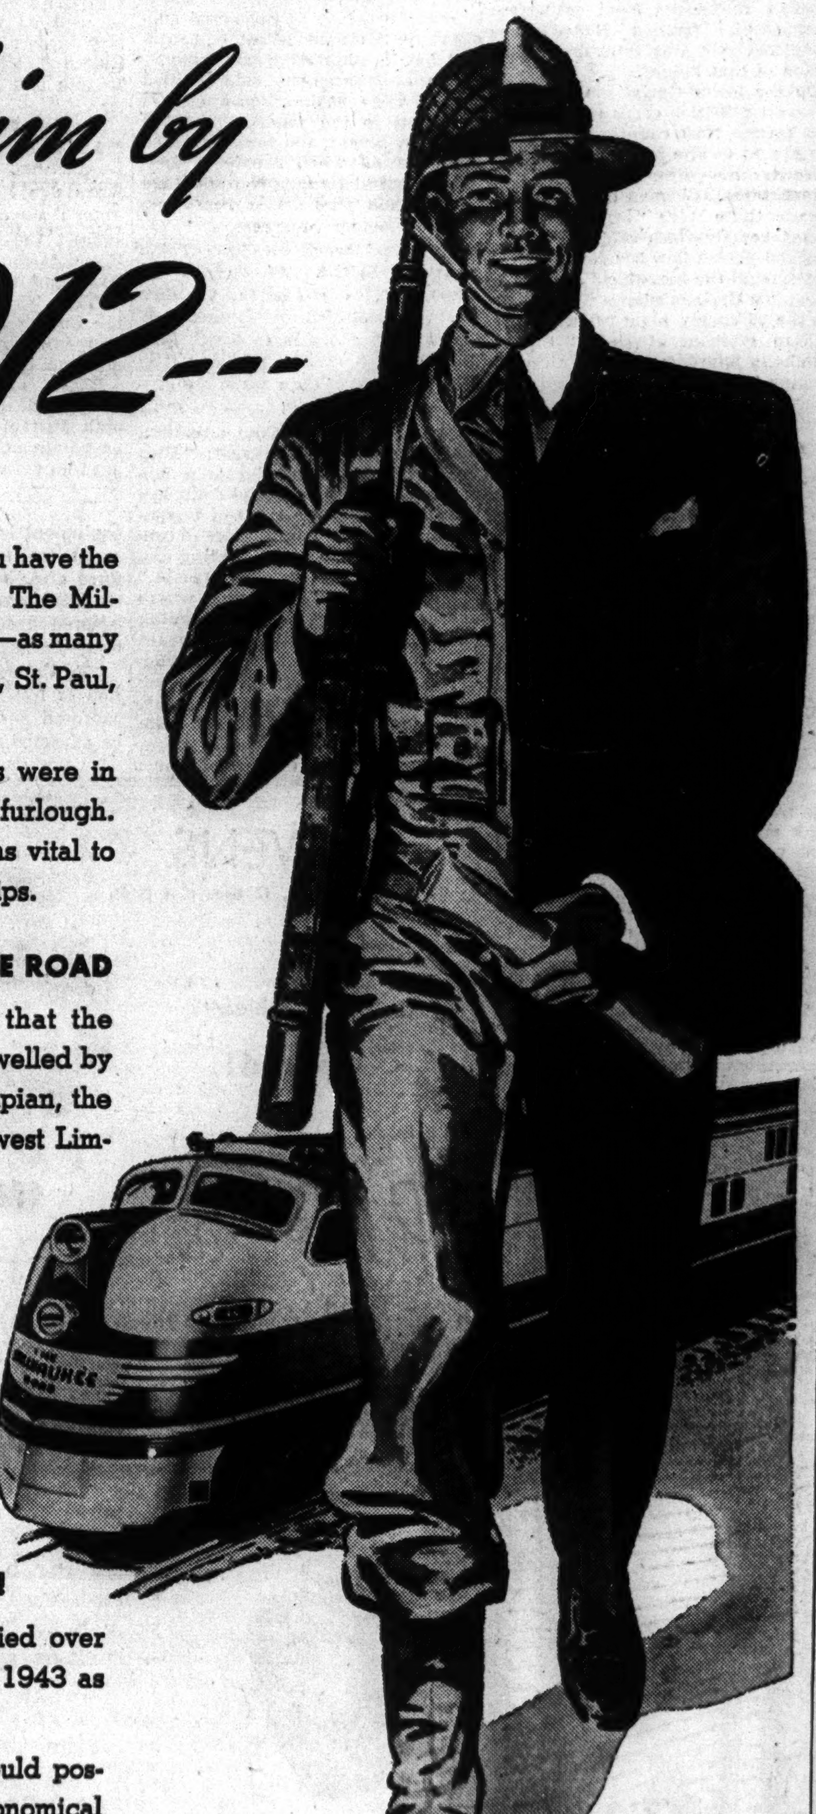
Multiply him by 1,458,912---



MULTIPLY him by 1,458,912 and you have the number of passengers who rode The Milwaukee Road's Hiawathas during 1943—as many people as the population of Milwaukee, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Tacoma combined!

Many of those Hiawatha passengers were in uniform—traveling under orders or on furlough. Many others were civilians on missions vital to war production or on other essential trips.

MILLIONS MORE USE MILWAUKEE ROAD

The nearly a million and a half that the Hiawatha fleet carried last year were swelled by millions of others who rode the Olympian, the Pioneer Limited, the Arrow, the Southwest Limited, the Chippewa, the Marquette, the Sioux and other Milwaukee Road trains.

In addition, hundreds of thousands of men in the armed forces were transported to camps, maneuvers and embarkation ports on special trains via The Milwaukee Road and its connections.

AMERICA MOVES BY RAIL!

Altogether, America's railroads carried over four times as many passengers during 1943 as they did in recent pre-war years.

What other form of transportation could possibly provide such swift, dependable, economical service for the mass movement of a nation of 133,000,000 people at war?

JOHN WARNER SAYS TO THE MAN WHO DOESN'T WANT TO BE BALD...

"We'll gladly examine your hair and scalp and tell you its exact condition—and without charge for one very good reason. Because there may be nothing wrong with your scalp, or there may be so much wrong with it that we just can't help you at all. But if you have the usual local hair and scalp conditions such as excessive oiliness, dryness or itchiness that cause as much as 85% of all baldness then, undoubtedly, we can help you.

Our examinations are always without charge to give you a chance to learn the truth about your hair and scalp and let you decide if you want treatment.

We do not and cannot re-grow hair on bald heads, and we will not accept your case for treatment unless improvement is reasonably certain. We have grown rapidly from year to year because of our satisfied clientele."

SMEAR BRIGADE SETS STAGE TO KEEP F. D. R. IN Old Vilification Device Is Trotted Out Again.

of opportunists, and its most interesting and most notorious goon squad is the pro-administration press. This consists of a few old-line newspapers which once had sterling community reputations and which are allied now for Roosevelt with the Communist rags and the come-lately playboy sheets. The founders of these once respectable newspapers would have recognized the owners of the latter publications only for purposes of horsewhipping.

Names Are Meaningless.

Most of the smear newspapers like to be called "independent Republican" or "independent Democratic," altho all of them have so far departed from any Republican or Democratic political philosophies that the names have no meaning.

So similar is the editorial and news policy of these sheets that they might be the work of one editor. Their identical direction is sufficient evidence that they are working in collusion, and there is reason to believe that the director of this collusion is ex-Judge Sammy Rosenman, the current field marshal of the White House palace guard.

The "independent Republican" wing of the international press is not yet ready to acknowledge that it has sold out its readers to Mr. Roosevelt, so it has adopted Wendell Willkie as a Presidential stalking horse to uphold the "Republican" end of the label. All of these newspapers are in Mr. Roosevelt's pocket, but they do not dare to admit it openly, so they support Willkie, the man Mr. Roosevelt can always beat.

Willkie's Apologists.

Among them are the New York Herald-Tribune, the leading pro-British organ in the United States; the Milwaukee Journal; the Cowles papers in Des Moines and Minneapolis; the Detroit Free Press, Akron Beacon Journal, Miami Herald, and other holdings of John S. Knight; the Adler newspapers of Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, and Wisconsin, known as the Lee syndicate, and Henry Luce's Time-Life-Fortune magazine axis.

Mr. Willkie also has plenty of apologists among the other internationalist newspapers which do not advertise themselves as Republican, but pretend to tell Republicans how to vote. These include the New York Post, now operated by Mrs. Dorothy Backer, the daughter of an international banker, the late Mortimer Schiff. [She was married to Theodore O. Thackery July 30, 1943]; J. David Stern's Philadelphia Record; Eugene Meyer's Washington Post; the Marshall Field press in New York and Chicago; the Louisville Courier-Journal; the St. Louis Globe-Democrat; the once fearless St. Louis Post-Dispatch, and the Press, Plain-Dealer, and News of Cleveland. Their content is the same, except for different type fonts and column rules.

The financing of some of these newspapers thru the inheritance of great estates and of others thru intrigue with the New Deal's financial giants and government operated banks is a chapter that will be dealt with separately in ensuing articles.

The Whirling Dervish.

Rubbing around the legs of the internationalist publishers are the more vicious practitioners of the gutter grade of smearing, the radio commentators and columnists. They also take their orders from Mr. Rosenman. The whirling dervish of this cloak and dagger gang is a radio commentator and columnist who goes by the name of Walter Winchell and who has done more to stir up anti-Semitism in America than the Ku Klux Klan, the Silver Shirts, or all the Naziphile organizations he berates. Winchell recently smeared Rep. Rankin [D., Miss.] by calling him "Reprehensible Rankin" of the "house of reprehensibles." The congressman replied before the house that Winchell's real name is Lipschitz and that he "does not represent the decent Jews of America."

David Lawrence, a columnist who imbibed his internationalism from Woodrow Wilson, is somewhat more calm and much more grammatical. He trades on the "liberal" label that the internationalists and Communists have tried to swipe for a drawing card, and calls Republicans who oppose Willkie reactionaries, as if the Wall street millionaires who put Willkie over at Philadelphia in 1940 and are trying to do it again this year are or ever were noted for their liberalism, political or otherwise.

Lippmann's Transformation.

When Joseph Pulitzer died in 1911, he left two outstanding newspapers, the New York World and the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. Within 20 years the World failed, in the opinion of the editor of its successful competitor, J. M. Patterson, largely because of its un-American editorial attitude after Pulitzer's death.

Walter Lippmann was editor of the World at the time of its demise. Lippmann is just another columnist now, altho he has been in the business long enough and has collected enough college degrees to be known in the trade as a pundit. He used to be an isolationist, but now he abhors pre-war nonintervention and whoops it up for an Anglo-American alliance and collective security. Mr. Lippmann thinks collective security is fine for every state except Poland, the casus belli of the present conflict, which he is willing to turn over to the "humanitarian" administration of Communist Russia to help the New Dealers out of a spot.

Senior Smearers.

The real senior wardens of the smear battalion are the members of the New Deal wing of the Democratic party, headed by Mr. Roosevelt, who is no mean besmircher himself. It was the President who sent a German iron cross to John O'Donnell, Washington correspondent of the nationalist New York Daily News, on the eve of the trial of O'Donnell's $50,000 libel suit against David Stern's internationalist Philadelphia Record.

O'Donnell won the suit in spite of the President's insult, the jury awarding him $50,000 without knowing that was the amount he sued for. The common pleas court in Philadelphia set the verdict aside and the case is now awaiting a new trial.

Charles Michelson, the New Deal press agent, is a supreme artist in the tactics of the smear. He started smearing President Hoover in the late '20s and has imparted much of his veteran skill to the young and ambitious New Dealers operating today.

Communists in Van.

Working happily in this heterogeneous army of vilifiers is the Communist party of America, whose members are old hands at the game and got their technique as well as most of their cash at the fountainhead in Moscow. Atty. Gen. Francis Biddle found officially that the Communist party has long been subsidized by soviet Russia to overthrow the American government "by force and violence."

That does not stop Mr. Biddle's boss from making use of the Communists. Their leader is Earl Browder, whom Mr. Roosevelt pardoned from a federal prison sentence for passport fraud, and who is paying the debt thru one night stands on the Roosevelt chautauqua circuit.

The party has numerous fronts and outlets, including the soviet subsidized Daily Worker in New York, whose denunciation of isolationists is equaled only by its fulminations against the interventionists who wanted to go to war from August, 1939, to June, 1941, while Russia was an ally of Germany and Communists were picketing the White House against war and sabotaging war production.

Want to Forget 1940.

None of the internationalists like to have attention called to the Daily Worker's about face because they are still trying to forget that Mr. Roosevelt said "again and again and again" in 1940 that "your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars."

Among the front organizations working for the Communists or the New Dealers or both are the communistic New Masses and the pinko New Republic, the Union for Democratic action, with which Mrs. Roosevelt recently associated herself, the communistic CIO, which has a new ultra-red and ultra-Roosevelt "political action committee," and the Friends of Democracy, which is closely affiliated with the Luce press and other Willkie organs.

The four star generals of the smear brigade have not forgotten the more literate section of the electorate, and several smear books have been written, including "Under Cover," the undocumented work of a many-aliased hack who claims to have been a private investigator—so private that the people he writes about say they never saw or heard of him.

World Super-Government.

The internationalists and collectivists are trying to elect Mr. Roosevelt again on a platform of thorogoing internationalism embracing a world super-government to enforce peace, the dissipation of American resources for the benefit of other nations, the establishment of an international WPA at American expense, the continuation of government controled and subsidized enterprise, and the other features of a collectivist economy.

Mr. Roosevelt, unless he is convinced beforehand that he will be beaten, will stand for a fourth term on grounds that he is indispensable in the prosecution of the war and in the negotiation of the peace.

The nationalists who oppose him contend that he has bungled the conduct of the war from its very first day when his administration allowed the debacle at Pearl Harbor to occur in the face of repeated warnings from Secretary of State Hull that just such an attack could be expected from the Japanese.

The nationalists say Mr. Roosevelt has had his head turned by European royalty and money interests who insist that the European war must be prosecuted first while America's most vicious and wanton enemy has been allowed to complete its Pacific conquests and for two years faced only token force opposition.

Blame F. D. R.'s Ambitions.

They blame Mr. Roosevelt's personal ambition to be the head of the first world super-government for his disregard of national interest and his benign trust in and subsidy of European allies. They accuse him of allowing the British and the Russians to set American strategy while drawing liberally on American lend-lease and American man power for their battle needs.

The internationalists reply that the nationalists are unrepentant isolationists whose rejection of the league of nations led to the second World war and whose fear of surrendering a little sovereignty to a super-national agency to preserve peace will, if it prevails, doom mankind to perpetual war.

If this argument is weak in the face of close at hand facts, the internationalists intend to make it strong thru the smear, thru the pillory of the nationalists and the pre-war non-interventionists as defeatists and traitors.

More details of the way the smear campaign is working will be told in subsequent articles.

Church Celebrates

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Bishop Robert E. Jones of Columbus, O., at 50th anniversary service in St. Mark's Methodist church yesterday.

Fifty years of religious service among Negroes were celebrated yesterday by St. Mark's Methodist church, Wabash av. and 50th st. Beginning in a store front building at 33d and State sts., with eight members, the church has become one of the largest Methodist congregations in Chicago. It has 30 organized groups for religious education and social service, including Boy Scout troop No. 534 with 90 members, two Girl Scout troops, and one Brownie Girl Scout troop.

Bishop Robert E. Jones, of the Columbus, O., Methodist area, was the jubilee preacher. The pastor, the Rev. M. W. Clair Jr., and the massed choirs of St. Mark's also participated. Two assistant pastors and nine local ministers make up the pastoral staff of St. Mark's.

Nine members who have been in the congregation more than 40 years each attended the service.

REMEMBER THE 'I'M ALONE?' HER SKIPPER IS DEAD IN HALIFAX

HALIFAX, N. S., Feb. 20 (AP).—Capt. John T. Randall, 64, skipper of the schooner I'm Alone and a key figure in an international incident in the days of United States prohibition, died in a hospital here Saturday. The I'm Alone was sunk by shell fire from the United States coast guard cutter Dexter in the Gulf of Mexico on March 22, 1929, while it was flying the Canadian flag.

A joint judicial commission ruled Canada should receive an apology and $50,666, and that the sinking of the vessel was not justified. Further the commission decided that the captain and crew were not parties to a smuggling conspiracy.

U. S. CLERGYMEN PROTEST RAIDS ON NAZI CITIES

The Rev. E. F. Tittle.

New York, Feb. 20.—Fifteen American clergymen have indorsed the stand of Dr. Cosmo Gordon Lang, former archbishop of Canterbury, and Dr. George Bell, bishop of Chichester, against destroying German cities by bombing, it was announced today.

The announcement, made by the Rev. John Nevin Sayre of the Fellowship of Reconciliation, said the two British church leaders had condemned the "allied policy of blotting out German cities area by area."

[In an appeal Feb. 9 in the British house of lords Dr. Bell called for an end to what he described as terror bombing, asserting "the policy of obliteration is not a justifiable act of war." Dr. Lang deplored air attacks on Hamburg, Frankfurt, and Berlin, and criticized a tendency among Britons to "exult and gloat" over the destruction of German cities.]

Message Cabled to Briton.

Sayre reported that the following message had been cabled to Dr. Lang by the 15 American clergymen:

"The appeal of Chichester and yourself in house of lords against allied policy of blotting out whole German cities and nonmilitary areas is welcomed by many American churchmen. Obliteration of historic cities and incineration of masses of civilian victims does violence to professed war aims and standards of Christian faith. Deeply grateful for your courageous stand."

Signers of the message were listed as the Rt. Rev. W. Appleton Lawrence, bishop of the Protestant Episcopal church, Springfield, Mass.; Prof. Walter Russell Bowie, Union Theological seminary, New York; Dr. Rufus Jones, Quaker church leader, Haverford, Pa.

Evanstonian Among Signers.

The Reverends Ernest F. Tittle, First Methodist Episcopal church, Evanston, Ill.; George A. Buttrick, Madison Avenue Presbyterian church, New York; J. Henry Carpenter, Brooklyn, N. Y., Church and Mission federation; Allen K. Chalmers, Broadway Congregational tabernacle, New York; Phillips Packer Elliott, First Presbyterian church, Brooklyn; John Haynes Holmes, Community church, Town Hall, New York.

John Paul Jones, Union Presbyterian church of Bay Ridge, Brooklyn; Elmore M. McKee, St. George's Protestant Episcopal church, New York; Richard Roberts, retired moderator of the United Church of Canada; Paul Scherer, Holy Trinity Lutheran church, New York; John Howland Lathrop, Unitarian Church of the Savior, Brooklyn, and the Rev. Mr. Sayre.

FIRST IN QUALITY IN PRICE IN SATISFACTION

"DIXIE"

$3.45 COMPLETE

1. QUALITY

The quality of your glasses is not determined by the price you pay. High prices are no indication. This is proven by the fact that you can purchase fine glasses complete with Rhodium finish mountings, and crystal clear Toric lenses, for far or near vision, at the low price of only $3.45, at each and every one of the Ritholz Optical parlors. Call at once and be convinced.

CREDIT IF DESIRED NO EXTRA CHARGE

2. PRICE

The glasses which Ritholz are selling at the low price of $3.45, is a result of many years of research, coupled with huge volume purchases, and a factory-to-you method of merchandising. There is no middle-man profit to pay, and this saving is passed on to you, the customer, in the form of better glasses at lower prices. Twenty other modern styles at moderate prices.

3. SATISFACTION

Each pair of glasses sold by Ritholz, carries the unqualified guarantee of the maker. Forty-three years of catering to satisfied customers, is a sufficient guarantee that you, too, can be satisfied. We make this solemn promise—you must be satisfied, or your money back.

WALLACE'S PLAN FOR REVOLUTION TRACED TO LASKI

Dogma Taken from Book by Radical Economist.

BY WALTER TROHAN.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Harold Laski.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20.—Plagiarism by Vice President Wallace of the alien political philosophy of Harold J. Laski, radical British economist, was reported today in letters to the cabinet and members of congress by Zach Laman Cobb, a Los Angeles, Cal., attorney.

In calling upon congress to oppose New Deal regimentation and to preserve the Constitution, Cobb charged Wallace has lifted his program for revolution by consent from Laski, a admirer of Communist political and economic philosophy.

Asked for Revolution.

During his recent transcontinental political tour, on which he beat the drum for the fourth term, Wallace called for a bloodless revolution during the war and urged adoption of much of the Russian political and economic system.

The genesis of Wallace's campaign was traced for the cabinet and members of congress by Cobb to Laski's book, "Where Do We Go from Here?" The theme of Laski's book is that there must be submission to revolution now or revolution will come by violence.

Laski wants revolution now, Cobb finds, while America is engaged in war, in fear revolution would be more difficult after the war is won.

War "Peculiarly Adapted."

"But I have argued that war is a condition peculiarly adapted by its nature to enable the process of adaptation by consent to begin," the book said.

". . . For if victory comes more shortly than we expect, the problems of adaptation will remain; and on all the evidence, we shall shrink back into our wonted habits without the chance that psychological compulsions of war impose to make the effort toward consent when, relatively, it can be made with ease."

Quotes Wallace Speech.

Cobb quoted news dispatches of Wallace's recent speech in Seattle, Wash., calling on members of congress to note the Vice President's adoption of alien revolutionary philosophy.

"Those of us who realize the inevitability of revolution are anxious that it be bloodless and gradual, instead of bloody and sudden," Wallace said in the speech.

"Time is pressing. Victory will bring problems on us so thick and fast that we must be prepared to make instant and correct decisions.

"We are not going to use the whole Russian political and economic system here in the United States. It was made for Russia and not for us, but Russia is doing every day what we in the United States have only preached on Sunday."

YOUTH DENTAL HEALTH AIM OF MEETINGS HERE

The nation-wide physical program, designed to make high school pupils dentally fit as they approach military and employment age, will be among many subjects to be discussed at the 80th mid-winter meeting of the Chicago Dental society. It opens a two day session at the Palmer House today.

The program is sponsored by the American Dental association, United States office of education, and the United States public health service. It was launched two years ago after the selective service system's announcement that, of the first 2 million men examined, 20.9 per cent were rejected because of dental deficiencies.

CHAPLIN'S WIFE, OONA, EXPECTING BABY IN AUGUST

Actor in Court Today on Indictments.

Oona Chaplin.

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 20 [Special].—Oona O'Neill Chaplin, 18, who became the fourth wife of Charles Chaplin, the former screen comedian, last June 13, said here today she is expecting a child next August.

The black haired daughter of Playwright Eugene O'Neill, who in 1942 was voted "debutante No. 1" by New York's cafe society, made her announcement as her husband prepared himself for the ordeal tomorrow of arraignment on Mann act and conspiracy charges arising from his relationship with Miss Joan Berry, the present Mrs. Chaplin's predecessor as Chaplin's protegee.

Actor Has No Comment.

No elaboration on her announcement came from Mrs. Chaplin and there was no comment from the actor. He is facing still another court ordeal this week, an attempt scheduled for Wednesday by his attorney, Loyd Wright, to obtain dismissal of the paternity suit brought against him by Miss Berry. She charges he is the father of the daughter she gave birth to last October.

Chaplin and Miss O'Neill were married while a storm of scandal brought on by Miss Berry's accusations raged about his head. The ceremony was performed in Santa Barbara, Cal., a week after Chaplin had agreed with Miss Berry's attorneys to support her and her infant pending blood tests to determine the possibility of his parenthood. He has since paid $15,800 for Miss Berry's expenses. The agreement contained a stipulation that her suit be dismissed if results of the blood test were negative, as physicians reported last week.

Questioned in Inquiry.

Miss O'Neill, prior to her marriage to Chaplin, was among those questioned by authorities in their first investigation of Miss Berry's charges. At that time she said Chaplin was coaching her for screen roles and called him "a wonderful teacher and a wonderful man," but insisted their relations were "strictly esoteric."

Chaplin has two sons, Sydney and Charles Jr., both by his second wife, Lita Grey Chaplin. His first wife was Mildred Harris and his third Paulette Goddard.

Cruiser Launched

[Associated Press Wirephoto.]

The Oklahoma City, a new cruiser, hitting water yesterday.

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 20 (AP).—A new light cruiser, the Oklahoma City, joined the nation's fast expanding navy today—first fighting craft to bear the name of the Sooner state capital.

And a few minutes after her yellow hull hit the Delaware river at the Cramp Shipbuilding company yards, with sirens screaming and a crowd of nearly 10,000 shipyard workers and guests cheering, the keel of a sister ship, the Galveston, was laid without ceremony in the same shipway.

The Oklahoma City is a member of the Cleveland class, which, according to the unofficial "Jane's Fighting Ships" consists of vessels which displace 10,000 tons, are 600 feet long and carry 12 six-inch and many smaller guns. Average cost of ships in the Cleveland class is $31,000,000.

SKETCHES SHOW 2 LIEUTENANTS IN PACIFIC ZONE

(Sketches on back page.)

Two air force officers, Lieutenants James Jay Goetz and Robert G. Gibson, are today's subjects of drawings by Gary Sheahan, Chicago Tribune staff artist who is sketching American fighters in the Southwest Pacific area.

Goetz, 35 and single, lived at 2811 Mildred av., Chicago, before joining the air forces, April 1, 1942. He attended Ohio State university in Columbus, and was a salesman for the National Biscuit company from 1937 until he went into the army.

Gibson, a native of Sioux City, Ia., worked there for three years after being graduated from the University of South Dakota in 1933. He came here in 1937 as an accountant for the Firestone Tire and Rubber company at 26 E. 16th st. and continued in that position until going into service May 7, 1941. While in Chicago, Gibson resided at 7950 Ellis av. He is 34.

"NEVER THOUGHT I'D BE REGULAR AGAIN!"

Cereal Brings Relief After Years of Dosing

Even if you have suffered for years don't lose hope. Read this happy experience!

"I'd had common constipation so bad, I knew something just had to be done. Finally, I tried KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN, and I was never so happy in my life as when I found I was joining the 'regulars' again. Because that was one club I never dreamed I'd be able to join." Mrs. Daisy Dean, Columbia, Tennessee.

How can ALL-BRAN'S amazing results be explained—when so many other methods fail? Scientists say it's because ALL-BRAN is a rich source of cellulosic elements—lack of which is a common cause of constipation. These special cellulosic elements help the intestinal flora fluff up and lighten the contents of the colon for easy, natural evacuation! KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN does not "sweep you out." Not a purgative! It's a gentle-acting, natural "regulating" food!

If this is your trouble eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly! Drink plenty of water! See if you, too, aren't amazed at the results! Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek!

ACE OF HEARTS DEATH CARD IN TAVERN KILLING

Clews Lacking in Lake County Mystery.

Lake county authorities were confronted yesterday with a mystery in the fatal shooting just before midnight Saturday of Anthony Rudaitis, 50, owner of the Clover inn, Green Bay rd. near Grand av., three miles west of Waukegan.

Rudaitis was slain by a shotgun blast as he sat alone in the neighborhood tavern, playing solitaire. An ace of hearts had fluttered from his hand to the floor, where it landed face up. Several other cards lay face down on the floor.

The shotgun charge, apparently fired from close range, tore into the victim's chest. No weapon was found in the tavern. Death, said Dr. Benjamin Lamery of Waukegan, was instantaneous.

Robbery Motive Discounted.

Dr. Lamery fixed the time of the shooting at about 11:50 p. m., 15 or 20 minutes before the body was discovered by a party of three youthful couples from Waukegan.

Police discounted robbery as a motive for the shooting when they found more than $100 in the cash register, a costly diamond ring on the dead man's finger, and a watch and roll of bills in his pocket.

Despite the fact that Rudaitis owned and operated the tavern for 10 years, little was known of his past life. Residents of the subdivision in which the tavern was located knew him only as a genial proprietor.

Part of Past Life Disclosed.

From Mrs. Josephine Pilkis, owner of a Chicago tavern at 6610 S. Western av., an acquaintance, investigators learned that Rudaitis had once operated a gasoline station on the south side, had been married, but divorced "10 or 12 years ago."

Mrs. Pilkis said that her late husband, a real estate agent, had sold Rudaitis the Waukegan property on which he built the tavern. Occasionally, she said, he dropped in at her own tavern, usually in the company of women.

Deputy Sheriff Stanley Christian said the only clew was two pairs of footprints in the snow, leading from the tavern about two blocks across a field to Crescent av., where they ended.

The tracks, he said, may have been left by Rudaitis' assailants, who had parked their car that distance from the tavern to prevent its being seen and possibly identified.

POLICE EXAMINE LIVES OF ALL IN DRAKE MYSTERY

A search into the backgrounds of all persons connected with Mrs. Frank Starr Williams, slain Jan. 19 in her room at the Drake hotel, was held out by police yesterday as the sole hope for learning the identity of the middle aged woman who shot Mrs. Williams, or what is equally mysterious, the motive for the crime.

A coroner's summons yesterday awaited service upon Mme. Marguerite Pick, 127 E. Chestnut st., a modiste who, police said, had made gowns for Mrs. Williams for many years.

Mme. Pick will be asked to appear March 3 at the inquest hearing at the county morgue. Identical summons were served Saturday on Pierre and Cecille Courtois, 10 W. Elm st., operators of Pierre and Paul's Beauty salon, visited by Mrs. Williams shortly before her death.

The three witnesses, Coroner Brodie said, will be asked to furnish whatever personal information they may know about the murder victim.

The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Delia Olson, 179-F Magnuson way, East Park, Bremerton, Wash.]

THE QUESTION.

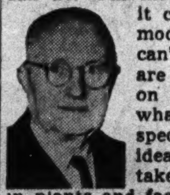
WHERE ASKED.

63d st. at Woodlawn.

THE ANSWERS.

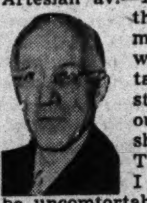


J. J. Enright, head clerk, 7446 Colfax av.—I'm modern enough when it comes to accepting modern fads but I can't see why there are women who insist on wearing slacks in what was once a respectable office. It's an idea the girls have taken up because girls in plants and factories do it, but I think it's a little too modern around an office.

John E. Joyce, clerk, 6410 Kenwood av.—The girls are always coming out with some new idea that looks strange at first. I can see no merit in those big loose sweaters they wear. The saddle shoes look comfortable but not so neat, and the wrap around head scarfs look rather foreign to me.

Ethel Clouston, mangler, 6[illegible] Ingleside av.—Maybe some people think the modern hats are good looking but I just can't get used to them. I rarely buy hats any more because I can't find any that come within my conception of a hat. I just wrap a scarf around my head and let it go at that.

Martin Riley, photographer, 6019 Dorchester av.—It doesn't seem as if I'm ever going to get used to seeing women put makeup on in public. It looks as out of place to me as it would be to see men shaving in public. I hope it's just one of the modern fads that women will soon forget.



W. J. Maypole, accountant, 6326 N. Artesian av.—There are not many things I consider too modern, especially when I can see advantages in it, but I am still trying to figure out why women wear shoes with no toes. They look funny and I am sure they must be uncomfortable. I stare at them every time I see them.

DIES IN GAS FILLED ROOM.

The body of Henry Mackaven, 78, of 1427 Walnut st., Des Plaines, was found in the gas filled kitchen of his cottage yesterday by his granddaughter's husband, Arthur E. Olson, 1184 Jeanette av., Des Plaines.

175 HUNT THEIR PROPERTY AMID BURGLARS' LOOT

The Gresham police station held "open house" yesterday as 175 persons filed thru the station to identify articles taken from their homes in 100 burglaries during the last eight months.

Mrs. E. R. Bernard, 9857 Hamilton av., saw a diamond glittering in the $8,000 pile of articles and pulled out and identified a $500 diamond studded wristwatch taken from her home.

Most of the loot came from a garage at 5153 Clark st., rented by two ex-convict members of a group of nine persons arrested after police caught three juveniles in an attempted robbery. The men are Glenn Barnard, 29, and William Behrens, 39, both of 4550 Magnolia av.

Guns Will Be Tested.

The men were unable to shed light on the 1942 slaying of Mrs. Lillian Galvin and her maid in their Evanston home. Ballistics tests of guns recovered will be made today, police said. Ten guns still missing from burglaries are sought. Five teen-age youths and two women were to be questioned further.

Detective John Collins ushered the burglary victims thru the station squad room where loot was spread out on two long tables in gift shop style. Included were jewelry, watches, typewriters, golf clubs, luggage, electric clocks, desk sets, fur coats, revolvers, knives, silverware, and radios.

Called a Sweeping Cleanup.

Capt. John A. Egan complimented policemen of his station for the arrests, terming it "the most sweeping cleanup of burglaries on the south side in recent years."

The older men have admitted robberies in territory ranging from Winnetka to Gary, Capt. Egan said, while the others held have operated mostly on the south side.

Vandals Splash Jewish Seminary in New York

Friend of the Yanks

[The Friend of the Yanks department will answer questions about the draft and military service, both in the daily columns and by mail, if stamped, self-addressed envelopes are sent with the queries.]

A. E. R. writes: "I have been employed for seven years as a salesman of finished steel products. Altho my experience has been primarily in sales work, I have had a good opportunity to become acquainted with all types of ferrous and nonferrous metals and have also had some experience in buying of used machinery and equipment. I have had one and a half years of college and I am 34 years old. Do I stand a chance for a commission in the navy?"

ANSWER: The navy has a billet as a material reclamations officer for which you might qualify. If your knowledge of metals and used machinery is sufficiently good, the navy may consider you for either a warrant officer or as a commissioned officer for duty in the reclamtion of scrap metal and used equipment. Why not seek an interview on the 3d floor, Board of Trade building, Chicago? We have the latest navy leaflet describing civilian experience which may qualify an applicant for a commission. It is available to any one sending us a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

E. B. writes: "My husband, who is 30 years old, lost his sense of smell eight years ago. Can you tell me if this defect will cause his rejection for army service?"

ANSWER: The defect is not covered in the regulations but it is more than likely disqualifying for general duty overseas. Your husband probably will be accepted for special assignment.

A. R. asks: "Is a soldier's insurance payable to his wife if she remarries?"

ANSWER: Yes, if she is still beneficiary when he dies.

S. C. N. asks: "Can my wife from whom I've been voluntarily separated since 1932, claim my mustering out pay? How long do I have to file?"

ANSWER: No. She could only file for it as a widow. Those leaving service since the passage of the bill receive pay or part of it when they leave service. Those who were discharged previous to the passage of the act have up to two years to file after leaving service.

P. M. writes: "My son was discharged from the army in June, 1941, on a medical discharge for a polynoidal cyst. Recently he had the cyst removed and he is now physically well. He is 23 and classified 4-F. Is it necessary for him to notify his local board of his operation?"

ANSWER: Yes. A registrant is required by law to notify his board of any condition or circumstance which might alter his status in being eligible for his classification. The operation possibly has rehabilitated him so that he is no longer eligible for the 4-F classification unless he is so declared as a result of a new physical examination.

C. E. C. writes: "My husband, who is now in the Seabees, served a hitch in the navy years ago and he has now been in the Seabees for two years and he wondered if longevity is figured on the basis of continuous service?"

ANSWER: No, longevity is computed on a cumulative basis of service. He should be drawing $5 in addition to his base pay for his previous hitch.

THE BARUCH REPORT.

The White House on Friday released a 30,000 word report on the industrial changeover from war to peace. The report was drawn under the direction of Bernard M. Baruch, head of war production in the last war, and park bench consultant of many officials in this one. He left the park to work on the proposals which have now been made public. Mr. Baruch has had the help of John Hancock, one of the principal partners of Lehman Brothers, an investment banking house.

The complete text of the report has not yet been studied in detail. Its main lines, however, appear clear. They include speedy, fair, and final settlement on uncompleted war contracts thru negotiations between contractors and government departments; an immediate beginning of the disposition of surplus war materials, and prompt disposal of what remains after the war ends; and government loans to help reconversion.

Several new government agencies are to be created. Among them there would be a work director to find jobs for soldiers, sailors, and war workers, and a surplus property administrator. Designing and engineering work on a lot of worth-while public projects is to be completed before the war ends. Besides all this the report calls for the immediate enactment of a tax law which is to go into effect after the war and the extension of the period of the government's war powers over prices, priorities, allocations, and requisitioning.

The Baruch report is the first comprehensive treatment of post-war readjustment, but that is far from saying that the subject has been neglected by government agencies. There has, in fact, been an open season on post-war planning at Washington ever since the war started. The war production board has given out statements from time to time about plans it was making for post-war reconversion. The office of civilian requirements has been heard from on the same subject. The army, navy, and maritime commission have had men working along similar lines. On Capitol hill, Sen. George is head of a committee whose plans for reconversion are so far along that they will be submitted to the senate late this month. And there is a committee in the house of similar nature, which recently has been trying to engage Mr. Baruch as its expert.

The confused situation might have been clarified somewhat if, in releasing the Baruch report, the White House had said to just what extent Mr. Baruch was speaking for the administration. On that score there appears to be some doubt.

Thoughtful men will find much in the report to approve. The part of the program to which most exception will be taken is that providing for the continuation of controls after the war. Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Byrnes did not object to this plank, we can be sure. The prompt termination of contracts and early settlement of claims under them on an equitable basis are good sense, and necessary if private business is to provide the post-war jobs. The war plants other than those to be retained as permanent arsenals should be disposed of to the highest bidder, and war materials should be sold on the same basis.

A public works program may be useful. It depends upon its scope and how it is run. The principal difficulty is that the post-war public building is likely to get going about the time that a post-war boom in civilian goods is developing. If so, the government will provide jobs only after they have already become more plentiful, thus laying the basis of a succeeding depression.

But the biggest question in reconversion is who is going to administer it. If Mr. Roosevelt and his radical associates are to be in charge, the Baruch plan will mean what our wilful President wants it to mean. The Baruch plan will really be a "blueprint for post-war reconversion to take the government out of business and industry after the war" only if a Republican President is elected in November.

THE UNION VS. UNION NOW.

A number of readers have asked us why we gave so much space a week ago Sunday to the publication of the letter from Mr. Clarence Streit, the Union Now man. The answer is that the letter was interesting and provocative.

Mr. Streit argued that his plan of a federal union of the United States with the so-called western democracies is preferable to an alternative that we had suggested of the admission of England, Scotland, Wales, and the rest of them to our Union as states. Mr. Streit found some weighty objections to our proposal, chief among them being the tremendous influence which a state as heavily populated as England would have in our government and politics. We can think of a lot of other objections that he didn't mention, but we still believe that if a choice had to be made [which, happily it doesn't] between his plan and ours, ours is better.

The fundamental weakness in his scheme is the assumption that Britain is a democracy in the sense in which we commonly use the word. In fact, it is a monarchy and the headquarters of an empire. Compared to ours, its society is rigidly stratified. It has its titled aristocracy with their special privileges. It puts people in jail without trial and keeps them there. It suspends elections. Two peoples with such differing traditions and such diverse governmental institutions could not live together harmoniously in a federal union.

Varying social institutions played a profound part in bringing on our war of independence, and these differences have not diminished over the intervening years. Meanwhile in the Civil war we went thru the agony of reuniting a house divided against itself. Plainly, we have nothing to gain by inviting a repetition of these experiences if they can be avoided, as they can be.

The great merit of our proposal as against Mr. Streit's is that ours requires, as a condition of union, that the British give up their king, their aristocratic institutions, and the other trappings of monarchy. He doesn't ask for these changes because he knows the British won't comply. We know that, too, and, in addition, we know that if they don't, there is no basis on which a lasting union of the two peoples can be achieved.

ACTION AT TRUK.

Our fleet's assault on Truk demonstrated bold strategic thinking and capable staff work. Within 10 days after we secured Kwajalein we had moved more than 1,000 miles beyond the Marshalls to strike at what is probably the strongest enemy fortress outside the Japanese home islands.

The Japanese are discovering the weakness in their so-called unsinkable aircraft carriers, the island air bases. They can't dodge. An air field is a mile long and it is easy, when attacking bombers can get to it, to make it unusable for an appreciable length of time. Such bombings are particularly effective if the defenders rely on hand labor for reconstruction, as the Japs seem to do.

Once air fields are neutralized, enemy air strength is grounded. That leaves only the Japanese fleet to defend the surrounding waters. Perhaps not next week, nor next month, but surely some time soon, the Japanese main fleet must either accept the battle that our navy offers so eagerly, or see us whittle away, a fortress at a time, the barriers that stand between our bombers and Tokio.

Troops have found no more stubborn nor bloody fighting anywhere in the world than in the ground assaults necessary to take the Jap strongholds, but the Pacific war is still basically a naval one. The troops cannot engage until the navy gets them there, protects their line of supplies and, as in the Marshalls, lends its guns to the assault.

The war in Europe, by contrast, has become an army and air war. The French and Italian fleets are in allied hands. The German navy is virtually destroyed. The arduous labor of convoying remains, but that is done most efficiently by small craft. Yet while we have sent the preponderance of our land and aviation components that have gone overseas to the European land and air war, the United States fleet is fighting the naval war in the Pacific single handed.

It would be easy for a large part of the British navy to join ours in the Pacific, repaying the great sacrifices we have made to clear the Mediterranean for Great Britain and protect the home island from invasion. With the naval preponderance that the combined fleets would afford, the Japanese empire would collapse as quickly as it expanded two years ago, leaving the Nazi problem to be liquidated by a world undistracted by other conflicts.

RAILROAD OR AIRPLANE?

To hear some people tell it the railroads haven't a chance after the war, particularly in the passenger business. If the airplanes don't take all of it, they will get the best of it and the poor old railroads will languish.

Maybe that's the way it will go, but nobody can be too sure of it. Certainly if the railroads are alive to their opportunities, they can continue to operate cross-country passenger trains at a profit for a long time to come.

The airplane is faster, but the advantage of its higher speed can be largely overcome by faster trains. If schedules are arranged which permit a departure from Chicago at the dinner hour and arrival in New York, Washington, New Orleans, Denver, or Montreal in time for 9 o'clock appointments, there will be little advantage in taking a plane. The traveler will lose no working time this way and he will make his journey in greater comfort than the planes are likely to provide. As to safety, we may expect a considerable improvement in air transport over the pre-war accomplishment, but, even so, the advantage is likely to remain with the railroad for a long time to come.

Of course, the railroads will lose out if they don't fight for passenger business. Faster trains will require some changes in the rights of way, particularly at the curves, which must be made more gradual. Additional safety controls will be needed. A great deal of new equipment will be called for, but, fortunately for the railroads, they have now had much experience in the operation of streamliners and can build on that. We may well see nonstop operations between Chicago and New York, for example, and the by-passing of the intervening terminals. With Diesel-electric locomotives there will be no need to stop to change engines.

Some of these innovations will cost money and will require a good deal of planning. No doubt the traditionalists in the railroad business will resist, but their opposition will have to be overcome if the airplane is not to win by default.

HOW TO LIVE FOREVER.

In the momentary absence of the commanding officer of this division, who is planning his life 40 years in advance and has recently purchased a new hat, we have been doing a bit of research in the lore of longevity and have found the prospect encouraging to all who, for reasons best known to themselves, may be desirous of sticking around for the next two or three world wars.

The formula proposed by Aldous Huxley's Dr. Obispo, whether based on science or on sciolism, calls for a raw fish diet which a gourmet could accept only with reluctance [unless in capsule form].

In the Encyclopedia Britannica, however [formerly published by Sears, Roebuck & Co., now by the University of Chicago Press], a simpler and more pleasing plan is suggested by Sir Humphry Davy Rolleston, physician-in-ordinary to the king.

He points out that "the majority of centenarians have been small eaters," and cites the Montaigne aphorism that "Man does not die, he kills himself," and the proverb, "You dig your grave with your teeth."

An extension of this idea happily suggests that Americans today are perhaps prolonging their lives in proportion as they export food instead of eating it, and might win a war by the device of underfeeding themselves and overfeeding the enemy.

A possibility of error in such strategy, however, seems indicated by Sir Humphry himself when he contemplates the brief terrestrial career of the imago of the Ephemerid, a frivolous insect which dies after only an hour or two of "aerial life devoted to love," and does not stay to dinner at all; whereas the gluttonous tortoise lives for a century or more.

AT THE UNION STATION.

A recent mother, babe in arms,
To meet her soldier boy;
A dainty maid, with tinted charms,
To meet her soldier boy;
A gray-haired father with his pipe,
To meet his soldier boy;
A gilded dame (you know the type),
To grab a soldier boy.
The aunts and grandmas come along
And wait amongst the motley throng.
There are anticipated joys
For those who come to meet their boys;
But they are not so very gay
Who come to see their boys go 'way.

Sales Resistance, War Time Style.

A house-to-house salesman rang the bell of the big house on the corner, advanced his trained foot, and waited expectantly. He didn't have to wait long until the door banged open.

"I have here . . ." automatically began the salesman.

"Never mind what you have," interrupted the lady of the house, grabbing him by the arm and yanking him inside. "Let's have a look at it."

"I have here," resumed the salesman, "a combination, automatic, revolving cheese grater, scroll saw, and hair comber . . . it is the sweetest little collection of widgets and wudgets, tippets and tuppets ever assembled into one startling mechanism . . . it is equipped with gold gimmicks, jewel-studded jiggers, and may be operated by remote control from any room in the . . ."

"Never mind the spiel," again interrupted the lady. "Give me five of them."

"I'm sorry, my good friend," replied the salesman, "this is just a salesman's sample. We will not be able to make deliveries until nine months after the end of the war, and then . . ."

That did it! First she blacked both of his eyes and knocked out seven teeth. Then she tossed him out into the street thru the bay window. She was going outside to finish him off when a policeman interrupted the proceedings and took them both to the station house.

There the salesman painfully explained the reason for the attack. The desk sergeant was very sympathetic until he found that even he couldn't buy a combination, automatic, revolving cheese grater, etc., until after the war. Then he broke the salesman's remaining good leg, booked him for disorderly conduct, mayhem, and arson, and threw him into a cell reserved for panhandlers and inebriates.

So would he prefer we forget present cares,
And dwell on the day he'll come up the stairs. . . .
Perhaps not the same, taking "two at a time,"
And singing the length of a two-flight climb,
For he's older, and sobered by war time blight,
Yet light up the candles. Faith, too, is bright.
It may be he's changed (war favors re-styling),
But this is for certain: He will come up smiling!

CARBON DIOXIDE FOR PERSISTENT HICCUPS.

Most of us know how to drive away the average attack of hiccup. We drink nine swallows of water without taking a breath or inhale deeply and—with the chest fully expanded—count to 10 slowly before we let go. Breathing into a paper bag held snugly over the mouth is a favorite device of many.

But there are seizures which are extremely annoying if not dangerous. The manifestation is so distressing to the victim, so upsetting to the members of the family, that considerable alarm may be occasioned. It is important, therefore, that the symptom shall be controled promptly, as nervous fatigue may react badly upon the patient.

The cause ordinarily is some irritation of the diaphragm, which reflexly affects the phrenic nerve. Occasionally the primary impulse comes from the spinal cord. The disorder is likely to appear subsequent to surgery and is a dreaded complication. If it persists for 30 minutes or longer, a vociferous call for help may be sounded.

There is no specific curative drug, altho peppermint water or a teaspoonful or two of brandy may be followed by belching and hence relief. Sedatives, for the most part, are ineffective.

When confronted with an intractable case hospital care is indicated. The most valuable plan seems to be to pass an aspiration tube into the stomach in order to prevent possible dilatation of the gastric pouch. Thereafter the patient is allowed to breathe 5 per cent carbon dioxide. The mask is placed closely over the face and inhalation is continued until the sufferer gives signs of discomfort. This will usually come within five to 10 minutes. As a rule the result is complete cessation of all "hicking." If it begins again, the gas mixture is readministered at intervals.

Yes, successful shortcuts have been reported. For example, amelioration has been brought about by pushing the base of the tongue forward forcefully. This may be accomplished by means of a teaspoon or a tongue depressor. Another procedure—namely, the intravenous injection of calcium gluconate—has been attended with excellent results. If these methods fail to accomplish the purpose, we may have recourse to the carbon dioxide tank.

In rare instances, if the patient does not respond to simpler measures, it will be necessary to crush or anesthetize the phrenic nerve within the neck. While this is not a formidable operation, it must be carried out with great skill. For the time being, the diaphragm is rendered useless on one side.

Of course, it is always well to check the blood and the urine as now and then an oncoming uremia will demand correction. In such circumstances, as soon as the output of urine is restored to normal, all will be well.

TALL GIRL.

L. A. writes: My 15 year old daughter is now 5 feet 11 inches tall. Do you think she will grow any more?

REPLY.

The answer lies with her pituitary gland, which controls the situation. The chances are that further increase in height will be minimal.

SKIN IRRITATION.

M. L. writes: What makes the area around my eyelids dry and flaky?

REPLY.

Usually allergy or sensitivity. A cosmetic, an article of diet, or some substance which you contact may be at fault.

NO SUBSTITUTE.

A. R. writes: Is there any food that will take the place of a steak—that is, vegetables or cereals?

REPLY.

The various meats, fish, and fowl supply a type of protein which the body needs. Vegetables and grains are excellent but not quite equivalent.

POOR CIRCULATION.

B. G. writes: If circulation is below par in a person 25 pounds overweight, will reducing help the situation?

REPLY.

By all means. This will relieve the circulation of the task of supplying nutriment to many unneeded pounds.

RHEUMATIC FEVER.

Mrs. T. S. writes: 1. What are the symptoms of rheumatic fever? 2. Can it be contracted by a 3 year old child?

REPLY.

1. Fever, accompanied by pain, tenderness, redness, and swelling of the joints. 2. Yes.

BROKEN TOOTH.

Mrs. C. writes. My 10 year old daughter met with a skating accident in which she broke off half a tooth. What can be done?

REPLY.

Look forward to capping some day. Let your dentist decide when.

800 Words Fail Me.

Feeling that every one should be cognizant of the good things in store for the world, this department recently took up the study of Basic English, all 800 words of it. The woeful conclusion of this writer is that if the world resorts to Basic English, the world will cease to exist. One good reason for this is that Basic English omits the word "world."

If Basic English has its way, the earth will be peopled by a governless, atheistic society, for it contains neither the words president, king, prince, prelate, priest, politician, premier, and dictator, nor any word for the Supreme Being. It also ignores the word society. The only Basic English word relevant to government, other than government itself, is tax, and as none of the 800 words can be thrown together to form the phrase "Taxed to capacity," which we are sure to be, that is out, too.

However, the principal reason for the foredoom of Basic English is that it ignores the basic clichés in the English language, and the country without clichés shall never perish from this earth. People and politicians would be mute without them. To give you an idea [Note: Words omitted in Basic English are italicized]:

With Basic English we can have peace, but never peace with honor. We can never have honor. We can never have a power behind the throne. We can never say: "If the truth were known." We can not even make the world a better place to live in.

We cannot cast pearls before swine, burn the midnight oil, bury the hatchet, or bless one's lucky stars. We cannot bless, nor can God. We can never take the bull by the horns, time by its forelock, or a woman to one's bosom. We cannot keep a civil tongue in our heads, a stiff upper lip, or the wolf from the door. [There will be no wolves!]

We cannot thank from the bottom of our heart. We cannot thank at all. We cannot seek a virtuous couch, or any couch, or any virtue. We cannot seek. Nor can we find. We cannot kill two birds with one stone. We cannot kill. We cannot be on the fence. We cannot wake the dead. We cannot wake ourselves. We cannot welcome with open arms. We cannot welcome.

We cannot speak of our own flesh and blood. We cannot acknowledge the flesh. We cannot turn an honest penny or an honest anything. We cannot be honest. We cannot sell our birthright for a mess of pottage. The race will never be to the swift. There will be no race. There will be no swift. There will be none of this talk about survival of the fittest. None will be fit to survive.

We cannot strike while the iron is hot. We cannot strike. We cannot have tongue in cheek. We cannot have cheek. Neither we nor our antecedents can turn in one's grave. Neither can we be buried or cremated. Just dead. We cannot suffer the tortures of the dammed, give the devil his due, cut off our noses to spite our faces, or come to the end of our tethers. Not even the end of our ropes.

No one can wash, or accuse others of washing, dirty linen in public. No one will have or be a public. No one will even have a republic. We will have legs to stand on, but no pegs to hang on, no strings to pull, no own horns to toot or trumpets to blow, no storms to weather, no crosses to bear.

No one will be able to upset the applecart, to twist some one around his little finger, to stem the tide, to rack his brain, to strike while the iron is hot, to tighten his belt, to tilt with windmills, to hear a pin drop, to hold a candle to, to spy out the land, to temper the wind to the shorn lamb. No spies, no tempers, no lambs.

We will never have master minds, or even masters, in Basic English. We will never know the naked truth, halcyon days, or the lap of luxury. We will never be able to write a column, speak the king's English, or even say words fail me, but they certainly do,

G. I. JOES ON LABOR CONSCRIPTION.

SOMEWHERE IN ENGLAND, Jan. 28.—We, the undersigned, are writing this letter in hope of conveying our opinion on conscription of women in the United States.

At present we are "Somewhere in England" fighting to preserve the way of freedom.

We feel this bill is defeating the purpose for which we are fighting, that is—to preserve our homes and loved ones. If wives, sweethearts, and mothers are forced to move to locations near their conscripted jobs, where will the homes we are supposed to come home to be? We feel it is unnecessary and un-American. A large number of women are at present employed in essential war work, which is as it should be. But to conscript them, would be reducing the country to a state of slavery.

TWEEDLEDUM AND TWEEDLEDEE.

Kirkwood, Mo., Feb. 10.—We read where Mr. Roosevelt agrees with Mr. Willkie's tax ideas. Well, that is only natural for I recall in the campaign of 1940 Mr. Willkie agreed with Mr. Roosevelt on almost everything.

T. F. Perie.

WILLKIE PUN.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 16.—Wendell Willkie has selected Mr. Cake as his convention campaign manager. Not a bad idea that. If we are expected to swallow another big dose of "campaign oratory" a bit of cake might make it more palatable. H. R. F.

APOSTLE OF DISUNITY.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 15.—Vice President Wallace, who is paid by the taxpayers to preside over the senate and do the other duties of his high office, absents himself from Washington in order to make a series of unfortunate speeches in the west, which augment the disunity among our people.

In these speeches Mr. Wallace puts us on notice that not the whole of the "Russian political and economic system is to be set up in the United States." He implies that most of it will, if he can have his way. Recently, a high official in Washington resigned his office, charging that a number of plotters, chief among whom is Henry Wallace, are bent on sovietizing this nation.

Mr. Wallace charges that Wall street is seeking to foist fascism on our country. In this "Wall Street" is used for our large business men as a class. Using the trick of cowardly demagogry, Wallace does not name a single person as being an advocate of fascism. Mr. Wallace should be more certain and definite, but he knows that he would probably break the laws against slander and libel if he did so. If he were a courageous man, he would name the persons in this country who are trying to bring on fascism, so that they could be indicted and convicted of treason.

Every intelligent, good citizen of our country is mortified at such antics on the part of Wallace. He will not be reelected to the Vice Presidency, and, were he to run for dog catcher no ward in any of our cities or towns would vote for him.

Rembert Gilman Smith.

WORTHWHILE ENDOWMENTS.

Chicago, Feb. 15.—That was an interesting article in The Tribune Sunday about the National Music council survey concerning state and municipal contributions to music activities. Doubtless some cities are missing from the list of municipalities making appropriations for public music because such public benefit has been provided by private enterprise. Cincinnati, O., could readily be an instance of this sort. Generations ago Saturday afternoon band concerts were established on a permanent basis, in Burnet Woods park, under the Groesbeck endowment fund, with like benefit being established later in Eden park on Sunday afternoons under the Schmidlap endowment fund. What a rich investment for a man of wealth to thus perpetuate his memory thru delightful public concerts!

RIGHT TO ESTATE.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Feb. 6.—[Legal Friend of the People].—If a man dies leaving a second wife and two children by his first wife, [1] what does the Indiana law allow the wife? 2. Are war bonds personal property? 3. Can wife dispose of any personal property given to her for duration of her life? 4. How long can administrator take to settle the will if it is accepted?

C. S.

1. Depends on the size of the estate.
2. Yes.
3. If you are right in your assumption that her interest is only "for duration of her life" it follows that she cannot give a greater interest to any other person. We cannot pass upon your assumption without having the full wording of the will.

BENSON ASSERTS SWEDES DISLIKE NEW DEAL WASTE

G. O. P. Candidate Opens County Campaign.

Swedish thrift and enterprise were praised as the antithesis of New Deal waste and extravagance by State Sen. Arnold P. Benson, regular Republican candidate for secretary of state, before more than 400 members and guests of the Swedish American club at its annual herring breakfast yesterday morning in the Svithiod Singing club, 624 Wrightwood av.

"We of Swedish descent, and certainly I for one have nothing in common with New Dealers," Benson said. "Against the Swedish characteristic of thrift, the New Dealers poise bottomless extravagance.

"Floating in the Clouds."

"Where we Swedes are noted for keeping our feet on the ground, the New Dealers are floating in the clouds without a compass.

"Where our Scandinavian inheritance teaches us hard work and production the New Dealers teach boondoggling and the plowing under of God's goods."

Honored guests at the breakfast, which marked the opening of Benson's Cook county campaign, also included Gov. Green, Atty. Gen. Barrett, State Chairman Ben Berve and County Chairman John T. Dempsey, who is a candidate for state's attorney.

Nephew Present with Green.

Accompanying Gov. Green was his nephew, Lt. Comdr. Robert D. Shearer of 1327 Sherwin av., a PT boat commander who recently returned to the United States after 18 months of service in the Solomons.

After the breakfast, which included 16 different kinds of pickled herring and other Swedish delicacies, an entertainment program was given. It featured vocal numbers by the singing club's male chorus of 45 voices and dances by girls in native costumes.

ANTI-NEW DEAL UNIT BACKS ELY FOR PRESIDENT

Boston, Mass., Feb. 20 (AP).- A slate of district delegates, pledged to former Massachusetts Governor Joseph B. Ely for President, will appear on the Democratic ballot in the Presidential primaries April 25, a group of anti-administration Democrats announced tonight.

Ely, however, declined to say he was a candidate. He said he had authorized use of his name for pledging of candidates for district delegate.

"Every one knows my position—I don't believe in a fourth term," Ely said. "I didn't believe in the third term. I'm a Jeffersonian Democrat, and I can't change."

Ely, who was governor of Massachusetts for two terms, 1931 to 1935, made the nominating speech for Al Smith at the 1932 Democratic convention.

Woodring Group Meets.

New York, Feb. 20 (AP).—Harry H. Woodring, a leader of a group of anti-administration Democrats who formed the American Democratic national committee in Chicago, arrived here today for a series of conferences with political leaders, whose support he hopes to obtain for a movement to oppose a fourth term for President Roosevelt. Woodring said conferees would come from states bordering New York, as well as from the middle Atlantic and south Atlantic areas.

SMITH ASSAILS POLITICAL HOPES OF ELEANOR, FDR

Fears Possibility of Postponed Election.

America's gravest problem this fall will not be who will be elected President, but whether there will be an election, Gerald L. K. Smith, director of the America First party, asserted last night.

Smith spoke before a capacity audience at Curtiss hall, 410 S. Michigan av., at which Mrs. Ernest Lundeen, widow of the late senator from Minnesota, also spoke.

Discussing the possibility of a postponed election—which he said was far from being an idle fear—Smith said that if it came to pass, "you can kiss your republic goodby."

Assails Both Roosevelts.

"Never in history has anything equalled the political ambitions of Franklin and Eleanor Roosevelt," the speaker said. He told his audience that if our liberties are preserved, the nation can count on the fingers of two hands the men to whom it was indebted for the preservation of that liberty.

Smith rebuked the affiliation with the Communist party of high officials in the New Deal. "Some people claim that the Communist party in America has committed hara-kiri," he said.

"I really believe that. Why should Stalin mess around with a bunch of 'Commies' when he has men like Vice President Wallace and Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter?"

Makes Demands on G. O. P.

Smith asserted that the America First party had made a number of demands upon the Republican party, at least one of which had been met — that the national convention be held in a midwestern city.

"But if the Republicans double cross us and give us Willkie, I would rather form a third party and poll only 100,000 votes than be associated with a Roosevelt stooge."

Mrs. Lundeen told the gathering that there were approximately 580,000 European refugees in the United States "living in comfort and even luxury, while our boys are fighting and being killed in their countries."

She charged that Churchill, a strong English nationalist, "played Roosevelt like a piano. Whatever Churchill asked for, Roosevelt gave him."

MOTHER AND DAD SEE PHOTOS OF SONS IN TRIBUNE

Frank L. Svoboda, 1801 W. 47th st., recognized his son, Frank A. Svoboda, 21, in a picture of a group of 5th army soldiers in Italy. It appeared in the picture section of THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE. Svoboda has been in the army 11 months, his father said. The family received a letter from him three weeks ago. The elder Svoboda is a steamfitter at the Studebaker plant.

A picture of Pvt. Edward Rake, 21, of 740 W. 48th pl., published in THE SUNDAY TRIBUNE, was recognized by his mother, Mrs. Jenny Rake. He was with a group of 5th army soldiers on a truck in Italy. Before entering the army, Pvt. Rake was a baker.

Thief Takes Manuscript Dealing with Aid for Vets

Theft of a brief case containing personal papers and valuable manuscript material from a drug store at Austin blvd. and Roosevelt rd. was reported to Fillmore street police yesterday by Don Terrio, writer and public relations employe of the Illinois Bell Telephone company. Terrio, who lives at 815 S. Grove av., Oak Park, said the manuscript dealt with rehabilitation work for wounded war veterans.

P. DRYMALSKI, LONG POWERFUL DEMOCRAT, DIES

Coal Dealer and Father of City Treasurer.

Paul Drymalski, 66, coal merchant and father of Raymond P. Drymalski, Chicago city treasurer, died yesterday in Evanston hospital where he had been a patient for two weeks.

Paul Drymalski.

Mr. Drymalski, who lived at 3650 N. Harding av., had been ill for more than a year. In March, 1943, he withdrew as the Democratic nominee for city treasurer because of his health, and his son was named to replace him.

Knighted by the Pope.

A resident of Chicago since childhood, he established the Polonia Coal company in 1898 and served four years as director of the Coal Merchants' association. He devoted much of his time to Polish civic affairs and to Catholic charities. The pope appointed him a knight of the order of St. Gregory in 1934.

Mr. Drymalski was a force in county and city Democratic politics for more than 30 years. Mayor Carter H. Harrison appointed him a member of the small parks board in 1911, and he held the post three years.

Named Member of School Board.

Mayor Kelly appointed him to the board of education in 1933, and two years later he became a member of the county board of tax appeals, on which he served until last year, when he was not a candidate for reëlection.

The funeral of Mr. Drymalski will be held at 9:15 a. m. Wednesday from the chapel at 834 Ashland av. to St. Wenceslaus church, 3650 Roscoe st.

He is survived by his widow, Susan, and two other sons, Sgt. Alvin of the army, and George.

SALE OF BONDS TO INDIVIDUALS STILL LAGGING

As the sale of war bonds to individuals in the fourth war loan drive went into its final week today, Frank McNair, chairman of the drive in Chicago and Cook county, urged a brisk finish to boost lagging sales. Only six days remain in the campaign.

Sales to individuals totaled $147,424,000, only 58 per cent of the quota, on Saturday, the latest figures available. This was slightly below the national average, McNair said. Purchases must be made not later than next Saturday night to be processed thru the Federal Reserve bank by Feb. 29, the closing day of the drive.

Total sales for this area, including those to corporations, reached $842,963,000 on Saturday. This is 117 per cent of the quota, but a better showing in individual sales is hoped for, McNair said.

A feature of the drive today will be opening of a color display of CHICAGO TRIBUNE comic strips, urging bond purchases, and photographs of the cartoonists, at Treasury Center, 72 W. Adams street. Three of the artists, Carl Ed, Chester Gould, and Stanley Link, will appear there at noon.

He is survived by his widow, Gladys, seven daughters, and three sons. Services will be held at 2 p. m. Wednesday in Woodlawn Masonic temple, 6331 University av.

MAN, 65, DIES NEAR HOME.

Albert Meyer, 65, of 7158 Yates av., retired salesman, died of a heart attack yesterday in front of 7150 Yates av.

FAMILY MOURNS WITH FRIENDS FOR SKIDMORE

In death, as in life, there was little that was apparent yesterday to associate William R. [Billy] Skidmore with the gambling and political world in which he was a figure for nearly 50 years. His body rested in the funeral chapel at 2701 N. Clark st., brought there from the federal penitentiary in Terre Haute, Ind., where he died Friday when nearing the end of a two and a half year term for evading income tax payments.

The small room at the rear of the chapel, where the casket was placed, was occupied only by a dozen members of Skidmore's family and family friends. His widow, Ethel; his three sisters, and Atty. William Goldstein were there.

The expensive casket of dark wood was covered with a blanket of red roses and white carnations. There were only four or five other floral pieces, all small.

Christian Science services will be held at 3 p. m. today in the chapel.

JESSE J. RICKS, UNION CARBIDE EXECUTIVE, DIES

Plandome, N. Y., Feb. 20 [Special].—Jesse Jay Ricks, 64, chairman of the Union Carbide and Carbon corporation, which he helped organize in 1917, died in his home here today. He was born in Taylorville, Ill., and practiced law in Chicago for 14 years before joining Union Carbide and Carbon as chief counsel.

Jesse Jay Ricks.

He was president of Union Carbide and Carbon from 1925 to 1941, when he was elected chairman. In addition to his industrial activities he was known for his interest in music, book collecting, and natural history, particularly bird life.

Services will be held here Wednesday. Among survivors is Mrs. A. R. Houser of Chicago, a sister.

PUT WASHINGTON PORTRAITS ON EXHIBITION HERE

Visitors to the Chicago Historical society this week will view an outstanding collection of portraits of George Washington, as well as a number of articles owned by Washington. The exhibit is part of the celebration tomorrow of Washington's 212th birthday. In the exhibition is the Louis XVI. clock presented to the first President of the United States by Frederick the Great of Prussia. The clock still keeps perfect time.

The museum in Lincoln park will be open to the public from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. tomorrow with admission free.

Other items include a razor Washington presented to the Marquis de Lafayette. The razor recently was presented to the society by Mrs. James Hamilton Lewis, widow of the Illinois senator.

Washington's Birthday Party Brings Sisters and Best Girls on Visit to Northwestern Military and Naval Academy

Sisters and best girls of cadets at the Northwestern Military and Naval academy as well as their parents made a day long trip to the school near Walworth, Wis., on Saturday for the traditional Washington's birthday anniversary celebration. A special train was used for the trip. Among those who enjoyed the occasion were, left: Cadet Robert Clare, son of the Earl P. Clares, and Patricia Day, daughter of the Herschell G. Days, both of Arlington Heights. Second from left: Marjorie Stockenberg, daughter of the Ruben A. Stockenbergs, and Cadet Robert D. Keagy, son of the Martin Keagys, both of Evanston. Second from right: Janet Clark, daughter of the H. Grant Clarks, and Cadet Capt. Ellsworth Mills II., son of the Ellsworth Millses, both of Highland Park. Right: Joanne Prio, 6, and her brother, Cadet Ross Prio Jr., children of the Ross Prios of Chicago. [TRIBUNE Photos.]

Elizabeth Cowles' Engagement to Lt. Lester Armour Jr. Is Told

BY JUDITH CASS.

AT a small tea yesterday at home in Lake Forest, Mr. and Mrs. Knight C. Cowles announced the engagement of their daughter, Elizabeth Cheney, to Lt. Lester Armour Jr., of the army air forces, son of Lt. Comdr. and Mrs. Armour. Lt. Armour, who was present to receive congratulations with his pretty fiancée, left later for Utah, where he is assigned to an air force base. The young flyer recently was awarded an oak leaf cluster to the air medal for taking part in the bombing of the Kurile Islands in northern Japan. He also took part in the Aleutians campaign.

Miss Cowles is a graduate of the Ethel Walker school and last year received her two year diploma from Sarah Lawrence college. This winter she is an assistant coach at the Winter club in Lake Forest. Lt. Armour, a graduate of St. Marks school, left Yale in his sophomore year to enter the air forces. He is a grandson of Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine. His father is serving overseas.

Other Engagements.

Mrs. Carlton E. Johnson of Glenview and G. Houston Payne of Baltimore, Md., announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Alice Hilton Payne, to Aviation Cadet Robert Stone Kincheloe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel C. Kincheloe of Dorchester av. Miss Payne, a niece of W. Homer Hartz, attended schools in Baltimore and Evanston. Cadet Kincheloe attended the University of Chicago, and will be graduated from advanced flying training at Altus, Okla., in April, when the wedding will take place.

Mrs. F. Harold Pulfer entertained at a family luncheon party at home yesterday in Winnetka to celebrate the announcement of the engagement of her daughter, Patricia Hadley, to John Bowen Palenske, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Reinhold H. Palenske, of Wilmette. Mr. Palenske was present, wearing the insignia of a petty officer third class. He has just completed boot training.

Miss Pulfer attended the North Shore Country Day school, New Trier High school, and Northwestern university, and has been employed at Great Lakes. Mr. Palenske was graduated from New Trier and attended Washington and Lee university. During the afternoon yesterday Mrs. Pulfer held open house for the young friends of her daughter and Mr. Palenske.

Mrs. Robert G. Becker of the Ambassador East hotel has announced the engagement of her daughter, Jeanne Louise, to Dr. Edward Colman Frank, lieutenant, junior grade, in the navy medical corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Frank of Detroit. The wedding will take place next Monday at the Ambassador East.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Ernest of Oneonta, N. Y., announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth,

White Collar GIRL

BY RUTH MAC KAY

Disillusionment.

"Life is real and life is earnest,"
Said a poet long ago.
Who was I to doubt his wisdom,
For a poet ought to know.
So, I practiced being earnest,
Typing letters by the stacks;
How I worked at being earnest—
Never once did I relax!
Came a glamor girl one morning,
With a giggle pitched high C.
Chats and gold bricks until lunch time,
Goes out afternoons to tea.
Came the day of sad awakening—
[Phooey on a poet's joke!]—
When I learned her salary topped mine. . . .
Let's go out and have a coke.

M. M. B.

Observation.

Many W. C. G.'s address mail to various cities and states constantly. We are curious about their powers of observation — do they know that the names of 18 states end with the same letter? Which states and what letter? JOHN FAHRNER JR.

We Can Live Without Them.

A reader asks if this column has a list of stilted, obsolete business phrases. Offhand, these come to mind:

"Yours received . . ."

"In reply would state . . ."

"Thanking you for an early reply . . ."

"Yours of the 14th inst."

"Thanking you for past favors . . ."

"Wish to state . . ."

"Please be advised . . ."

From there on you can write your own ticket. The object of all business correspondence is a lucid, concrete communication between two individuals or two firms to bring about a desired result. How far would you get with a business prospect if you met him for lunch and began this way:

"Delighted to be of service on this Feb. 21st. Hope this finds you enjoying good health, etc. In re: this menu—if your order is not delivered in due time please communicate with our Chicago branch office. On the recommendation of our purchasing department we suggest that you consider the possibilities of ham and eggs."

Think what a relief it would be to hear the waiter bawl out to the chef, "Ham and eggs!"

The answer is: Write as you speak, in more detail, perhaps, for the sake of references, but, nevertheless, write in the natural, conversational tone. Say "We're glad to hear from you" instead of "Yours of the 14th inst."

Efrem Zimbalist's Violin Sings Without Flaw and Without Fire

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

Efrem Zimbalist returned to Orchestra hall yesterday afternoon to play a calm and correct recital which was neither prismatic nor colorless, but held within a sober range of the quieter violin hues. Mr. Zimbalist plays easily and accurately, with a slender, penetrating tone of unusual purity, and he declines to get excited about music. Few sparks fly from his violin, and few bravos are wrenched from his audience, but he can spin out sound of unblemished delicacy, and he can negotiate passage work so clear it would remain immaculate under a microscope.

He chooses strange programs. Yesterday's, for instance, opened with a Cimarosa Concerto arranged by Arthur Benjamin, an Australian composer who was a captured flyer in World War I. Easy to listen to and hard to remember, it has a certain lyric charm, but it lacks the bubble and verve of the comic operas that are Cimarosa's most valuable legacy to music. Next Mr. Zimbalist played the Glazounoff Concerto which he introduced with the Chicago Symphony orchestra back in 1911, and played it with a kind of detached serenity that stirred curiosity as to what he might do with one of the major works for violin.

According to the printed program, this was all, save a group of after-pieces, but Mr. Zimbalist seemed to realize it was not enough. He made an announcement, and those in the audience with a talent for lip reading understood that he would interpolate Chausson's "Poème" and the Ravel "Tzigane." It was a good idea. The "Poème" flowed from his bow in an aloof legato whose shadowy trills melted in and out of the score. I was unable to hear all of the "Tzigane," but it began somberly, striking the afternoon's dark note, and at the liquid entrance of Seymour Lipkin's piano it held promise no one could resist except a person in duty bound to go to another concert.

That other concert was at Kimball hall, the second of Laura Stroud's three devoted to the music of Brahms. The very description presupposes an expert, which Miss Stroud is not. She has a warm, fluid tone and a romantic feeling for music, but her Brahms is soft and boneless, so that everything sounds much the same, and little of it sounds like Brahms. Her playing needs backbone and temperament, clarity and some of that fierce dark pride that is the unmistakable imprint of her chosen composer.

Suburban concertgoers will find it easier to catch their trains after Tuesday's Orchestra hall concert, because the Divertimento has been dropped from the Chicago Symphony orchestra's Mozart program, to be conducted by Hans Lange, with Artur Schnabel again the soloist.

Thru the Looking Glass

The laundry situation being what it is these days, many of us are doing our own washing, particularly personal things. We've heard some lively discussions on the best methods of turning out a good laundry, and while we wouldn't begin to set ourselves up as an authority on the subject, we have a little suggestion to make that may help remove some of the drudgery from it.

We're not concerned here about getting the clothes clean; that's your problem, madam, but we know how to make the rinsing of your lingerie and even your house dresses and blouses a pleasure. It's done with bath salts or crystals. Throw a handful of them into the final rinse water, swish the clothes around, and let the scent permeate them. The clothes have a lovely fragrance about them that will last thru ironing and wearing. And we might add that ironing over a prettily fragranced steam is a distinct pleasure and not to be compared with the ordinary, plain or starched scented steam.

The nice thing about this is that most bath salts or crystals can be bought in a fragrance to match your favorite perfume or cologne.

We know of a few persons who rinse sheets and pillow cases in the same manner, but limit their selection of fragrance to the light, floral blend.

We'll give you fair warning not to dip the things of the men of the house into any perfumed water, but for your own belongings, we think you'll like it.

on the SOLID side

They're neither too young or too old—so long as both like to talk about the same things, go to the same places, and dance to the same music! It makes a neater, sweeter twosome if Joe Blow has the jump by a year or three in the age department, but the most important thing in a friendship is to be good companions, no matter how the birthday candles add up. Here's a note from a boy who has a glow for a gal who is three years his junior and tho he finds her strictly wonderful, a date right out of this atmosphere, he wants to know if the perfect date-bait should be all that—and his age, too!

"My problem isn't a rare one with the high school crowd. To begin with, I'm fond of a girl who is three years younger than I. She used to pal around with my sister, who is her age, but several years ago she moved away from our neighborhood. One day I ran into her. I hadn't seen her since she moved and she had changed so, I thought I'd ask her for a date. She was swell. She didn't seem at all like she was my sister's age.

"I've gone out with a lot of girls my age and older, and I think she has a lot more sense than a lot of them and definitely as much. She seems to like me a lot and we seem to have a great deal in common—except our ages. I like her so much that I want to keep on dating her and, in time, ask her to go steady, but I am afraid that we might not click because of the difference in our ages. Does that make so much difference?"

It's against the rules in the book to go out robbing the cradle, of course, and avoid the little gal if she asks you to pick her up after kindergarten classes so you both can go tricycle riding, but if she is old enough to date—and you are only three years older—where does the problem come in? That age-ratio is ideal. Here's a chap who is in the moonlight-and-roses department, everything strictly in the groove, and he doesn't even know it!

"THE RACKET MAN."

By Mae Tinee.

Good Morning!

KIND: Melodrama of the World war—and big city rackets.

ACTING: Very good. Tom Neal has a lot of what it takes. . . . Also excellent in their respective roles are Hugh Beaumont, Douglas Fowley, Mary Gordon, and Anthony Caruso.

DIRECTION: Spotty. Sometimes splendid and sometimes not.

SETS, PHOTOGRAPHY, DIALOG: All right.

STORY: Tale of "Big Shot" young racketeer who is drafted. . . . He's pretty impossible for a time. The discovery that a certain sergeant has had to forfeit his chevrons because of his, Matt Benson's cussedness, proves the leaven that he needs. . . . The one thing he desires is to be sent overseas—where Tony has gone—and to tell a grand chap that he's sorry. . . . But that isn't what his government wants of him. . . . Tony, he's informed, has been killed in action. . . . Uncle Sam needs Matt on the home front. . . . And so Benson goes back into civilian clothes—and back to his old haunts—as a government agent. . . . the tale doesn't hold much in the way of surprise, but some developments are interesting.

See you tomorrow.

Seated with her at the speakers' table will be Mrs. Norman Freehling, who will report on the division's efforts to obtain employment for qualified colored girls as clerks and cashiers in loop retail stores. Harold A. Lett, executive secretary of the New Jersey Urban league, will address the group, and A. L. Foster, executive secretary of the Chicago league is to give his annual report.

Looking at Hollywood

By Hedda Hopper

HOLLYWOOD, Cal., Feb. 20.—Wallace Beery and Binnie Barnes will team for the first time in "Goldtown," which Roy Del Ruth will direct. Sounds good to me. Binnie was known as the Texas Guinan of Britain before she'd ever had a gun in her hand. Beery runs on like the Mississippi. Would you believe he gets as much do-re-mi as Clark Gable? . . . John Charles Thomas, after several meetings with Gregory Ratoff, turned down "Irish Eyes Are Smiling." Every time I think of that song I remember how Chauncey Olcott sang it. Not that John wouldn't do a swell job, but that ballad was written for a tenor and an Irishman. . . . Jane Wyatt gets a fine part in "None but the Lonely Heart" with Cary Grant and Ethel Barrymore. Ethel had a time finding accommodations here. She looked over a small apartment and said, "I don't believe I could live in those rooms." That remark reminded me of the time she did "Rasputin" at Metro. No suite was available; so she insisted upon having Garbo's. When she saw it, she exclaimed, "Good heavens! Looks like the black hole of Calcutta!" The walls were draped with flowered chintz and everything was done over for her. When Garbo returned, it went back to being a black hole. Garbo liked it that way.

War Settles a Domestic Battle.

Louise Randall Pierson, of "Roughly Speaking" fame, is doing another story for Warners, "Catch a Falling Star." Isn't that an enchanting title? Ruth O'Malley wrote it, and Henry Blanke will produce. . . . The battling Bogarts never battled once on their trip to Italy. They saw so much fighting over there they just naturally lost their taste for it. They only battle 'cause it's fun to make up. . . . And speaking of that, it must have been because Charlie Einfeld is fond of Steve Hannagan that Ann Sheridan wasn't put on suspension when she went to join Steve in New York without saying "By your leave" to any one.

Get My Boots and Saddles.

Gloria Jean has been added to Olsen and Johnson's "High Spirits," then will star in "Senorita from the West." I suppose that means a Spanish cowgirl. . . . Even before "Up in Arms" opens, every studio wants to borrow Danny Kaye. William Perlberg is panting to get him for "Where Do We Go from Here?" I hear Warners will have to give Metro two pictures with John Garfield for the loan of Hedy Lamarr. . . . Pretty smart of Twentieth to grab off "Song of Bernadette" on the Hall of Fame, just as the academy award voting is at its dizziest. . . . Eve Arden plays the Russian girl in "Doughgirls" at Warners.

Keeps 'em Home and Happy.

Darned smart of Warners letting Bette Davis and Errol Flynn have full sway over one picture a year. That will keep them happy, spread the profits over a longer period of time, and keep them from seeking fresh pastures elsewhere. . . . Ernst Lubitsch's next, which he'll produce, not direct, will be "Dragonwyck," which satirizes our feudal Dutch-American settlers on the Hudson. We've glorified everybody's life on the screen, but we usually go to mythical kingdoms for our satire. I wish I'd thought of it when "Mission to Moscow" was running, to suggest they run "Ninotchka" with that.

Thought of Everything.

Ella Raines hopped off to Florida to visit her husband, Capt. Ken Trout, and turned over her apartment to three fellows from Washington here on furlough. She also gave them phone numbers of her best friends. . . . Jinx Falkenburg's hospital stay was as much fun as personal appearances. She had interviews, photos, visits from boys in uniform, and a gripe from the inmates of Walter Reed hospital in Washington. Why couldn't she have had her operation there? . . . Cecil Kellaway becomes the Painter Gainsborough in "Kitty" taken from the story of "Sweet Kitty Bellairs." The picture stars Paulette Goddard. . . . Bing Crosby has asked for two months' delay on his next picture so that he can go overseas.

They Ain't Done Right by Our Nell.

What goes on at R. K. O. with Harriet Parsons? They signed her as producer. She digs thru their films, finds "Enchanted Cottage," and arranges a deal with Sam Goldwyn to borrow Teresa Wright for it. Then it's snatched away and given to a big writer producer. Then she digs up "Mamma's Bank Account" and gets Katina Paxinou all set. Now that, too, has been snatched from her. What goes on? Harriet's clever, and I think this is pretty shabby treatment even for Hollywood. . . . Twentieth has snatched Mimi Berry from "Connecticut Yankee" for a contract. She reports here June 5. . . . Pat O'Brien's sorry he said his kids never get sick. Mavourneen has measles. . . . Ran into Mrs. Merian Cooper at Frederics'. She tells me her Christmas presents and pictures of their new baby just reached her husband in India.

'The Clock Strikes Twelve' . . By Patricia Wentworth

(Copyright: 1944: By Patricia Wentworth Turnbull.)

SYNOPSIS: James Paradine asks Elliot Wray to come to River house. Blueprints are missing. The family assembles for New Year's eve dinner—Grace Paradine, sister of James; her adopted daughter, Phyllida Wray; Mark and Dicky Paradine, cousins, and nephews of James; Frank Ambrose [Paradine's step-son]; his wife, Irene; his sister, Brenda, and Lydia Pennington, Irene's sister. James joins the family group with his cousin-secretary, Albert Pearson, and Elliot Wray, estranged husband of Phyllida. James accuses one of the family of disloyalty. The guilty one will find him in his study until midnight, prepared to make terms. The party breaks up early. Albert and Elliot remain. Phyllida seeks James Paradine's advice. Elliot sees the front door move and hears sounds from the upper floor. Phyllida is awakened by a cry at just after 12. Next morning James Paradine's body is found on the ground below the parapet. His death was not accidental. Miss Maud Silver, detective, is engaged by Mark. She finds Paradine had several callers—Albert, Elliot, Mark, and Phyllida. From Elliot she learns about the family, then interviews Grace, Irene, and Brenda. She is soon aware of Aunt Grace's antagonism for Elliot. Mark tells of his visit to his uncle. Miss Silver feels Aunt Grace could have replaced the blueprints while getting her gifts—her motive for taking them, a desire to widen the breach between Elliot and the Paradines. When Frank Ambrose came to the study, Phyllida leaves by way of the bedroom. Elliot learns Phyllida did not receive his letters. He explains the car smashup.

INSTALMENT XXXVII.
FULL EXPLANATION.

Phyllida's lips parted. She took a quick breath, but she did not speak. Her eyes never moved from her husband's face.

Elliot jerked with his shoulder and said:

"All right—I'm coming to the rest of it. It didn't happen for another three months. I met you and I began to fall in love with you. After I came up here at the end of September I was pretty sure it was the real thing. I was walking on air. Then I bumped into Doris—the other girl. She was in a restaurant with a fellow I knew—not the same fellow. I went over and spoke to them. She was a bit tight, and she went for me tooth and nail—said I'd a nerve to come and speak to her after what I'd done to Maisie. I wanted to know what I'd done, and she said didn't I know, and I said no. I didn't. After that she clamed down a bit and told me I'd better go and see for myself. So I did. Maisie was paralyzed—something gone wrong with her back after the accident. She didn't feel it for a bit, then it went on getting worse. I asked her why she hadn't let me know, and she said it wasn't my fault and why should she. I told her she'd got a claim against my insurance and I'd fix it for her. I put a solicitor on to it, and she got her compensation. I went to see her once or twice. She and Doris were living together. I went into it all with Doris. I arranged to pay part of the rent. Maisie hadn't any people, and she wanted to stay where she was. So I fixed it up with Doris."

"Elliot—"

"You see, Miss Paradine was perfectly right when she told you I was paying Maisie's rent. She was perfectly right in saying that I went to see her after we got back from our honeymoon. I did. What I should like to know is how she found out."

"Mrs. Cranston wrote and told her—about the accident. She wrote when she knew we were going to be married. The letter was delayed—it didn't arrive until we had gone away."

"Cranston? I remember—the woman at the house . . . Face like a horse—"

"She said she thought it was her duty."

"Mrs. Cranston told her about the accident. Who told her I paid the rent, and went to see Maisie on Boxing day? Did she hire a detective?"

The color ran up to the roots of Phyllida's hair.

"I thought so! Now Phyl, stop blushing and listen! This is where you've got to have a look at things as they are. If Miss Paradine put a detective on to find out about Maisie he'd get her address from Mrs. Cranston. Well, he couldn't have found out about the rent and not have found out that Maisie was a cripple. If Miss Paradine hired him he'd have reported back to her. In plain words, Phyl, she knew she was telling lies. She wanted to separate us, so she took a chance and hoped for the best. As it happened, nothing could have gone off better. You flattened out, and I played into her hands by banging out of the house. Then she watched for my letters and suppressed them, and topped it all up neatly by sending me a telegram to say you never wanted to see me again, or words to that effect. She wants you. She'll do anything to keep you, and to get rid of me."

"Elliot—"

"Look here, Phyl—did she ever suggest a divorce?"

"Then don't you see that proves it? She knew there was no evidence. Besides, she wouldn't want you free. You might marry some one else, and she wanted you all to herself."

"Elliott—please—"

He took hold of her and pulled her up.

"Well then—what about it? We can't both have you. She made it that way. She's taken everything and twisted it—it can't be put back again. You're either my wife or her daughter."

He gave that short, angry laugh.

"That's not going to get us anywhere!" He let go of her and stepped back. "I could make you choose me. I know that, and you know it. But you've got to choose for yourself. If you want time to think about it, you can have all the time you want."

"I don't want any time—" The words were just a murmur.

"Well, then, choose!"

"You sound so angry—"

"I am angry."

"You look as if you hated me. Do you?"

"Probably." His face twitched. He reached out and pulled her into his arms. "Stop being such a fool, Phyl!"

"Lane, I should be glad if you would answer one or two questions."

"Yes, madam."

"I should be glad to know what time it was when you took the tray of drinks into the study on Wednesday night."

"I don't know that I could say—not to be exact, madam. It was after the quarter to, but it was some way off 10 o'clock, I should say."

"Would that be your usual time?"

"No, madam. Ten o'clock was my time, but if Mr. Paradine wished for the tray earlier he would ring. On the Wednesday night his bell went at a quarter to 10."

"Mr. Paradine was alone in the study when you went in with the tray?"

"Why, no, madam. Mr. Pearson was with him. He was just going into the room as I came thru the baize door from the hall with my tray."

"And did he see you?"

"I hardly think so."

"Did he shut the door behind him?"

"He had not time to do so, madam. He must have heard me coming before he could close the door."

"Did you hear him speak to Mr. Paradine, or Mr. Paradine speak to him?"

"I hardly like to say."

"Was it Mr. Pearson who spoke or Mr. Paradine?"

[ADVERTISMENT]

This Home-Mixed Cough Relief Is Wonderful

No Cooking. Very Easy. Saves Big Dollars.

To get the most surprising relief from cough due to colds, you can easily prepare a medicine, right in your own kitchen. It's very easy—a child could do it—needs no cooking, and tastes so good that children take it willingly. But you'll say it beats them all for quick results.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup. Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, and pour it into a pint bottle. Then add your syrup. This gives you a full pint of really splendid cough syrup—about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and lasts a long time.

And it gives quick relief. It acts in three ways—loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action in coughs and bronchial irritations. Money refunded if it doesn't please you in every way.

East and West, as soon as today's deal was over, hastened to tell their adversaries "how lucky they had been to bring home the slam," but they neglected to add that the declarer had admirably aided and abetted the goddess of chance.

The bidding:

North	East	South	West
1 diamond	1 spade	2 clubs	2 hearts
Pass	Pass	3 hearts	Pass
3 spades	Pass	4 clubs	Pass
5 clubs	Pass	6 clubs	Pass
Pass	Pass

South's bidding was rather fancy, and somewhat of the stop and go variety, but South was dogged by the fear—well founded, as it happened—that his partner had a short, perhaps unplayable diamond suit, and had opened with that bid merely as a preparedness measure.

West, falling for South's cue bid in hearts, opened the spade queen. Dummy won and South got rid of his losing heart on the spade king. Now the club queen was led for a finesse. When East showed out, the trick was conceded to West, who then shifted to a heart. Declarer ruffed, led a trump to the jack, and carefully ruffed a spade, thus making it impossible for West to guard that suit. Now all the rest of the trumps were run off, dummy keeping the spade seven and its original three diamonds. On the last trump East found that he was in hot water. He had to hold a spade to overlay dummy's seven, and this meant that he could keep only three diamonds. Declarer thereupon found it easy to cash his entire diamond suit, fufilling the contract.

Kidney bean soup—Soak 1 cup kidney beans overnight, having washed well first. Cook in same water, adding 1 small onion, sliced; 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon pepper, 1 stalk minced celery, 1 bay leaf, and one or two beef bones [unrationed] or a ham bone. Simmer slowly, covered, 2½ hours. Add 2 tablespoons margarine or bacon fat, mix well, press thru sieve, if desired, reheat, re-season to taste and serve. Hot water will probably have to be added during the cooking.

BY MARY MEADE.

[Copyright: 1944: By The Chicago Tribune.]

When you make a creamed vegetable dish or a cream soup, save all the vegetable cooking liquid and use in it place of milk. You catch all the vitamins and minerals that way and also save on milk. . . . Don't drain off the oil from tuna, salmon, mackerel, or other fish. It's full of food value, too. Use it in sauce for the fish.

Next time you're making canapes, try some pink cream cheese ones. Mix the cream cheese with celery seed and enough paprika to make it actually rosy and spread on toast rounds. A slice of stuffed olive is a pretty garnish. If you mix a beaten egg yolk into the cheese mixture and pop the prepared canapes into a hot oven, they'll puff up attractively, too.

It isn't going to be difficult to get used to those red and blue tokens. Remember, each one is worth 1 point. Each food stamp is worth 10 points. If you spend 16 points for food, you'll give your dealer two 10 point stamps, and he'll return 4 tokens in change, red or blue, depending upon whether the purchase was meats and fats or processed foods.

Each person's allotment will be 50 blue stamp points a month, 60 red stamp points every four weeks. Yes, 15 red points a week is one point less than we've so far been allowed for meats and fats, but point values of foods will be adjusted accordingly. We won't be getting any less food per week than we had before.

An advantage of the use of tokens is that they have no expiration date. You can send Junior after the meat with a handful of red disks and don't need to entrust him with the ration book. Ration books will also last longer. Pretty soon you'll have only one to bother with.

Brown stamps Y and Z in book three and green stamps K, L, and M in book four will remain valid thru March 20. Their point values will not be changed. During the period of changeover, you may be spending these brown and green points along with red stamps 8A, 8B, 8C, and blue stamps 8A to 8E, inclusive. These red and blue stamps [10 points each] become valid on Feb. 27.

Lt. Macy Weds Joyce Hagen in Capital Church

Mr. and Mrs. John Williams Macy of Winnetka were in Washington, D. C., for the marriage on Dec. 12 of their eldest son, Lt. Macy Jr. of the army air transport command, and Miss Joyce Hagen, daughter of Mrs. Roscoe Arthur Hagen of Rochester, N. Y. The wedding took place in St. John's church, with a reception following at the Carlton hotel. Mrs. Macy was his son's best man, and among the ushers were the bridegroom's brothers, Bradford Macy of Los Angeles, Cal., and Francis U. Macy. Lt. Macy and his bride will live in Cincinnati, O.

Instead of the large wedding originally planned by Miss Jean Granstrand and Anson Wheaton Cameron, they will be married quietly at 7 p. m. Saturday in the home of the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Anson Cameron, where she is recovering from illness. Miss Granstrand is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar D. Granstrand of Evanston, who will give a reception later at the Georgian hotel in Evanston.

Miss Dale Granstrand will attend her sister, and Charles Stevens Cameron will be his brother's best man. The bridegroom will receive his commission as an ensign in the naval reserve on the day of the wedding.

Announcement is made of the marriage on Feb. 12 in Hollywood, Fla., of Miss Jeane Delaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong Delaney of Glencoe, to Lt. [j. g.] Arthur McMurrin Hopkin, son of Mrs. Arthur Barton Hopkin of Salt Lake City, Utah. The wedding was a small one, attended by the bride's family and a few friends. Lt. Steven Heller, of Chicago, was best man. Lt. Hopkin and his bride are at home in Hollywood, where he is stationed.

In an all-marine wedding on Saturday in the Episcopal Cathedral in Washington, D. C., Sgt. Beverly Jane Thybony, daughter of Mrs. Eunice Thybony of Wilmette, became the bride of Lt. Thomas Boyagy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel H. Boyagy of Springfield, Mass. After a wedding dinner at the Hotel Statler, Lt. Boyagy and his bride left on a wedding trip to Cherry Point, N. C. They met while with the marine corps in Washington.

The marriage of Miss Josephine Grant Scherer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew C. Scherer of Evanston, to Lt. Robert W. Bailey Jr. of the naval air corps, son of Mrs. Bailey, also of Evanston, took place Saturday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James R. Donnelly, followed by a reception at the Georgian hotel. Lt. Bailey has just returned from duty in the Pacific. After a short wedding trip, he and his bride will be at home in Jacksonville, Fla.

Miss Mary Beverly Sawyer of Chicago, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Sawyer of Miami, Fla., and Andrew J. Mueller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas G. Mueller of N. State pkwy. and Pistakee bay, were married at 9:30 a. m. Saturday in St. Ignatius church with a breakfast and reception following at the Lake Shore club. The bride attended Miami university. Mr. Sawyer attended St. Thomas Military academy and De Paul university. He and his bride will live in Chicago.

Miss Louise Charlotte Heale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Heale of W. 83d st., and Lt. George Walter Jones of the army, son of Mrs. Susan W. Jones of Yale av., were married at 2:30 p. m. yesterday in the Graham Taylor chapel, 5757 University av. Lt. Jones and his bride will live at Fort Sill, Okla.

A bit of Carrickmacross lace from her mother's wedding gown, fashioned into a coronet and with a finger tip veil attached, was worn by Miss Lois A. Smith when she exchanged wedding vows with 2d Lt. John C. Rasmussen of the army air forces last Wednesday evening in the Children's chapel of the Winnetka Congregational church. The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dudley C. Smith of Winnetka, and Lt. Rasmussen, son of Mrs. Christian P. Rasmussen of Milwaukee, attended the University of Wisconsin.

Women in War Work

—By Kate Massee—

Miss Jane Robbins of Highland Park was graduated this month from the WASP training program at Avenger field, Sweetwater, Tex. As a women's air force service pilot she will fly officers to assignments, tow targets, and ferry planes.

At Avenger field Miss Robbins had 210 hours in the air and learned to fly three types of ships. She will leave soon for the army air forces' weather wing at Asheville, N. C., for reassignment.

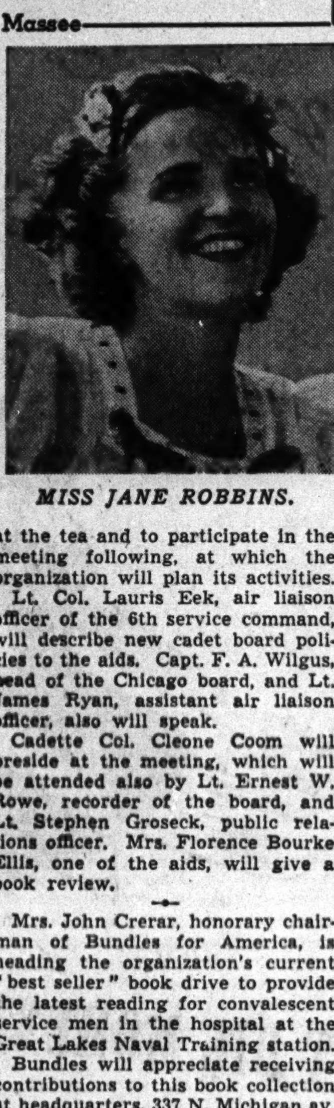
Miss Robbins received her preliminary flight training at Curtiss airport [now the Glenview naval training station]; Sky Harbor, Northbrook; Pal-Waukee, near Wheeling, and the Ryan School of Aeronautics, San Diego, Cal. She entered WASP instruction last August.

The new WASP is the daughter of Mrs. Percy A. Robbins. The flyer's brother, Lt. F. Peter Robbins of the army engineers, is stationed at Fort Belvoir, Va., and is awaiting overseas orders.

Miss Robbins wears the official uniform and insignia adopted for the WASP late last year. It is a dress uniform consisting of a jacket and skirt of Santiago blue, two-ply gabardine, with a beret of the same material, a white cotton shirt, and a black tie. When flying, WASPs wear slacks and a waist-length "battle-jacket" of the same fabric.

WASPs have gold-lettered initials identifying their service, with air corps lapel wings, the AAF sleeve patch, and a shoulder insigne of the specific unit to which they are assigned. Their pilot's wings, somewhat smaller than those of men flyers, are silver.

Members of the Army Air Force Aids, volunteers who assist service personnel in the Moline, Rockford, and Chicago offices of the army air cadet examining board, will attend a tea at 3 p. m. Sunday in the Webster hotel.



MISS JANE ROBBINS.

There are approximately 400 aids, most of whom are expected to be at the tea and to participate in the meeting following, at which the organization will plan its activities.

Lt. Col. Lauris Eek, air liaison officer of the 6th service command, will describe new cadet board policies to the aids. Capt. F. A. Wilgus, head of the Chicago board, and Lt. James Ryan, assistant air liaison officer, also will speak.

Cadette Col. Cleone Coom will preside at the meeting, which will be attended also by Lt. Ernest W. Rowe, recorder of the board, and Lt. Stephen Groseck, public relations officer. Mrs. Florence Bourke Ellis, one of the aids, will give a book review.

Mrs. John Crerar, honorary chairman of Bundles for America, is heading the organization's current "best seller" book drive to provide the latest reading for convalescent service men in the hospital at the Great Lakes Naval Training station.

Teach Children Some Chores Must Be Done

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1944: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"If it wasn't that I believe a child should learn to be helpful, I would rather do the work myself than have to keep after my girls all the time," writes a mother.

"For example, I insist that Betty and Elsie make their beds and straighten their rooms on Saturdays and Sundays—the rest of the week they have to leave very early for school and I don't want to rush them too much—but it's a struggle to get them to do it. And dishes! Well, I've practically given up the subject, for they are quite candid in saying they hate having to wash and dry dishes, and are always suggesting that they do something else."

This letter has a familiar ring to many mothers, I know. When you have to keep insisting that children do a certain job, even when it's something that will help you tremendously, you weaken and do it yourself, instead of steeling yourself to be firm.

While I'm not a disciplinarian in the usual sense of the word, I think children should learn to realize that certain things have to be done whether we like them or not, and that the sporting thing is to do them with as little fuss as possible.

It is rather invigorating, morally, for a child to have some one put it into words: "I know you dislike washing dishes, cleaning the snow off the walks, straightening up your room, running errands and such. I understand, because I have to do many things I dislike almost every day, too. But things have to be done. So the best thing is to get busy and do them as well and as quickly as you can, and not waste time fussing over how much you dislike the job."

It's not an easy lesson to learn, but it's of real value to a child to catch some idea of it and to accept it while he's young, for it will serve him well for the rest of his life.

Household Forum

—By Louise Bargelt—

Sgt. Henry Danek, 353d Base HQ., Rapid City, S. D.—When my wife has coffee left over, she pours it into a thermos bottle and it stays fresh and hot for a number of hours.

Mrs. Dan M., Chicago—When I find a regular eraser won't remove marks of an indelible pencil I substitute for eraser a narrow piece of emery cloth. I roll this tightly and insert into ferrule. This emery won't break the fibers of paper, if used carefully, but will remove the markings.

Mrs. Harry K., Evanston—When I want to dry a large area of bathroom and kitchen tile I wipe it with my chamois wrung out of water. This will pick up surplus moisture and leave tile spotless. This method of drying works as well on unglazed as glazed tile.

Romantic Movie Inspires Gay New Hat Collection

BY REA SEEGER.

A romantic new film caught the fancy of one of the hatmakers, and as the result a whole collection of gay hats of felt, flowers, and straw is here to capture the fancy of susceptible shoppers. Head dresses of desert dancing girls, Riff horsemen, and the millinery of the principal actors have been faithfully copied in some models and in others so modified as to fit into the average midseason wardrobes.

Tiny, high colored felt hats with silver braid and a back nosegay of baby gardenias; high turban effects of soft, pliable straw in sky blue or sun tan, swathed around the forehead line with soft chiffon in contrasting color, and crisp, straw hats with accent of colored straw cord are a few of the highlights in this new millinery collection.

All have names suggestive of glamor, such as "desert dream." They're small and provocatively feminine; they're made of the most romantic colors and materials, and they flatter all faces. Such small, smart hats provide the necessary pickup for the bedraggled winter wardrobe of drab colors during the days when spring waits around the corner.

Other bright hats, tho not particularly reflecting the film costumes and millinery, appear in the same collection. They are the first authoritative arrivals from the spring showings of famous millinery designers in the country. You'll see and be charmed with dozens of lovely new colors and the most beguiling bits of froth and flowers and ribbon.

Teaching Material About Latin America to Be Studied Today

The Pan-American council has invited 40 educators of the Chicago area to an all-day conference opening at 10 a. m. today in the Woodrow Wilson room, 84 E. Randolph st. The conference will study and discuss the American Council on Education's recent report, "Latin America in Basic Teaching Materials of Our Schools and Colleges." The report, which required 10 years to complete, is reputed to be the most exhaustive survey ever made analyzing the Latin American content of textbooks used in our schools and colleges.

The general morning session, to be opened by John Strohm, Pan-American council president, will bring Dr. Howard E. Wilson of Harvard university and Prof. E. D. Grizzell of the University of Pennsylvania as speakers. Dr. Wilson will preside at an afternoon section meeting on social studies, and a similar section on arts, crafts, and music will have as leader Elizabeth Wells Robertson, art supervisor of the Chicago public schools, who will be assisted by Elizabeth Marshall, Vanette Lawlor, and Daniel Catton Rich. A language and literature section will be conducted by Dr. Rachel Salisbury of the University of Wisconsin.

Dorothy Kahn Club.

to Capt. Robert Treat Gilchrist, son of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Gilchrist of Chicago and Hinsdale. Miss Ernest and her fiance are graduates of Cornell university. Capt. Gilchrist entered the army in 1941 and went overseas two years ago. He is serving on a headquarters staff in the Pacific.

Hail and Farewell.

The comings and goings of men in service and their families are consistently of interest. The large Dixon clan has welcomed back to Chicago Lt. and Mrs. Stanley Zaring [Marion Dixon] and their children, who have been living in Ottumwa, Ia., while Lt. Zaring was stationed there with the navy. He was transferred to Great Lakes a few days ago, and until he and Mrs. Zaring are settled in their own home, they are dividing their time between the home of her brother, George W. Dixon Jr., and Mrs. Dixon, and the Jacob H. Bischofs, in Lake Forest.

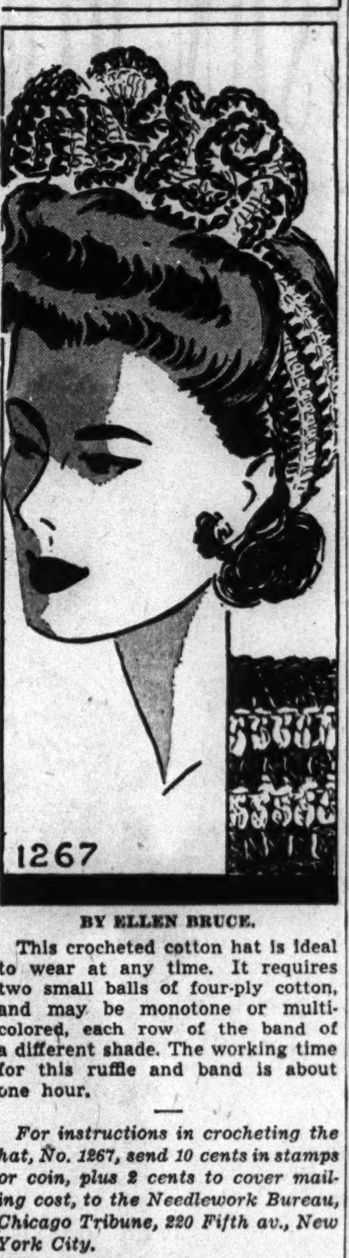
The Austin H. Niblacks have said farewell to their young son, Berto, who left a few days ago for training as a pilot with the army air forces. He had been a student at Culver military academy. Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Barnes will be saying good-by to their son, Charles, in June, when he will leave for training in the naval air corps. He will be graduated from New Trier High school at that time.

Lt. [j. g.] De Witt Buchanan Jr. has been welcomed home to Lake Forest by his wife and parents, the senior Mr. and Mrs. Buchanan, after serving for 16 months with the fleet in the North African area. Lt. Malcolm Walker, who was commissioned in the army about two months ago, has left for Camp Roberts, Cal., after a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel J. Walker, in Lake Forest. Samuel Walker Jr. also is serving in the army. The Albert D. Farwells' son, Francis C. Farwell, received his pilot's wings and commission as second lieutenant in the army air forces from La Junta air field in Colorado on Feb. 8. He left yesterday for further training, at Austin, Tex., after a ten day leave in Lake Forest.

Today's Events.

Mrs. Wentworth Field, Mrs. Arthur Bissell, Mrs. Arthur Kales, Mrs. Augustus A. Carpenter, Mrs. Mitchell Follansbee, and Mrs. rank Taylor are some of those who have made reservations for luncheon at the Casino today to hear Raoul Aglion, councilor of the delegation to the United States of the French Committee of National Liberation. He will speak on "The Future of France" under auspices of the Lake Shore League of Women Voters. Tonight Mr. Aglion will address members of the Chicago chapter of France Forever at their annual meeting at 8 o'clock at the Art institute.

Crocheted Hat



BY ELLEN BRUCE.

This crocheted cotton hat is ideal to wear at any time. It requires two small balls of four-ply cotton, and may be monotone or multicolored, each row of the band of a different shade. The working time for this ruffle and band is about one hour.

For instructions in crocheting the hat, No. 1267, send 10 cents in stamps or coin, plus 2 cents to cover mailing cost, to the Needlework Bureau, Chicago Tribune, 220 Fifth av., New York City.

Sally Requests 2 Radios and a Diabetic Scale

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

We appreciate the present scarcity of small radios, but feel that perhaps some reader may have an extra one which could be given to a woman who is ill and alone. In addition to a cardiac disorder, she has suffered the loss of the sight of one eye and is just recovering from an operation on the other, in which there is very little vision. For this reason, she is unable to read, write, or sew in order to pass the time, and her only diversion is staring at the walls of her small rented room. She is confined to the house, and her days are very long and empty. We are sure any reader who has been ill for any length of time can appreciate how much a radio would mean to this woman.

We will be glad to provide further information on request.

Some years ago, many homes were equipped with small crystal radio sets and headphones. If some attic or basement still boasts of one, we know a service man who would like to have it.

Mrs. L. O. sends in her request:

"Dear Miss Brown:

"I am writing in the hope that one of your readers can help me. Due to illness, I have been ordered on a strict diet, and I am much in need of a scale which measures grams. I am unable to purchase it. If any reader has a discarded diabetic scale, I will be grateful for it."

This address is on the south side.

How Gorgeous 'Million Dollar'
POWERS MODELS
'GLAMOUR-BATHE' THEIR HAIR

Let This Remarkably Beautifying Shampoo Bring Out Your Hair's Natural Sparkling Beauty!

Powers Models — a group of stunning girls in New York who set men's hearts to throbbing — are famous for their enchantingly lovely hair. And these girls are wise! They wash their hair with Kreml Shampoo. They've discovered there's nothing better than Kreml Shampoo to bring out the natural gleaming highlights and glossy lustre that lie concealed in your and every girl's hair.

Kreml Shampoo not only thoroughly cleanses hair and scalp of dirt and loose dandruff but it leaves your hair so much softer, silkier — more aglow with natural brilliant highlights — easier to set in any style.

Helps Keep Hair From Becoming Dry or Brittle

There are no harsh chemicals or caustics in Kreml Shampoo. It never leaves any excess dull, soapy film. Instead, its beneficial oil base helps keep hair from becoming dry or brittle.

Get a bottle of Kreml Shampoo right away from any drug or department store and "glamour-bathe" your hair the way lovely Powers Models do! Results should thrill you.

ST. PAUL GLOVER SAYS HE'S GOOD; THEN PROVES IT

Joe Stepka Has String of 20 Victories.

Tonight's Bouts

New Orleans Item, first round.
Fort Worth Star-Telegram, finals.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

Rice street in St. Paul, one of the most famed fistic thorofares in the United States, is sending another able puncher to the boxing wars in young Joe Stepka, who will represent the Minneapolis Star-Journal and Tribune in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions at the Chicago Stadium on Feb. 28 and 29 and March 1.

Joe Stepka.

Joseph, who stands 6 feet 2 inches in his bare feet in spite of his 16 years, hails from the same avenue which turned out such great fistic names as Tommy and Mike Gibbons, Mike O'Dowd, and Jock Malone. The only pat description of Stepka given by ring fans in the Twin Cities is that he is all arms and legs, yet a glance at his recent record would seem to prove that those arms and legs are right effective once he steps into the ring.

Defeated Bill McMoore.

The Stepka record reveals 20 consecutive victories, with three knockouts in his four appearances in the Northwest Golden Gloves tournament, conducted by the Star-Journal and Tribune before an audience of 10,300. The most important of all of these, of course, was his knockout triumph over Bill McMoore, the able Negro prep school athlete from Minneapolis who had gone to the Tournament of Champions semi-finals in 1943.

That victory over McMoore gave Stepka a measure of revenge for the defeat Bill had handed him in the first round of last year's Minneapolis tourney.

"I can beat that guy," the confident youth boasted to his pals as he prepared for this year's 160 pound test. He worked his way to the title bout with a convincing exhibition of two-fisted firing, and there found McMoore his opponent. The latter had been hailed as a great professional prospect, and proceeded to bear out prophecies by taking a wide point margin in the first round. Bill had preceded his final appearance with a number of quick knockouts.

McMoore pursued his advantage in the the second round, but couldn't hurt Stepka. Came the third session, and the young St. Paul boxer planted a right on the McMoore jowls which ended any ideas William had about coming to the Stadium again.

Heads Minneapolis Team.

Stepka, not in the least amazed by his feat, promptly promised his public that he would perform the same operation on his opponents in the Tournament of Champions. Now even the skeptics are beginning to believe the rangy lad who in his own strange way is good and not afraid to tell you so.

Stepka heads a Minneapolis team which includes Welterweight Mert Herrick of Rochester, the only northwest battler to return to the Stadium; Heavyweight Glenn Spotts, a Mankato policeman who is a fistic switch hitter in that he can box right or left handed, and Larry Rasley, a 175 pounder who is a brother of Clyde, a former Minneapolis Golden Gloves star who is now with the marines in the Southwest Pacific.

Marquette V-5 to Play Kenosha Five Tomorrow

Kenosha, Wis., Feb. 20 [Special]. —Five Marquette university basketball players will be on the undefeated navy V-5 team from the Milwaukee school which will seek its 10th victory Tuesday night against the post 21, American Legion team, here. They are: Eddie Sadowski, Bob Steuber, Frederick Falls, Dick Pabst, and Edward Westerdahl.

HARRIMAN SEES DAUGHTER SKI IN MOSCOW RACE

Kathleen Harriman.

She covered the course on Lenin hills, outside of Moscow, twice in 49 and 50 seconds. The times of the winner, who is a skiing instructress, were 42 and 43 seconds.

Miss Harriman, who wore gray ski pants, a brown sweat shirt and a blue cap said, "I am embarrassed by my costume." Her opponents wore navy blue ski suits which Miss Harriman termed "very smart."

Harriman said he thought his daughter finished in "just about the right place." Her competitors, he said, looked very workmanlike.

Wings Rally to Whip Bruins, 6-5; Tighten Grip on 2d Place

Detroit, Mich., Feb. 20 (AP).—The Detroit Red Wings tonight clamped a firmer grip on second place in the National Hockey league by defeating the Boston Bruins, 6 to 5, before 12,647 spectators.

Herb Cain of Boston, the league's top goal producer, got his 61st in the first period and Buzz Boll followed with a shot set up by Cain. Detroit's four second period goals came in less than 10 minutes. Joe Carveth and Adam Brown beat Goalie Bert Gardiner and then Mud Bruneteau whipped home a pair to put the wings ahead, 4 to 2.

Pat Egan, whom Detroit traded to Boston, smashed a shot past little Connie Dion early in the third period. Don Grosso and Carl Liscombe then scored for Detroit, however, and goals in the last six minutes by Art Jackson and Bep Guidolin weren't quite enough to tie it up. Lineup:

CANADIENS TRIUMPH, 7-2

New York, Feb. 20 (AP).—The league leading Montreal Canadiens had too much endurance and defensive strength for New York tonight and handed the last place Rangers a 7 to 2 beating. It was the Canadiens' second victory over the Rangers in two nights.

Lineup:

A crowd of 15,288 saw the Rangers rally to take the lead in the first period, only to weaken and suffer their ninth defeat in 10 games. It was Montreal's 28th victory in 39 games.

The game wound up with a fist fight between New York's Dutch Hiller and Montreal's Leo Lamoureux in the third period. Lineup:

FLORIDA WILL PLAY FOOTBALL AGAIN IN 1944

Jacksonville, Fla., Feb. 20 (AP).—The University of Florida will resume football this fall after a lapse of one season, President Dr. John J. Tigert announced tonight. Florida suspended intercollegiate athletics early last year, the first member of the Southeastern conference to do so.

Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Vanderbilt, Alabama, and Auburn followed suit, only Georgia Tech, Tulane, Georgia, and Louisiana State deciding to continue intercollegiate sports. Alabama and Vanderbilt fielded informal teams near the end of the 1943 season.

Kiosk Wins Mexico City Track's Tabasco Stakes

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 20 (AP).—Senora L. B. de Gonzalez' Kiosk won the $2,000 added Tabasco handicap at the Hipodromo de las Americas race track today. The 6 year old mare ran the 6 furlongs in 1:26. C. S. Howard's Barging On was second, and Mrs. Grayce Pagliai's Sassy Mate third.

130 GO HUNTING; RESULT: ONE FOX

The red fox's powers of elusiveness served him well yesterday as 130 sportsmen covered more than six square miles of Du Page county in an organized hunt for fox predators.

The hunters, including 25 bow and arrow enthusiasts and more than 100 gunners, saw three foxes and noted the trails of many others but made only a solitary kill.

Find Traces of Fox.

In one marsh, north of Glen Ellyn, the hunters saw the feathers and other remains of two pheasants with the telltale tracks of foxes around the sites. Many Du Page county farmers joined the hunt in an effort to stop fox depradations against chickens, pheasants, and rabbits.

The hunters were divided into four groups of 30 to 35 men. In starting a drive, each of the four groups walked from one edge of an area toward the center, in the hope of driving the foxes into a restricted area.

Finally Bag One.

The first two drives were unsuccessful, but on the third drive two foxes were flushed from a cattail marsh. The hunters were unevenly spread, however, giving the foxes a chance to break thru the ring of hunters and escape.

The lone fox was slain at 9:45 last night by a blast from the shotgun of Victor Brown, 5118 N. Tripp av. He was accompanied by Herman Wilde, Elmhurst, and Joe Beal, Lombard.

HARRY WILHELM, OLD TIME HURLER FOR PIRATES DIES

Uniontown, Pa., Feb. 20 (AP).—Harry L. Wilhelm, 69, boyhood friend of Gen. George C. Marshall and a pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates in the days of Honus Wagner, died today at his home in nearby Republic.

Wilhelm had been in business here since his retirement from baseball in 1905. He and Wagner were members of the Louisville team which moved to Pittsburgh in 1899 to become the Pirates.

Strohs Lead in National Tenpin Team Title Match

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 20 (AP). — Stroh's Bohemians of Detroit, national match game bowling champions, boasted a 228 pin lead tonight at the end of the first half of a 24 game challenge match with the Rosatto-Barry team of Philadelphia. The two teams meet in Detroit next week-end for the final 12 game series, with Stroh's in front, 12,573 to 12,345.

New York Girl Takes Medley Swimming Title

BY EDWARD BURNS.

The largest crowd of the National Hockey league season—18,534—jammed Chicago Stadium last night to see the Blackhawks and the Toronto Maple Leafs play to a final score of 0 to 0, a hockey rarity, unprecedented under present rules. The game not only was without scores—it was without penalties for either side.

While the Hawks scored no goals they did score a point in the league standings for the tie. And that point put them in a fourth place tie with Boston Bruins, the team they must beat out to get in the Stanley cup playoffs.

Hawk Goal Not Allowed.

Tho there were neither scores nor penalties, the game never grew listless or strictly a defensive spectacle. Both teams made many near tallies and midway in the second period, the halfway mark in the eventual deadlock, Fido Purpur of the Hawks batted the puck into the Leaf net. The Hawks thought they had what would have been the winning goal until Referee Bill Chadwick ruled the goal void on the grounds that Purpur's stick was above his shoulders. The rule, Sec. 4, paragraph 17, is specific on the point. It says: "The carrying of sticks above the height of the shoulder is prohibited. A goal scored from a stick so carried shall not be allowed." Little Fido can never carry his stick really high, but it was too high last night.

Karakas' Second Shutout.

The draw gave the Leafs a particularly striking contrast. Saturday night they beat Boston, 10 to 4. The double shutout was the second shutout scored by the Hawks' Goalie Mike Karakas this season, and it was the second time the Hawks have been blanked. The Canadiens vanquished our boys, 4 to 0, on New Year's night. Karakas' earlier shutout was a 2 to 0 decision in Boston on Feb. 1.

The Hawks, encouraged by their league standing tie with Boston, believe they now have an edge in the dozen games remaining on their schedule, half of which they will play at home, and three of which they will play with the tail-end New York Rangers.

Rangers Seek Cooper.

The Rangers, by the way, were reported to have offered $15,000 for Joe Cooper. Joe, just discharged from the Canadian army, played well last night, as indicated by the tie and is not likely to figure in any deals this season, Hawk officials indicated.

Bob Elliott Signs 1944 Contract with Pirates

Pittsburgh, Pa., Feb. 20 (AP).—Bob Elliott, Pittsburgh Pirate third baseman, who batted .315 and drove in 101 runs last year, has signed his 1944 contract, President William E. Benswanger announced today.

In the WAKE of the NEWS

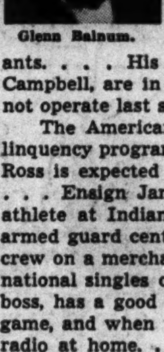
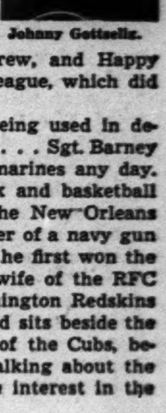
BY ARCH WARD.

JOHNNY GOTTSELIG, player-coach of the Chicago Blackhawks, was the first manager to sign a 1944 contract in the All-American girls' professional baseball league. . . . Johnny again will boss the Racine, Wis., Belles. . . . This year the franchise is owned by the city of Racine.

The Brooklyn Dodgers played 14 twilight games last season to a total of 90,000 customers. . . . In 1942 their 13 twilight-night games attracted 201,233. . . . They have scheduled 14 night games, maximum permitted by the rules, for this season now that the dim-out order has been rescinded. . . . One of the big post-war jobs in athletics will be the education of educators. . . . Some of them are still out of step with army and navy leaders. . . . Glenn Bainum, former director of Northwestern university's band, is stationed in England as a captain in the army special service division. . . . Frank Thomas, football coach at Alabama, is looking for assistants. . . . His former aids, Hank Crisp, Howard Drew, and Happy Campbell, are in the service. . . . Fate of the Texas league, which did not operate last season, will be decided Sunday.



Glenn Bainum.



Johnny Gottselig.

The American league's movie, "World Series," is being used in delinquency programs in Brooklyn, New York, and Denver. . . . Sgt. Barney Ross is expected to get a medical discharge from the marines any day. . . . Ensign James W. Maddox of Kokomo, Ind., track and basketball athlete at Indiana university a few years ago, is at the New Orleans armed guard center waiting to be assigned as commander of a navy gun crew on a merchant ship. . . . Bill Tilden was 28 when he first won the national singles championship. . . . Mrs. Jesse Jones, wife of the RFC boss, has a good luck sweater she wears to every Washington Redskins game, and when the team is on the road she dons it and sits beside the radio at home. . . . Jimmy Gallagher, vice president of the Cubs, believes big league magnates should quit worrying and talking about the perils in baseball's path and use the energy to promote interest in the game.

Jimmy Comes Home.

For who should pop in today but her boy!
All unexpected he was, to be sure,
And for loneliness that is the one sure fire cure.

She'd been picturing him out on the turbid high sea,
And the first thing she knew he was there at her knee,
Grinning at her in his trim navy blue
Like the long, long ago little boy she once knew.

May God speed the day when the mothers of all
May know the same joy which has chanced to befall
This mother I speak of, for not until then
Will mothers know heart ease and comfort again!

Gay Gypsy.

I saw a gypsy with a swirling skirt
Of carefree colors—yellow, red, and green—
Her eyes were shiny jet and liked to flirt;
She was the gayest gypsy that I'd seen.
The tinkle of her necklaces was sweet
To hear, for there was music in the sound;
She swayed with grace on little sandaled feet
That seemed as if they never touched the ground.
She passed me by and so I turned to look
At one who was fantastic in her way,
And marveled at the way her earrings shook—
And when she passed from sight I went my way
Remembering a gypsy's flashing eyes
That laughed like dancing sunlight in the skies.

Grandmother's Smile.

Within a strip of eyelet work
As daily she would sew,
My mother's mother wove her dreams
A hundred years ago.
Each tiny stitch is perfect art,
Reflecting olden grace,
And all the hours of patient toil
That she had learned to face.

She little knew in later years
And far across the sea,
The work she did when she was young
Would now belong to me.
And when I hold within my hand
This fragile yellowed lace,
I see again the smile upon
My mother's mother's face.

HANSAS WALLOP GUISTI-ITALIANS AT SOCCER, 8-0

Victors' Height, Weight Deciding Factor.

BY OFFSIDE.

The Hansas swamped the Guisti-Italians, 8 to 0, in a second round national amateur soccer cup game in Sparta stadium yesterday and thereby earned the right to represent Chicago in the western semifinals.

Expected to be of a close nature, the game developed into a rout as the Hansas found their superior height and weight of distinct advantage on the snow covered ground.

Kroll Scores First.

Henry Kroll opened the scoring after five minutes of play, lofting from the touch line over Nelo Menoni, who misjudged the ball's flight. The Hansas added two more goals before the half, Ted Gieskeck, home on unexpected leave, contributing the first of these and August Koenig the second.

Oli Mueller slipped past the Italian defense to count the first goal of the second period after 7 minutes. After 15 minutes Mueller scored his second of the day and Kurt Jotzat, with a couple of single handed efforts, added two more. Gieseck's second goal of the day completed the scoring.

Vikings, Slovaks Tie.

The play of Werner Fekker, goal keeper, returned from the service, was one of the bright spots of the Hansas' play.

In a preliminary contest, the Vikings and the Slovaks battled to a 4 to 4 tie.

Al Simmons Dashes Hopes of Old Timer

Hot Springs, Ark., Feb. 20 (AP).—Al Simmons, the veteran outfielder whose bat helped the Philadelphia Athletics to three American league pennants back in 1929-31, says he agrees with his former boss, Connie Mack, that it's foolish for old timers to try to help out in the game's current man power shortage.

"I tried it last year and couldn't make the grade," said Simmons, a visitor here during the winter season.

"No man worked harder or was in better physical condition for a comeback."

He added that he had the extra incentive of trying for his 3,000th hit in an effort to become the seventh man in baseball to attain that record.

The 40 year old outfielder quit the sport last season after playing in only 40 games with the Boston Red Sox and hitting a little better than .200.

MOUNT CARMEL SENIORS TAKE 21ST STRAIGHT

Mount Carmel's unbeaten senior five stretched its season's record to 21 straight and its south section dominance of the Catholic league to 12 yesterday afternoon by whipping De La Salle, 36 to 15.

Mount Carmel's juniors also held command of their standings as a result of winning, 35 to 29. Leo divided with De Paul academy, the Lion juniors triumphing, 44 to 27, and the seniors yielding, 43 to 38. The other activity in the south netted Joliet a dual victory over St. Rita, the seniors winning, 32 to 21, and the juniors by 60 to 31.

Weber continued its perfect records in the north section at the expense of St. Ignatius. The seniors won No. 10, 58 to 41, while the juniors captured their 10th, 46 to 34. St. Philip swept two games from Fenwick in the other north section contests, the seniors by 54 to 24, and the juniors by 28 to 15. Line-

South End Basket Meet List to Close Saturday

Entries for the 10th annual South End open basketball tournament, which will be held March 2 to 11 in the 111th st. Y. M. C. A. will close Saturday at 2 p. m. with Lowell Zippel at 4 E. 111th st.

Second in Printers' Pin Meet

This team, the Chicago Printing Trades club No. 2, rolled into first place in the Chicago Printcraft Bowling association's tournament on the Lakeview Recreation alleys with a 3,001 score yesterday, but later were displaced by the Alco Gravure Chumps who turned in a 3,035 total. Standing (left to right) are George Bender, Walter Reppenhagen, and Charles Tamburino. In front are Ed Baebl (left) and Fred Burghardt. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

James, Rozina Clash Second Time Tonight

Tommy James, 1942 city Golden Gloves welterweight champion, will try to even the score with Johnny Rozina when he meets the Milwaukee slugger in a 10 round return bout tonight in Marigold Gardens, Broadway and Grace st.

James lost a disputed decision to Rozina in Milwaukee a year ago. Since Johnny has shown improvement in his two starts this year, he may repeat his previous conquest of the Chicagoan. In his last appearance Rozina scored a surprise technical knockout over Billy Parsons of Danville, Ill., on Jan. 31.

Meanwhile, in his only 1944 start James was defeated by Robert Simmons of Indianapolis in a 12 round match. Previously, however, Tommy came close to knocking out Sgt. Lou Woods of Camp Grant. He floored the soldier twice in the second round and once in the third before losing a split decision.

RENTNER TRAINS NAVY GUNNERS IN BRITISH ISLES

A U. S. NAVY AIR BASE IN ENGLAND, Feb. 20 [Special].—The words have a kinship ring—pigskin and pigboats—but Lt. Ernest J. [Pug] Rentner will tell you that they're as different as day and night.

At Northwestern university, he won all-American fame as a half back carrying what the team's more rapid supporters called the pigskin.

It's Pigboats Now.

Now more than a dozen years later, Lt. Rentner of the United States navy is interested in pigboats, the name he and his associates use when they're talking about Nazi submarines.

Lt. Rentner is a busy young man, serving as a gunnery officer at this flying navy wing. His chore is to help sharpen the aim of the bombardiers and bunners who patrol waters of the Bay of Biscay looking for lurking German subs and other enemy craft. Recently, a crew from this base sighted a German destroyer flotilla. They summoned British cruisers and three Nazi vessels were sent to the bottom.

Entered Navy in 1942.

Before his overseas assignment, Lt. Rentner was a member of the navy flight selection board in Chicago. He joined the service in August of 1942. Lt. Rentner won all-American fame in 1931. He played with the Boston Redskins in 1934, 1935, and 1936, and ended his pro career with the Chicago Bears in 1937.

RODEO PRIZES ATTRACT LARGE LIST OF ENTRIES

Tophand cowboys and cowgirls from the rodeo centers of the United States, Mexico, and Canada are in Chicago to enter the $15,000 rodeo contests of the Chicago Coliseum's rodeo circus, which begins a 15 day engagement with a matinee performance Saturday at 2:30 p. m.

Heading the list of more than 200 in the rodeo events is Clay Lewis, 6 foot 6 inch all-around champion cowboy of 1943 and former full back at the University of Arizona.

Other leading contestants are Bill Taylor, formerly a star shortstop in the Pacific Coast league. The cowboys and cowgirls will compete in bronco riding, bulldogging, calf roping, and wild cow milking competition.

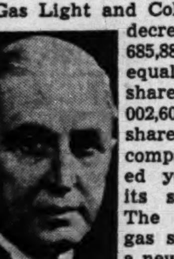
PROFIT OF GAS COMPANY DIPS; SALES EXPAND

Rate Slash Offsets Record Volume.



George A. Ranney.
[Du Bois Photo.]

Consolidated net income of Peoples Gas Light and Coke company decreased to $3,685,888 in 1943, equal to $5.62 a share, from $4,002,602, or $6.10 a share, in 1942, the company reported yesterday to its stockholders. The quantity of gas sold reached a new high mark and the company attributed the drop in profit in large part to the rate reduction ordered by the Illinois commerce commission, effective Feb. 5, 1943.

Therms sold totaled 923,666,626, against 895,789,923 in 1942, a gain of 3.11 per cent, a therm being equivalent to 100,000 British thermal units. Total operating revenues, however, declined to $42,782,323 from $44,881,517. All sales divisions showed increases in therms, except interruptible service, which dropped 25.5 per cent to 179,845,804 therms, and commercial [other than space heating] which declined 2.42 per cent to 28,345,368.

Less 'Surplus' Gas Available.

Regarding the decline in sales on an interruptible basis, George A. Ranney, chairman, explained that such sales are made only at such times as natural gas is available after supplying all other customers.

"Increased demands of customers served on a firm basis resulted in a smaller volume of natural gas being available for sale on an interruptible basis," he said.

The number of commercial customers decreased by more than 1,500, or 4 per cent, most of them being forced out of business by shortages of labor and materials, Ranney said.

Cost of gas purchased by the company decreased $2,034,709, principally because of rate reductions made by Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America. Altho 32,785,467 more therms of natural gas were purchased in 1943 than in 1942, its total cost was $1,815,906 lower. Cost of gas produced by the company itself increased $390,552. Higher ceiling prices fixed by the OPA for coke will partially offset higher gas manufacturing costs in 1944, the report said.

Tax Burden Increases.

Federal taxes charged to income totaled $7,198,702 after crediting post-war refund, compared with $6,578,863 in 1942 [before giving effect to a $1,073,926 credit which was included in the surplus account]. Taxes of all kinds, including state and local, last year were equal to $16.78 a share, compared with $9.32 in 1941.

The report said the management had decided to abandon the refining activities conducted by Chicago By-Products corporation, a subsidiary, and that its stills and other equipment are under contract for sale. The subsidiary will be continued as a coke marketing agency. The capital stock of Hellier Coal company was sold at a profit of $41,745, which was carried to surplus.

For the final quarter of 1943, Peoples Gas net income was $844,404, equal to $1.29 a share, compared with $1,296,076, or $1.97 a share, in the corresponding period of 1942.

U. S. COMPANIES TO PARTICIPATE IN SPANISH FAIR

New York, Feb. 20 (AP).—Antonio B. Caragul, president of the American Chamber of Commerce in Spain, announced plans today for participation by American business in the international sample fair to be held in Barcelona June 15 to July 15.

The project has been cleared thru United States diplomatic channels with the embassy in Madrid authorized to accept the invitation of the Spanish government. The embassy designated the American chamber in Spain to organize the exhibits.

The trade exhibit was described in Washington as concerned principally with traditional peacetime commerce between this country and Spain and unconnected with current economic pressure on Generalissimo Francisco Franco to loosen his ties with Germany.

ODT Appeals Anew to Curb Trade Shows

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20 [Special].—Transportation Director Eastman today called on trade and other groups to abandon plans for conventions or trade shows unless their responsible officers are "thoroly convinced that the meetings will help to shorten the war."

Failure of some groups to heed his previous similar appeals, he said, have led other groups to abandon pledges not to hold such meetings, thus placing on the nation's transportation systems burdens which adversely affect the war.

Can't Forbid Assembly.

He said his office of defense transportation could not forbid the holding of such gatherings, because this would violate constitutional guarantees of freedom of assembly, but said it was his duty to do everything possible in his power to discourage them.

"I must say emphatically," he asserted, "that conventions and other group meetings interfere, and interfere seriously, with provisions of adequate passenger service for movement of military and other essential traffic.

Large or Small Damaging.

"In this regard, the difference between a large and a small convention is only one of degree. Any convention which attracts attendants from other cities who travel by train or bus requires use of travel space that is needed by members of the armed forces or by civilians on war business."

Eastman said the months ahead "will be a very critical time for transportation in this country," and added that organizations which have postponed their conventions until after the war have made a "real contribution" to winning it.

PROPOSES OPEN BARGAINING TO FIX UTILITY RATE

New York, Feb. 20 (AP).—A simplified procedure for setting up service rates in the electric utility industry was proposed by the 20th Century fund, a privately endowed research organization, in a survey released today.

Prepared by a special committee which included executives of utility companies, "believers in public ownership," and officials of regulatory bodies, the survey said that users of electricity "may get better value and service, and investors in utilities better returns, if electric rates are set up by open and frank negotiations between company management and regulatory commissions rather than the long and complicated 'rate case' process."

Questions as to "value" and "fair return" tend to complicate rate cases brought before courts, said the report, "and largely because of these difficulties, in the great majority of cases rates are reduced or raised as a result of informal friendly negotiations between the commission representing the consumer and the company management."

People and Events

Appointment of H. C. Vogel as an account executive for the Chicago office of Kenyon & Eckhardt, Inc., advertising agency, was announced yesterday. He had been vice president of Reincke, Ellis, Younggreen and Finn, Inc.

Frank E. Wolcott Jr., a vice president now in government service, has been elected president and Wesley R. Becher vice president and general manager of the Silex company. Clayton R. Burt, chairman of the board of Niles, Bement and Pond company, was elected a director of Silex.

A war conference of the American Savings and Loan Institute will be held in the La Salle hotel today and tomorrow. War bond sales by savings and loan associations and methods of improving personnel will be discussed.

The future of the army jeep in the civilian automobile field will be discussed by Ward M. Canaday, president and board chairman of Willys-Overland Motors, Inc., before the Chicago Federated Advertising club in the Hotel Sherman Thursday noon. The jeep is the company's principal war product.

Norman A. Pierson has been employed by American Air Lines as operations engineer. Pierson helped set up the course of training for army flight engineers on all four engine bombers.

Sen. Brooks [R., Ill.] will discuss "Transportation" at the annual banquet of the Illinois Motor Truck Operators' association next Saturday night in the grand ballroom of the Stevens hotel.

Paine, Webber, Jackson and Curtis, investment securities firm, will open a branch office in the main lobby of the Merchandise Mart today.

REFINERY STEEL RATED HIGH AS LANDING CRAFT

Cleveland, O., Feb. 20 (AP).—The magazine Steel said today "requirements for high test gasoline refinery construction have increased and are given equal rating with landing craft." It reported that "expected easing in the plate and sheet situation has failed to materialize and now is looked for as a third quarter development."

"When the present landing craft program was outlined last fall," Steel said, "producers were given extra tonnage in expectation that reductions in other directions would make it possible for them to provide the added requirements. The cutbacks apparently have not been sufficient to allow mills to catch up on schedules."

Jewel Tea January Sales Run 5% Under Year Ago

Jewel Tea company reported yesterday that its retail sales for the four weeks ended Jan. 29, were $4,079,506, a decrease of 5 per cent compared with $4,300,594 for the corresponding weeks of 1943.

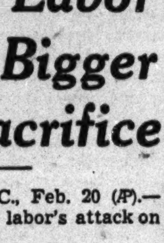
Asserts Labor Makes Bigger War Sacrifice



George Meany.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20 (AP).—Pressing organized labor's attack on the "little steel" formula limiting wage increases, an AFL spokesman protested today that compared with the American worker, "every one else is not making equal sacrifices."

In a follow-up of a complaint yesterday by labor members of the President's cost-of-living committee that the bureau of labor statistics index "distorts the basic facts" of war time living costs, George Meany, secretary-treasurer of the AFL, declared that the effect of living cost increases is "cruel and disastrous to morale" of workers.

Union Attitude Criticized.

Simultaneously, the National Association of Manufacturers and the Chamber of Commerce of the United States remarked that the report of the committee's two labor members has "the inevitable effect of seriously jeopardizing the chances of presenting a unanimous report" by the full committee.

The objection was voiced by Robert Gaylord, president of the N. A. M., and Eric A. Johnston, president of the chamber, in a letter to H. B. Horton and George K. Batt, industry members of the committee.

Suggesting that the labor members had used the committee as a "sounding board for publicizing the conclusions of an interested group," Gaylord and Johnston advised the industry members to reassure their committee chairman, William Davis, chairman of the war labor board, that they would confine themselves "to the fact-finding task for which you were appointed."

Says All Others Benefit.

Meany, who submitted the minority report with R. J. Thomas of the CIO, said in a radio address that the President should revise the little steel formula which limits wage increases to 15 per cent of the Jan. 1, 1941, level. The labor members' report said living costs have mounted 43.5 per cent since that date.

"Everybody else is not making equal sacrifices," he asserted. "Profits, even after taxes, are now higher than ever before. Many corporations have made net profits in the year 1942 alone which were from three to six times greater than their entire original investment. Most farmers, storekeepers and industries are enjoying unprecedented prosperity."

ADAMS EXPRESS.

K. B.

Answer: Since 1929 Adams Express has operated as an investment company of the general management type. A large proportion of the assets is invested in common stocks. At the end of 1943 oil stocks represented the principal investment. The company owns 38 per cent of the stock of the American International corporation, also an investment company.

Because of the preponderance of common stocks in the portfolio, plus the leverage provided by a sizable funded debt, net asset value of the common stock is subject to rather wide fluctuations.

Market value of investments at the end of 1943 totaled $26,247,764, in addition to which the company held more than $3,775,000 in United States government bonds and $2,935,420 cash. Net investment income for 1943 amounted to $810,989, or 55 cents a share, compared with $716,712, or 49 cents a share, for 1942. Net asset value at the end of 1943 was $15.90 a share, against $11.70 at the end of 1942.

GOTHAM GOLD STRIPE

Notice of Redemption

GOTHAM HOSIERY COMPANY, Inc.

To the Holders of Ten-Year 5% Sinking Fund Debentures (with Common Stock Purchase Warrants attached) due March 15, 1946,

of

GOTHAM HOSIERY COMPANY, INC.,
(formerly known as Gotham Silk Hosiery Company, Inc.)

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that in accordance with the provisions of Article Three of an Indenture between Gotham Silk Hosiery Company, Inc., (now Gotham Hosiery Company, Inc.) and Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, as Trustee, dated March 15, 1936, the undersigned has elected to redeem and does hereby call for redemption on March 16, 1944, all of its outstanding Ten-Year 5% Sinking Fund Debentures (with Common Stock Purchase Warrants attached), due March 15, 1946, issued pursuant to the terms and provisions of said Indenture.

Said Debentures are payable on March 16, 1944, at the principal office of Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, 70 Broadway, New York 15, N. Y., upon presentation and surrender of said Debentures (with Common Stock Purchase Warrants attached) and accompanied by all coupons maturing on and after September 15, 1944, at said office, at the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest thereon from March 15, 1944, to March 16, 1944, together with a premium of 1% of said principal amount.

Interest on said Debentures will cease to accrue on and after March 16, 1944, and all coupons pertaining to said Debentures and maturing after said date and all Warrants attached to said Debentures shall become null and void and of no effect on and after the date fixed for such redemption and must not be detached from the said Debentures.

In case registered Debentures are presented and payment to any one other than the registered holder is desired, said registered Debentures must be accompanied by proper instruments of transfer.

1943 FIRST WAR YEAR SHOWING INVENTORY DIP

Big Christmas Sales Cut Into Stocks.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 20 [Special].—A decline of 1 billion 200 million dollars during 1943 in the total value of all business inventories was reported today by the department of commerce which placed the Dec. 31 total at 26 billion 792 million dollars. This was the first year since the war began in 1939 in which business firms failed to accumulate additional stocks. At the end of 1942 the total was 28 billion 28 million.

Preliminary data indicates that the extraordinary liquidation of retail stocks which occurred last December more than offset the accumulations in the other 11 months of the year.

Inventories of manufacturers at the end of 1943 were valued at 17 billion 741 million or slightly less than 100 million above the end of 1942. Partly as a result of seasonal influences the value of these inventories declined by more than 100 million during December.

Manufacturers' Gain Smaller.

The small rise in inventories of manufacturers during 1943 represented a sharp break from the rate of growth in recent years, the department said.

This development was due largely to three factors: [1] The leveling off in total manufacturing production during 1943, which resulted in a corresponding leveling off in inventory needs; [2] the smoother operation of the controled materials plan of the war production board, and [3] a conscious effort on the part of many firms to hold inventories closer in line with production needs in order to be in a better position to meet future contingencies.

Retailers' inventories totaled 5 billion 86 million on Dec. 31 against 6 billion 384 million at the end of 1942. Wholesalers held goods valued at 3 billion 965 million against 3 billion 992 million a year earlier.

Rise Varies by Industries.

Inventories of major manufacturing industries show some interesting trends over the war period, according to the report. From the end of 1940 to the end of 1943 inventories of the iron and steel industry increased by a relatively small amount—by little more than 16 per cent, an increase which was fairly well in line with the expansion in output during this period.

The largest relative gains were made by the machinery and transportation equipment industries which also showed the largest expansion in output.

NEW INSURANCE ON TRIP OUTSIDE U. S. IS OFFERED

A new form of accident insurance policy designed to afford worldwide protection on trips outside the United States by other than military persons was announced yesterday by Continental Casualty company.

The policy insures against death or disability from all accidental causes, covering "the hazards of air, rail, motor, or water travel, and the risks of war." Travel by submarine and aircraft carrier is included. Coverage for as much as $100,000 will be written on any one life.

Besides transportation risks, protection is offered during a policy holder's stay in foreign countries, and also against loss of business time.

Pennsy Tests Train-to-Train Phone System

Philadelphia, Pa., Feb. 20 (AP).—Telephone communication between moving trains is being used daily by the Pennsylvania railroad on a 67 mile freight branch running north from Trenton, N. J.

The two way electronic system, disclosed today by the railroad, also permits the engineer in the locomotive cab to converse with his conductor in the caboose 80 or 90 cars behind and a block operator in a wayside tower to relay instructions instantly to the man at the throttle.

Still in Development.

The new system "is still in the development stage," the railroad announced, altho it has "definitely demonstrated its capability of adding materially to the efficiency of controling train movements."

It makes use of high frequency alternating electric currents transmitted along the rails and along wires on poles parallel to the track.

Proves Better Than Radio.

"In addition," the railroad said, "it provides a solution for certain practical difficulties which were encountered in adapting pure radio to railroad use, and leaves the air to those forms of transport which have no physical ground contacts and to which radio has been found to be ideally adapted."

Extension of the system to other parts of the railroad will await further tests on the Belvidere-Delaware branch, where equipment has been installed in 10 locomotives, 10 cabooses, and a block station. It was developed in collaboration with the Union Switch and Signal company thru "several years" of experimentation.

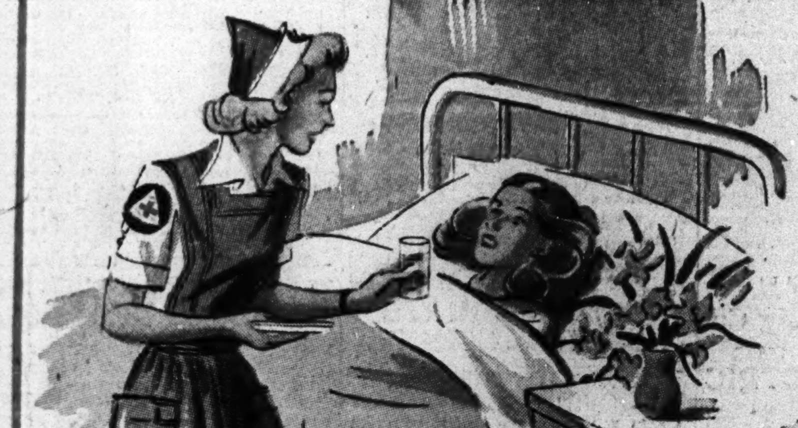
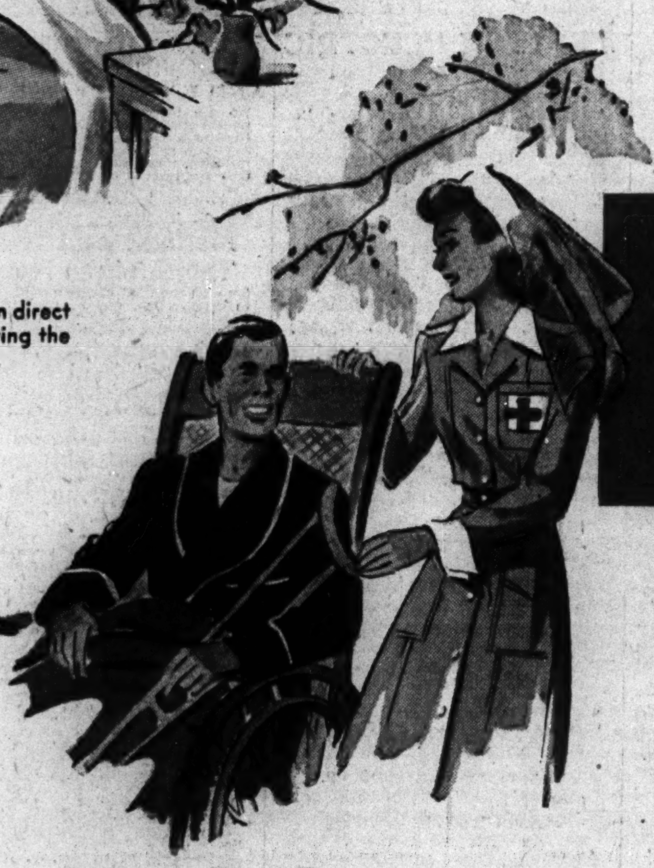
Red Cross Volunteers

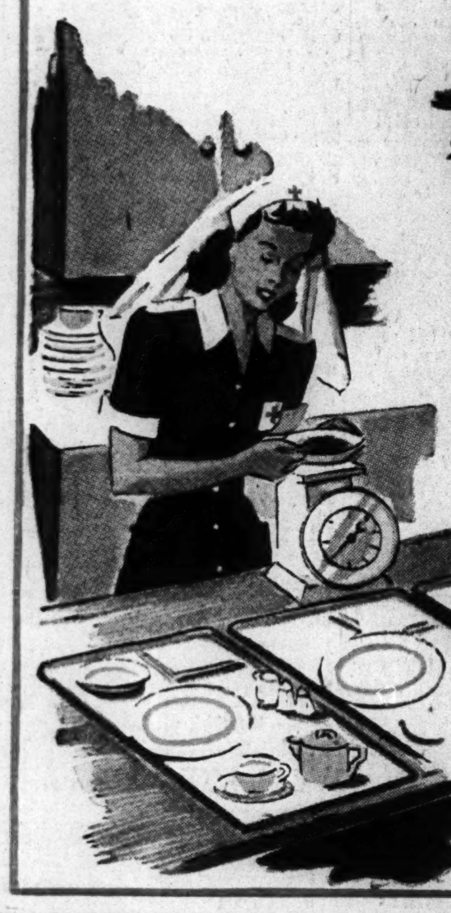
● Pictured here are women and girls being employed in various capacities as Red Cross volunteer workers. Volunteers such as these are needed, and the Chicago chapter of the Red Cross this week is conducting a recruiting campaign to enroll them. Especially desired are daytime workers. Those wishing to volunteer should report to the Chicago general headquarters of the American Red Cross, 529 S. Wabash av.



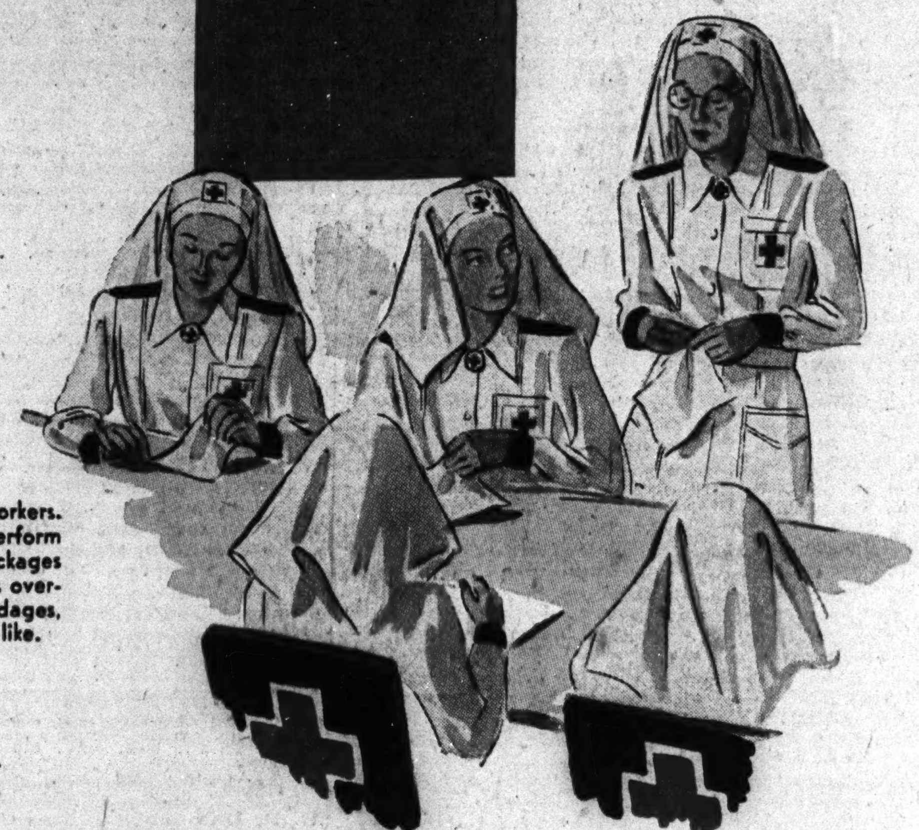
Nurse's aid. She works in hospitals in direct contact with registered nurses, relieving the latter of many of their duties.



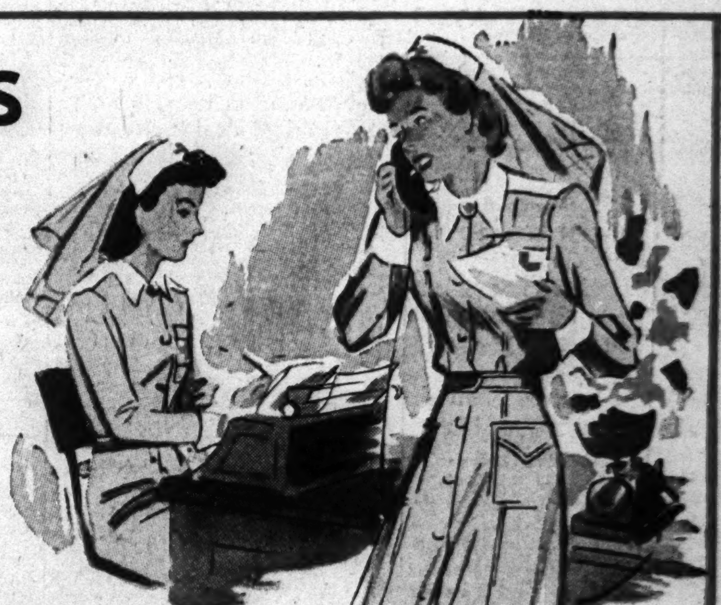
Gray Lady. Her job is to do recreational work in hospitals. She writes letters, reads to patients, arranges flowers, and performs other services.



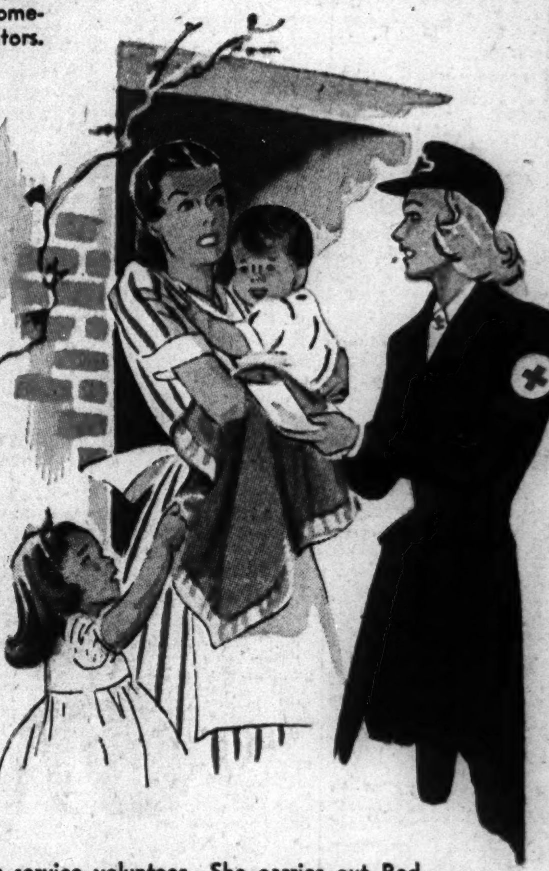
At left: Dietitian's aid. In the dietetics departments of hospitals she helps in food preparation. She also helps serve patients and personnel.



At right: Production workers. Among the duties they perform are the preparing of packages for American war prisoners overseas, the rolling of bandages, sewing, knitting, and the like.



Staff assistants. They do clerical work at Red Cross chapters, blood donor centers, rationing boards, and field directors' offices in camps. They handle mail, do stenographic work, and sometimes serve as translators.



Home service volunteer. She carries out Red Cross home service and obligations to service and ex-service men and their families.
